LEWIS MUST FACE TRIAL

Return to This City Ordered

United States Judge Turns Down All of Motions in Water Court Battle

Still Held in Jail Pending Hearing Today; Flies Off for Home

BY HERBERT F. NATHAN
Times Staff Representative

WASHINGTON, April 23.—S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, now an inmate of the Federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, will be returned to Los Angeles for trial on charges of conspiracy growing out of the first Owens River aqueduct bond election in 1923.

With him will be two other men, accused by Lewis of having wrecked his reputation by an overissue of bonds and of having bribed his way to freedom, will be placed on the Sunset Limited here tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. With him will be two guards from the McNeil Island penitentiary who will retain custody of Lewis as a Federal prisoner throughout his stay in Los Angeles.

ALL MOTIONS DENIED

Lewis lost his battle to escape trial in Los Angeles at 5 p.m. today, when, after more than an hour of argument and some testimony, United States District Judge Cushman denied all motions of counsel for the former oil man.

The action brought in Lewis's behalf was one of habeas corpus seeking to restrain Warden Archer of the island prison from sending the prisoner to California. It was denied at the Warden and Chief United States District Attorney Stewart in Los Angeles.

Judge Cushman in announcing today his decision to refuse the writ for which Lewis's attorneys had also denied a second motion made by Lewis's attorneys, gave as which to take effect.

ASSISTANCE GIVEN

Messrs. Archer and Stewart were represented in court by Assistant Attorneys-General Frank Savage and John C. Hutcheson, one of his staff. During the course of the hearing Stewart was called to the stand, and in his efforts to return Lewis to Los Angeles and of the various telegrams passing between himself and members of the United States Attorney-General's staff in Washington.

Frank Hewitt, the local lawyer who represented Lewis, attempted to introduce into the hearing the fact that Lewis is a candidate for Governor and that this effort is part of the campaign. Judge Cushman refused the question but permitted the witness to stand aside to be allowed to answer.

"We have been fighting to get Lewis to stand trial," declared Hewitt. "The political campaign is under way in the South has

Will Rogers Remarks:

WINSLOW (Ariz.) April 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Been going so fast since I left Ponca City, Okla., this morning haven't got a hold of morning paper. I will have to pull a Brisbane now and describe the desert country and estimate "how much it will raise when it all has water and the proper number of newspapers." Say, this air travel is sure picking up. This line has a double-header today, each carrying twelve, arrive in Los Angeles this afternoon at 4:20; and speaking of "Arthur," as he gets older and his time commences to get valuable, we will land him on one of those airplanes yet, and I want to be with him and hold his hand.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FORD PLANT DESERT-DRY HEREAFTER

Employees Who Drink or Bring Gin Breath Into Factory to be Fired

DETROIT, April 23. (AP)—The Ford Motor Company will discharge every employee who is found drinking an alcoholic beverage or who reports for work with the odor of liquor on his breath, Harry W. Bennett, chief of the company's private police force, said tonight.

Mr. Bennett said this policy was adopted in co-operation with Chief of Police Brooks of the suburb of Dearborn, near which the principal Ford plant is located.

The Ford chief explained that the rule applies to men found in police raids on speakeasies in Dearborn and to men who are apprehended drinking at any other place. Brooks confirmed the plan of co-operation and said that patrons in raided places will be examined and that those found to have Ford badges will be reported to Bennett.

Exceptions to the rule will be made only where the family of the offender is destitute, Bennett said.

HOUSTON SELECTED FOR BALLOON RACES

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Houston, Tex., will be the scene of this year's national balloon races. Selection of the city was made today by the contest committee of the National Aeronautic Association. The races will be held June 10, next.

COLD WAVE GRIPS EAST

Records Set by Temperatures

Three Killed When Airplane Hits Side of Hill in Snowstorm

Baseball Games and Other Sports Called Off as Mercury Drops

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Snowstorms and record-breaking cold weather gripped the North and Eastern Atlantic States today, indirectly causing the death of three persons in an airplane crash and disrupting sports schedules over a wide area.

Weather Bureau officials said a high-pressure area in Manitoba, which extends southward to the Gulf Coast and thence to the Atlantic, is responsible for the cold, which they expect to continue for another day or two.

A snowstorm was thought to have caused an airplane pilot to lose his bearings over Attica, N. Y., and the plane crashed against a hill, killing him and two passengers.

Tupper Lake reported a six-inch snowfall.

At Pittsburgh nearly 20,000 fans, a goodly portion of them women in spring finery, braved the wrathful elements for three innings of a game with Cincinnati before the arbiters decided the snow and cold were too much and stopped the game. At New York, Boston, Newark, Columbus, Toledo and Washington followers of the national sport sought firesides instead of baseball parks when announcements were made there would be no game.

Throughout the northern part of the country east of the Mississippi, Weather Bureau records of many years' standing were broken. In New York the low of 30 was the coldest April 23 on record. A forty-eight-year record was broken in Boston and in Rochester, N. Y., another all-time record was smashed with a reading of 34.

PLANE HITS HILLSIDE WHEN SNOW BLINDS PILOT

ATTICA (N. Y.) April 23. (AP)—Three men, one of them a leader in aviation circles, met death as their airplane crashed against a hill in a blinding snowstorm here today. The dead:

Capt. Lionel M. Woolson, aeronautical engineer of the Packard Motor Car Company of Detroit and designer of the Packard Diesel airplane motor; Charles S. Knight, a test pilot for the Verville Company of Detroit, manufacturers of the plane which crashed and which was equipped with one of the new Diesel motors, and Harold B. Scutt, Douglastown, N. Y., a pilot.

The plane, a four-place cabin monoplane, was being flown from Detroit to New York, where it was to be exhibited in the aviation show.

There was no fire, but the bodies of all three men were mutilated by the force of the crash and workmen struggled for several hours before they could extricate them from the tangled mass of wreckage.

CAPT. WOOLSON BORN IN LOS ANGELES

DETROIT, April 23. (AP)—Capt. L. M. Woolson, designer of the Packard Diesel aircraft motor, killed today in a plane crash near Attica, N. Y., had been identified with aircraft development since 1917. During the World War he served as superintendent of ground and flight testing of aircraft motors at McCook Field, Dayton, O.

He joined the staff of the Packard company at the close of the war as research engineer, later he became aeronautical engineer and designed the Diesel aircraft motor which received its first public display at the All-American Aircraft Show in Detroit on the 5th inst.

Capt. Woolson was born in Los Angeles, June 7, 1888, and was educated in the public schools of Portland, Or., and at the University of London, Eng. Besides his widow he leaves two daughters.

MERGER OF AERIAL LINES ANNOUNCED

Consolidated Air Mail and Passenger Service Made Assurance by Deal

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Establishment of a unified air-mail and passenger route across the United States was assured tonight when it was announced that a plan for acquisition of National Air Transport, Inc., by the United Aircraft and Transport Corporation had been agreed upon by officials of the two corporations.

Among the companies controlled are the Boeing Airplane Company, the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Co., the Chance-Vought Corporation, Boeing Air Transport, Inc., Sikorsky Aviation Corporation and Stout Air Services.

N.A.T. operates between New York and Chicago and from Chicago to Dallas, Tex., and other points in the Middle West, carrying air mail, and has announced that passenger service over all its lines will begin this year.

Tom Mix Ill, but Recovers

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Tom Mix, film actor, featured with a circus playing here, has been ill with pneumonia since Saturday, it became known tonight.

Mix's secretary said tonight, however, that Mix will be back on the lot tomorrow. A double who accompanies Mix on tour has been taking his place with the show during the actor's illness.

Carolina Mob Lynches Negro

WALHALLA (S. C.) April 24. (AP) (Thursday)—A 50-year-old Negro, charged with attempting to attack an 18-year-old Oconee county woman, was dragged from the County Jail and shot to death early this morning by a mob of masked men.

Two California Bridges Favored

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The War Department today approved plans for two bridges in California. The first will cross the westerly arm of Alamitos Bay at Long Beach, while the other will be built over Snodgrass Slough near Walnut Grove, Sacramento county.

Snodgrass Slough is a tributary of the North Fork of the Mokelumne River.

Five Burned in House Fire

SAN ANSELMO, April 23. (AP)—Five people received burns and were forced to escape from a second-story window early today when fire destroyed the home here of Gerald Gugel.

The injured are Gugel, his wife and daughters, Jane, 4, and Joan, 21 months, and Mrs. Gugel's sister, Carolyn Stull.

Oil-Price War in East Indies Ends in Boost

NEW YORK, April 23.—The price war which has been waged since March in the Dutch East Indies and the Orient between the Royal Dutch interests and the Standard Oil Company of New York has been ended with an advance of 100 per cent in prices, it was announced today.

The increase, which amounts to 8 cents a gallon on both gasoline and kerosene, places prices at a level equivalent to the present quotations in the United States, plus transportation. This follows the same principle that was adopted in England about a year ago.

Hoover Greets Pueblo Indians

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Nine Pueblo Indians, representing seventeen villages in the vicinity of Albuquerque, N. M., were received today by President Hoover.

The Indians, who came to Washington on business with the Department of Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, expressed a desire to shake hands with the "Great White Father." Arrangements were made and the group called upon the Chief Executive.

GOLF HOBBY STEPLADDER TO PAY RISE

Chicago Banker Declares He'd Rather Give More to Devotees of Game

CHICAGO, April 23. (Exclusive) Golf as a hobby hereafter will be a telling argument for a rise in salary at the National Bank of the Republic, David R. Forgan, vice-chairman of the board of directors, in effect, told the Chicago Association of Commerce at its luncheon today.

"I would rather pay a golf-playing official of mine more money than one who didn't play," Mr. Forgan said. "The player is all the better for the game in moderation. It has made a large addition to friendship."

Terming golf the greatest thing invented by a Scotchman next to the telephone, the banker, who was born at St. Andrews, the birthplace of the game, added:

"It is a legend that St. Andrew, the game's first expert, and his brother, St. Peter, were teeing off. Both got excellent drives. St. Andrew's second shot was good, too, but his brother made a hole in two. St. Andrew put his arm affectionately around his brother and said, 'Now, Peter, let us agree to cut out the miracles and play the game.'"

Supreme Court Backs Lower in Finn Will Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP) The State Supreme Court today affirmed an order of the Los Angeles Superior Court setting aside letters of administration for David Burr Luckey in the $60,000 estate of George Lafayette Finn.

The will had been contested by Gladys L. McAfee, grand niece of Finn, who had been cut off with $1. She charged that Luckey and Dr. Frank Murphy and John Dickey, male nurse, exercised undue influence on Finn three days prior to his death in January, 1929, in order to have him include them in his will.

Northern Area Gets Rainfall

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (Exclusive)—Rain was reported by the Weather Bureau today at Red Bluff, Sacramento, San Jose and Fresno. In each instance, it was measured as a trace only except at Red Bluff, where .02 of an inch was reported.

The forecast calls for cloudy, but not wet weather tomorrow, except in the extreme northern part of the State, where showers are expected.

START OF ZEPPELIN STILL SET FOR MAY 10

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) April 23. (AP)—Capt. Ernst Lehmann, first officer of the Graf Zeppelin, is continuing his preparations to start the Graf's projected South American trip May 10, despite urging by some in the Zeppelin company to postpone the flight until May 18. No decision has been taken on the postponement suggestion pending return of Dr. Hugo Eckener, who is en route here from America.

SCORE SLAIN AS INDIANS BATTLE BRITISH TROOPS

Natives Repulsed by Machine Gun Fire in Savage Attack; Riots Widespread

(Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times)

LAHORE, April 23. (Exclusive)—Twenty natives are reported to have been killed at Peshawar today, when British Gurkha troops opened fire on a mob of infuriated nationalists.

A hail of stones met the troops as they entered the city to end disturbances which have prevailed since morning. Well-aimed missiles caused casualties among the soldiers, including Deputy Commissioner H. A. F. Metcalf, who was taken to a hospital.

The mob scattered at the opening of machine-gun fire, leaving the dead and wounded behind. The city is now quiet but is patrolled by British troops and all city gates are guarded to prevent looting by tribesmen.

SOLDIERS BURNED

Two British soldiers were burned alive in their gasoline-splashed armored car and a city police sergeant was hacked to death with a hatchet in an outbreak of savage rioting at Peshawar, which is on the northwest frontier, earlier in the day.

Two cars with crews of two soldiers each were patrolling the city when they came upon an unruly crowd. Daring nationalists suddenly poured a bucketful of gasoline over one car while their companions threw matches. In an instant the car was a roaring mass of flames and the two occupants had no chance to escape.

In another part of the city a police sergeant on a motorcycle found his way blocked by a mob and was thrown to the pavement. The crowd fell on him with the utmost ferocity and butchered him with a hatchet.

OUTBREAKS WIDESPREAD

A hail of stones and bricks met the British Gurkha troops when they entered the city to end the disturbance.

Aside from its ferocity today's outbreak is significant as showing that repercussions of Gandhi's campaigns have reached the farthest extremities of the vast Indian peninsula. Outbreaks so far have occurred in Karachi near the Persian Gulf, Chittagong, far to the east, near Burman, Bombay, 1000 miles southward, and Calcutta and Madras, 1500 miles from Peshawar, on the east.

REBELS DRIVEN FROM STRONGHOLD IN HILLS

CALCUTTA (India) April 23. (AP) Conditions of unrest in India increased in gravity today. The day's events included information that twelve persons were killed when troops clashed with the insurgents who raided the Chittagong arsenal Saturday, a demonstration by thousands in Calcutta, the shooting of five persons at Feni and the death of a British soldier at Peshawar.

The twelve deaths resulted when detachments of the Eastern Frontier Rifles and the Burma Valley Light Horse dislodged a group of the Chittagong insurgents from a strong position in the hills. In addition to those killed two were seriously wounded. Fourteen were arrested. No military casualties were reported. The main body of the rebels escaped and the soldiers were continuing the search.

HUNGER STRIKE BEGUN

The demonstration in Calcutta followed upon yesterday's announcement that political prisoners in Alipore Jail had gone on a hunger strike in protest against treatment by jail officials. Reports spread today that one of the prisoners, Mayor J. M. Sen Gupta of Calcutta, arrested in connection with the civil disobedience campaign, is dead.

Thousands gathered outside the jail shouting "show us even his body." The jail officials refused to permit an independent witness to enter the jail and later they issued a communique stating that the prisoners had not been injured, and that Sen Gupta and the others were alive and in the same state of health as when admitted to the jail. The statement said the prisoners were not on a hunger strike.

Police ultimately dispersed the crowd and armed pickets were posted in the vicinity. Mrs. Sen Gupta, an English woman, said she had been refused admittance to the jail and intended to keep a vigil outside it tonight.

SOLDIER KILLED

The affray at Feni resulted from the arrest at the railway station of four men who were believed members of the Chittagong raiding party. After they were taken from the train they drew revolvers and wounded Jatindranath Roy, in charge of the Feni police, two con-

LETTERS TO COURT HIT

Wets Face New Lobby Charge

Antiprohibition Body Named as Trying to Influence Supreme Tribunal

Intention to Eliminate Dry Law With Test Case Also Shown to Committee

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Investigation by the Senate lobby committee on the activities of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment today produced a charge by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, that the organization had "lobbied directly with the United States Supreme Court."

The charge resulted from the reading of two letters written last year by Thomas W. Phillips of Pennsylvania, a director of the association, to Justice Stone of the Supreme Court, and a third to the late Justice Sanford. The letters consisted largely of an attack on prohibition.

They were read before the committee while it was questioning Henry H. Curran, president of the anti-prohibition association, for the fifth day, in regard to its activities in behalf of repeal of the dry laws.

Questioned by members of the committee, Curran said he approved the letters.

CALLED "AMAZING"

"It is the most amazing thing I ever heard of," Robinson retorted. "You are lobbying directly with the United States Supreme Court, apparently to influence that great court in its decisions. I have never heard of such a thing in a good many years of the practice of law."

Phillips is running for Governor of Pennsylvania and is supported by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Informed at his home in Butler, Pa., that the letters had been read before the lobby committee, Phillips described them as "personal letters to acquaintances," and said there was no intent to "lobby." He added that the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment had "absolutely nothing to do with it."

An intention to bring a test case in the courts in an attempt to eliminate the Eighteenth Amendment from the Constitution was disclosed in another letter written by William H. Stayton, chairman of the board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

TEST SUIT PROPOSED

The letter, written last year to A. P. Williams of New York, expressed the opinion that time "will come (in the not distant future) when it will be wise to bring a suit and go on up to the Supreme Court of the United States in the hope of getting the Eighteenth Amendment out of the Constitution."

"To bring such a suit now would be almost suicide," the letter said, adding:

"It has seemed to me, and I think it has seemed to the executive committee of our association, that good tactics and common sense require that the test case in the Supreme Court be held off until there has been some change in the personnel of that court."

NEW PLANET BELIEVED SEEN

Possible Discovery by Canadian Scientists Years Ago Disclosed as Search of Photo Plates Starts

OTTAWA (Ont.) April 23. (AP)—The possibility that the Dominion Observatory unwittingly discovered another unknown trans-Neptunian planet six years ago and failed to appreciate the significance of its discovery is being entertained tonight by Dr. Meldrum Stewart, director of the observatory.

Offered by Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., March 13.

In considering this possibility, Dr. Stewart was inclined to agree with an opinion of Prof. Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard Observatory at Cambridge, Mass. Prof. Shapley said that a moving object recorded on negatives made by the Dominion Observatory of the constellations of February 7, February 24, and February 29, 1924, is not the recently discovered Planet X, as Dr. Stewart had first been reported as believing, but an entirely new planet.

"We are not at all sure that the planet shown on our plates is Planet X," Dr. Stewart said. He had been told why Prof. Shapley did not believe the moving object recorded on the Dominion Observatory's plates was the planet discov-

SEARCH OLD PLATES

"It is about the same distance out," Dr. Stewart said.

Dr. Stewart said that as soon as word came to him of the discovery of Planet X, he and assistants started a search through old plates. For the three 1924 dates, they found they had recorded a hitherto unnoticed object.

"We are now examining our older charts," Dr. Stewart continued, "going back to 1906 to see if we can pick it up. If we can find it on these, it will determine a good orbit."

LATIN ENTRY POINT WON

Senate Approves Harris Bill Amendment on Mexican Labor for Farms

Provisions Would Permit of Admissions Under Bond to Meet Needs

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 23. (Exclusive)—Orchard and farm interests of California and the Southwest won an important tentative victory today when the Senate adopted an amendment to the Harris immigration restriction bill under which Mexicans can be brought in under bond for seasonal agricultural labor. The amendment was adopted by the narrow margin of 32 to 30, which indicates it may be thrown out when the Senate takes another vote on it tomorrow.

Under the proposal the Secretary of Labor would decide when Mexicans are needed in this country and would admit as nonimmigrants as many as the situation might demand to perform essential crop work. Aside from the bonds guaranteeing their return to their own country within eight months, the only requirement would be that they were coming to do work for which native American labor was not immediately available.

SOLUTION FOR DILEMMA

The amendment was offered by Senator McKendrick of Wyoming, who declared it will solve the dilemma faced by the sugar-beet growers of his State and by southwestern agriculture generally, in the Mexican exclusion bill before the Senate. However, there is great doubt on the part of spokesmen for California farm interests that the seasonal plan is workable. Robert M. Wilson of the agricultural division of the California State Chamber of Commerce stated before the Senate Agriculture Committee recently that many seasonal labor dilemmas have been advanced and all have been discarded. He declared the average farm or ranch owner cannot afford to finance a bonding plan, not to mention wading through a maze of governmental red tape and delay in an effort to get labor he needs when his crops are ready for harvesting. Wilson also mentioned the roving nature of the agricultural work in the Southwest as a bar to employing Mexicans under bond.

But regardless of whether the McKendrick amendment proves practicable, the Senate action is evidence that one branch of Congress at least has been convinced that Mexico supplies the only dependable and satisfactory source of common agricultural labor available in a large section of the country, and is unwilling to enact legislation which will entirely cut off this supply.

SHORTRIDGE APPROVES

Senator Johnson of California voted against the seasonal amendment, Senator Shortridge for it.

In addition to this action the Senate voted down, 41 to 23, the amendment by Senator Shortridge to exclude Filipino laborers, voted, 44 to 14, against an amendment by Hayden of Arizona, which would place Canada under the proposed quota restriction along with the other countries of the Western Hemisphere and repulsed, 40 to 23, another attempt by Glass of Virginia to send the Harris bill back to the Immigration Committee for further consideration there.

The day's developments further complicated legislation already badly tangled and left the ultimate fate of the measure as much in doubt as ever. Senate leaders now hope for a final vote tomorrow but last night they had equally high hopes that the matter could be disposed of today. Besides the seasonal labor amendment a separate vote is to be taken tomorrow on the Norbeck amendment approved earlier, repealing the national-origins basis of the present Immigration Act.

FILIPINO EXCLUSION

Most of the afternoon was taken up with debate on the Filipino exclusive bill, Senator Shortridge himself launching the discussion with a speech lasting almost two and a half hours. He explained that his amendment would not prevent free entry of Filipinos coming for business, educational or pleasure pursuits but would stop entirely the influx of laboring classes from the islands.

He declared he was offering the proposal as a friend of the Philippines, as it would be to the economic benefit of the islands as well as the United States, and would in reality hasten Philippine independence. "I wish the Filipinos to remember," Shortridge said, "that I am their friend and that if I had the power I would give them independence at this very hour.

"But we are dealing with a serious labor and unemployment problem in this country and while I recognize the necessity for seasonal labor in California, the stopping of Filipinos will not prevent wise solution of that problem. For we do not have to look 6000 miles across the Pacific for seasonal workers. We have them close at hand in Mexico."

Shortridge said that thoughtful Filipino leaders do not want their countrymen to migrate to the United States because they feel their own country should be built up in preparation for independence.

The almost two-to-one vote against the Shortridge amendment was not taken so much as the Senate's judgment on independence as it was meaning that the Senate was not prepared to pass on the question at this time, and in connection with other immigration legislation. The feeling in Washington is that Filipino independence still is several years off.

DAUGHTER OF MUSSOLINI WEDS TODAY

Imposing Ceremony Will Take Place in Roman Church

Edda Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano

ROME, April 23. (AP)—Signorina Edda Mussolini, daughter of Italy's Fascist Premier, tomorrow will marry Count Galeazzo Ciano, son of one of her father's ministers, in the church of St. Joseph on the Via Momentana.

The church was decorated today with priceless tapestries lent from the Capitoline palaces by courtesy of Prince Boncompagni, Governor of Rome. Red carpets cover all of the central nave and others will lead from the church door outward. The edifice will be filled with spring flowers and evergreens will be massed at the entrance.

Signorina Mussolini will lead the bridal procession into the church tomorrow on the arm of her father-in-law, Count Constanzo Ciano. Following will be the bridegroom escorting Donna Rachelle Mussolini, and in the rear will be the Premier himself with the Countess Constanzo Ciano.

CHORUS TO BE HEARD

As the party enters the church Enrico Bossi's wedding march, directed by Maestro Germano of Augusteo Concert Hall, will be heard. During the ceremony a chorus will alternate with the Augusteo String Quartet in rendering selections of Italian classical music. The only non-Italian composer figuring in the program will be the Frenchman, Vierne, the venerable organist of the Cathedral of Notre Dame de Paris. The finale of his Fifth Symphony will serve as the recessional.

The officiating clergyman will be Mgr. Giovenale Pascucci, rector of the parish, assisted by Father Giovanni Arreghi and the canons of St. John Lateran.

After the wedding ceremony a low mass will be said and on its conclusion the nuptial contract will be signed by the bride, the bridegroom, and witnesses—for the bride, her uncle, Arnaldo Mussolini and Prince Torlonia; for the bridegroom, Foreign Minister Grandi and Count Devecchi, Italian Ambassador to the Holy See.

PRAYER SCHEDULED

Thereafter the couple will drive across town to St. Peter's, there to pray at the altar of the confession over the grave of the first Apostle.

Signorina Mussolini and her future husband stood today in her father's summer residence, Villa Torlonia, to receive the congratulations of her father's old friends and most of the diplomatic and political figures of Rome. The affair was simple in nature.

Meanwhile, many gifts are arriving. Pope Pius today sent a solid gold rosary and with it his benediction. The Fascist party sent a brooch, the Senate a Durano lace veil, and the Chamber of Deputies a tea service.

The guest list is small, but among those who will attend the wedding will be heads of the diplomatic missions here, including the American Ambassador, John W. Garrett and Mrs. Garrett.

Strict silence is maintained regarding honeymoon plans.

stables and two railway workers, and escaped.

A British soldier was killed at Peshawar during a disturbance over the arrest of a group of civil disobedience volunteers who were charged with infringing upon the government's salt monopoly. Disorders also occurred in Howrah following upon the arrest of thirty persons, including the vice-president of the municipality.

At Karachi several persons were sent to the hospital after they had eaten contraband salt gathered from creeks. The health officer declared the salt was impregnated with ferrous oxide (an iron compound) and was unfit for human consumption. He ordered it be destroyed.

Mahatma Gandhi, the civil disobedience leader, meanwhile was out of the picture temporarily. He is still preaching the doctrine of nonviolence.

NEW PLANETARY FIND REPORTED

that each had recorded a movement of the object showing it was not a fixed star.

"The motion," Dr. Stewart said, "indicated a distance from the earth of about the same as the Planet X would have been in 1924 and in about the same position as it should have been at that time. Of this, however, we are not sure because we do not know its exact orbit yet."

NOT PLANET

Dr. Stewart telegraphed information of the discovery to Prof. Shapley. The latter said that the object discovered here, on the basis of the data supplied, could not have been Planet X.

This body, Prof. Shapley said, "is apparently a trans-Neptunian object, or at least very far out in the planetary system, but since no magnitude or form of the object has been given by the observers, it is impossible to say whether this is another trans-Neptunian body like Planet X or whether it is the nucleus of some great comet at or near aphelion. The position in 1924 shows that it is not the Lowell Observatory object."

PLANET X DESCRIBED AT TUCSON SESSION

TUCSON (Ariz.) April 23. (AP)—Planet X, the ninth planetary member of the known solar system, was introduced in public today, for the first time clothed in all the major facts with which scientists of Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., so far have been able to adorn it.

Dr. R. C. Slipher, Lowell Observatory astronomer, one of those directly connected with the discovery of the trans-Neptunian body, announced last March, explained the secrets of Planet X, in layman's language, to delegates and guests of the eleventh annual convention of the southwestern section of the American Association for Advancement of Science.

CHIEF FACTS GIVEN

Dr. Slipher is a brother of Dr. V. M. Slipher, director of Lowell Observatory, where, under provisions in the will of the late Dr. Percival Lowell, its founder, specialised study of the long-suspected trans-Neptunian object has been carried on. Dr. Lowell sixteen years ago predicted the presence of a planet three degrees from the point at which Planet X was located after his death.

Here are the chief facts which scientists so far have learned concerning the new astronomical body, as presented by Dr. Slipher:

Distance from the earth, forty-one astronomical units, or 1,235,000,000 miles. Definitely computed.

Mass: Known to be not as great as at first believed, but not computed. Tentatively believed possibly about the same as the earth.

MOST DISTANT OBJECT

Orbit: Elliptical, its plane inclined to that of the other major planets at about 21 deg. 21 min.

Size of orbit: Long diameter, roughly 433 astronomical units, or 433 times 33,000,000 miles.

Time required for complete circuit of orbit, 3200 years.

Length of time to remain in view of earth, probably 100 years or more.

Time it will then remain hidden from earth, roughly, 3000 years.

"In our minds," said Dr. Slipher, referring to recent articles in scientific publications casting a haze over the authenticity of Planet X, "we are quite convinced that this is a planetary object quite distinct from a comet or an asteroid.

"It is the most distant object ever observed in our solar system. Mind you, I say our solar system, for every night we observe stars in a stellar system outside our own."

LEWIS ORDERED TO TRIAL HERE

Promoter Faces Charges of Julian Case Bribery

Bitter Court Battle Before Seattle Judge Lost

Berman Fights Desperately to Enter Prison

nothing to do with the matter. This has been handled in the regular manner and way and no undue newspaper publicity has been sought by us."

It was shortly after Stewart left the stand that Judge Cushman ruled against Lewis, who was not in court during the proceedings.

"Lewis will leave the prison tomorrow," declared Warden Archer following the hearing. "I believe at this time that I will send him on the Cascade Limited and he will go in the custody of two of my guards who will retain custody of him until after the trial and then they will return him to McNeil Island to complete his seven-year sentence for mail fraud. His time will continue to run while he is away from the prison."

BERMAN CONTEST

In the meantime while Fitts and Stewart, who arrived here last Saturday afternoon, were in Federal court, the war for the custody of Jacob Berman, "bright boy" of the Julian crash, who is here in the County Jail as a fugitive from California, continued throughout the day. Berman, who arrived in this city yesterday morning after a rush trip from California and attempted to give himself up to the United States marshal for commitment to McNeil Island to begin a seven-year sentence for mail fraud, was locked in the County Jail after the marshal refused to take him into custody.

During the day Bassett, who also represents Berman, obtained an order to show cause and a restraining order directed at Sheriff Bannick to prevent him turning the prisoner over to Los Angeles officials or F. V. Weede, bail bond broker, who arrived here today by airplane seeking to return Berman to California. The two orders are returnable tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. before Superior Court Judge Jones.

A fugitive warrant, with bail fixed in the sum of $125,000, was filed late yesterday afternoon with Municipal Judge Wright by Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Coffey as a move to defeat the order sought by Bassett.

So Berman and his attorney tomorrow will continue the legal battle to break into the Federal prison while at the same time Lewis today lost another court fight to remain in custody in the same place.

From his cell in the County Jail tonight Berman declared that he will fight with every force at his command to be allowed to enter the Federal penitentiary and will attempt to raise the matter of extradition in the State courts tomorrow. In the meantime, unable to obtain bail, he must remain in the local jail.

With the fight won for the return of Lewis to Los Angeles at once, Fitts and Stewart left here tonight for home. They will arrive Friday or Saturday, meaning to make a short stop in San Francisco en route.

Commenting on the Berman matter Fitts declared that the affair had not been officially brought to his attention by any of the local authorities and that it appears that the Sheriff can handle the matter in the proper manner.

"I must get back to Los Angeles as soon as possible," Fitts said. "There are important matters now before the grand jury that require my presence and also we must get ready for the Lewis trial. With the court action here out of the way I am leaving at once."

From his cell in McNeil Island prison Lewis tonight declared, when notified that he had lost the fight to escape trial in Los Angeles that he is ready to take his chances with a trial jury.

CANAL PLAN APPROVED

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The Leavitt bill to authorize use of a right of way by the Indian Service through the Casa Grande Ruins National Monument for an irrigation canal in connection with the San Carlos irrigation project in Arizona was approved today by the House Indian Affairs Committee.

BERMAN'S RETURN PRESSED

Agent to Start North Today With Extradition Papers; Crisis Near in Fight Over Prisoner

An investigator from the District Attorney's office will probably start north today with extradition papers to return Jacob Berman from Seattle to Los Angeles.

That was the statement late yesterday of Chief Trial Deputy District-Attorney Beecher, in charge of the office in the absence of Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

"The papers will be ready in the morning and I will dispatch a man to Sacramento to get Gov. Young's signature, and the investigator will then continue north," said Beecher.

The action of Beecher came shortly after he had instructed Capt. J. B. Fox, head of the Sheriff's fugitive detail, to wire the Seattle authorities not to release Berman to the custody of any Los Angeles bail bond men who might apply for him, as the District Attorney's office intended to handle the Berman case.

Fox had hardly sent the wire before F. V. Weede, local bail bondsman, who took an airplane to Seattle last night, telephoned Fox and asked that the order be rescinded. Weede declared that he was in possession of certified copies of bail bonds to the sum of $25,000 written in Berman's behalf in the Federal courts and that these papers gave him power to return Berman to Los Angeles at once without the necessity of obtaining extradition papers.

Capt. Fox had Weede's call transferred to Beecher, who later said that he had been obliged to withhold his consent to the plan, but had referred Weede to Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who is in Seattle.

CLIMAX DUE TODAY

"If Fitts will turn him over to Weede it is all right with me," said Beecher.

Irving Glasser, another bail bondsman with more certified copies of bonds, was scheduled to arrive in Seattle last night and make another attempt to get Berman.

While these events were taking place Superior Judges Schauer and Wilson, in both of whose courts Berman has failed to appear for trial on two different indictments, declared they were keeping in touch with the situation and were going to do all they could to see that Berman was returned here for trial.

A climax to the matter, it was indicated last night, will be forthcoming today. Dispatches from San Francisco yesterday recited that United States Circuit Judge Wilbur had finally signed the mandate directing the Los Angeles District Court to commit Jacob Berman to the Federal penitentiary to begin a seven-year sentence.

The San Francisco advices further declared that the clerk of the Circuit Court had placed the mandate in the mails and that it should reach Los Angeles this morning. Following the usual procedure, Attorney Otto Christensen, Berman's attorney here, will ask that the mandate be spread upon the minutes of the court and as soon as that is done Berman's commitment can be wired to Seattle.

With the commitment papers in Seattle Berman can surrender to the United States Marshal and go to McNeil Island, as he originally planned, if he can get loose from the Sheriff's men there. It was a question here last night whether the Federal authorities in Seattle will make any move to take Berman away from the Washington State authorities if the latter wished to hold him, and also what attitude the government would take when and if California tried to extradite Berman from Washington.

FACES MORE TROUBLE

If Berman is brought back he will find considerable more trouble piled up for him than when he left. When he failed to appear in Judge Schauer's court yesterday morning for trial on an indictment charging forgery and embezzlement, the court ordered bail of $10,000 forfeited, and ordered a bench warrant issued on which he placed $100,000 bail. In addition, Judge Schauer also issued an order recommitting Berman to the custody of the Los Angeles county Sheriff and refused to set any bail on the latter document. It is understood that the recommitment is being prepared to wire to the Seattle authorities if a legal need is found for it to keep Berman in jail for the Los Angeles courts.

While their associates were working on the Berman matter, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Shelley and Hammon prepared to present this morning more Julian case testimony before the grand jury. It was announced that seven witnesses from San Francisco had been subpoenaed as a result of Shelley's recent trip north and are expected to be present today to testify.

GANG LEADERS TO BE HOUNDED

Chicago Lists Two "Public Enemies"

"Scarface" Alphonse Capone Heads Roll

Squad Will be Organized to Harass Outlaws

CHICAGO, April 23. (Announcement that the Chicago police department will organize a "hoodlum squad" to harass gangsters was made tonight by Police Commissioner Russell following the naming of twenty-eight men as "public enemies" by the Chicago Crime Commission, which urged law-enforcement officials to treat them accordingly." The program planned to be to drive the men out of eight from the city. The names of Alphonse (Scarface Al) Capone and George (Bugs) Moran headed the list of "public enemies."

In explaining the treatment the Crime Commission thinks should be accorded the men, Frank J. Loesch, outlined the following:

"Vigilant watchfulness and arrests. Court action. Deportation of criminal aliens. Investigation to determine whether taxes have been paid by these persons. Raids on disorderly houses controlled by them. Raids on gambling and night clubs, dog tracks, etc., in which they are interested or which are frequent."

Drys Assailed in Rebuttal

Decrease in Drinking Among American Youth Denied; Du Pont Urges Ballot

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The decade of American industrial expansion since the World War has been coincident with rather than a result of national prohibition in the opinion of the antiprohibitionists who today delivered a rebuttal attack before the House Judiciary Committee against the testimony of the drys.

The opponents of the Eighteenth Amendment placed one witness after another on the stand to challenge the dry contentions that happy homes, bulging bank accounts, busy manufacturing plants and a host of other good things can be attributed to the dry act.

They also took direct issue with the argument of the drys that young America is drinking less as a result of the constitutional prohibition against intoxicating beverages.

SEVERAL APPEAR

George Holden Tinkham, a Republican Representative from Massachusetts; Pierre S. Du Pont, Delaware capitalist; Maj.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, retired, whose name is linked with the exploits of the famous Yankee Division in France; and Miss Elizabeth Harris of the Washington branch of the woman's organization for national prohibition reform, were those called on by Representative Linthicum of Maryland, a Democrat, who has been presenting many of the anti-prohibition witnesses.

After these had been heard F. W. Buck, executive secretary of the Federal Dispensary-tax Reduction League, Inc., urged revision of the prohibition statutes as they exist today.

Du Pont directed his assault against the claim of increased wealth, arguing that this rests on "nothing but the coincidence" with prohibition. He asserted that many persons, including even some of the most upright and respected, are "in open revolt" against the dry law.

WORKINGMAN ANGLE

He said whether the efficiency of the working man has been changed materially as a result of prohibition is a question that can not be definitely proved.

"In dealing with this part of the subject," he added, "prohibitionists take the attitude that a large percentage of workingmen consumed liquor to such an extent as to interfere with their daily work."

He then said that an investigation for a decade before prohibition had produced an estimate that not more than 5 per cent of the total male population drank enough to injure themselves.

"It is certain," he continued, "that under conditions prevailing during the past eleven years they have been able to indulge themselves in alcohol very freely, probably no increased efficiency has been arrived at through curbing of the excessive drinkers."

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

Mr. Du Pont asserts that wealth "has increased and savings, and building and loan insurance policies have increased, because of prohibition, are founded on nothing but the coincidence of these increases with the existance of the prohibition law."

"We have yet to prove that prohibition exists to any extent in this country. If it does, we have no reason to assume that all happenings of a beneficial nature resulted from the change."

Discussing youth of the country and the liquor problem, the wet advocate said that polls conducted at certain colleges showed a majority favor modification or repeal of the dry laws.

"Many who pretend to uphold the law and exalt its benefits," he added, "do not hesitate to drink when liquor is furnished them. It seems a general belief that men in high government positions, in the legislatures, in Congress and elsewhere continue to use intoxicating liquor just as do those in private life. It would cause no surprise to find drinking even among those administering the law and judging the lawbreakers."

VOTE WANTED

He said that since the Eighteenth Amendment was enacted a generation comprising one-third of the voting population has reached a majority and is entitled to a vote on the question of prohibition. This, with the rapidity with which the amendment was adopted during the World War, he said, warrants "reporting out the bill now before this committee so that the will of the people may be determined after ten years' experience with a law that can boast little of their support or approval either before or after its passage."

Tinkham challenged the assertion of the drys that prohibition has increased savings in the United States and presented a letter from Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University, under date of July 9, 1929, in which the economist said he had found evidence that prohibition has "materially helped the United States, but I do not think it as important a factor as several others."

Tinkham had written Fisher asking to what he attributes prosperity in countries where there is no prohibition, particularly Canada and New Zealand.

FIGURES OFFERED

The Bay Stater also presented a table of statistics prepared by the American Bankers' Association, which he said showed that per capita savings in this country following prohibition were 15 per cent less than a similar period preceding prohibition.

"It will thus be seen from this table," he said, "that the total savings deposits in the United States increased 98 per cent from 1910 to 1919, the nine years preceding prohibition and only 84 per cent from 1920 to 1929, the nine years following prohibition.

"In other words, the increase in total savings deposits during the nine years preceding prohibition was 14 per cent greater than during the nine years following prohibition."

Gen. Edwards told of the effort of army officers in the preprohibition days to cope with drunkenness among troops. He said they had found that by establishing what was known as the "post exchange," temperance had been promoted.

In the post exchange, he explained, good food, wines and beers alone were served and soldiers readily had taken to patronizing such places rather than saloons and grog houses just off the military reservations.

EXPERIENCE RELATED

The veteran soldier said he personally had established such exchanges at Fort Porter, near Buffalo; at Fort Clark in Texas, and later in Panama. After he had been relieved as commandant in the Canal Zone, he said the Post Exchange, known there as a community house, subsequently had been abolished and drunkenness and insubordination soon followed.

Buck urged that Congress provide for a dispensary plan under which the licensing of breweries and wineries and distilleries would be carried out and the sale of the intoxicants placed in the hands of dispensing agents, to be appointed in the same way as postmasters. An amendment to the Eighteenth Amendment, he said, would be necessary to accomplish this. He argued that dispensary system would promote temperance and improve health. Buck cited the control systems in Canada, Sweden and other countries as sustaining his contentions.

PLAN PROPOSED

He said the dispensary plan answers the contention by drys that the wets have failed to present a plan to replace prohibition.

"Our proposed plan," he argued, "will not put the government into the liquor business to any greater extent than it is now."

Referring to drinking among young people, Buck said a poll among students at some universities disclosed the following:

"University of Michigan, out of 902 girl students, 305 admit they drink;

"Harvard students, 2646 drinkers to 914 nondrinkers;

"Chicago University, 40 per cent of the boys and girls admit they drink;

"Princeton, 79 per cent drink; Yale, 71 per cent; Amherst, 73 per cent, and thus reads the record.

"Out of a total of 24,000 students voting in fourteen colleges, 15,000 admit they drink."

FORMER SENATOR WANTS MODIFICATION

NEWARK (N. J.) April 23. (AP)—Former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, who voted for passage of the Volstead law, and who again is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Senate, issued a statement today declaring he favors a modification of the prohibition laws.

"I voted for the Volstead act," he said, "because it seemed to me the duty of Congress to enact legislation to make the amendment effective.

"Ten years of experience and study have modified my views. While the law has destroyed the open saloon, it has developed new and grave evils with which the public is familiar."

WETS ACCUSED OF COURT LOBBY

Stone were dated April 2 and 9, 1929.

The one to Sanford was dated March 30, 1929.

LETTER TO STONE

The letter of April 9 to Justice Stone said in part:

"It is indeed unfortunate that so many men in public life, especially those who have served for years and years in Congress in executive positions, and on the bench, become for all practical purposes out of touch with the busy workaday world. . . .

"In order to give you, perhaps, a new slant as to how some men are thinking and talking, a few days ago in the course of my conversation with an exceptionally keen young attorney, I ventured to remark that there are very many serious and far-reaching constitutional questions relating to the Eighteenth Amendment and enforcement measures that never have been submitted to the Supreme Court.

"His comment took the form of a question, 'Do you have any idea that the Supreme Court, as now constituted, would have the moral courage to go into this question thoroughly?'"

OTHER LETTER

The other letter to Justice Stone said in part:

"'It seems to me that it was intentional to provide two methods for amending the Constitution, one a rather easy one when the purpose is merely to clarify its evident meaning, correct minor defects, or better provide for the proper functioning of the government within defined limits; the other providing for conventions involving much controversy, extending over a considerable length of time in case fundamental changes are proposed, such as the surrender of individual rights, State rights, or prospective changes in the form of government."

PRISONER PAID FOR BROADCAST

Check Sent to Convict Who Described Ohio Blaze on National Hook-up

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—A check for $500 has been forwarded by William S. Paley, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, to Prisoner X-46812 at the Ohio State penitentiary in recognition of the graphic account of the prison fire he broadcast.

During the height of the fire Monday night the Columbia system hastily assembled a coast-to-coast hook-up and the prisoner gave an impromptu description of the catastrophe.

DEATHS LAID TO LAXITY

Charges Made in Prison Blaze

Chief Tells Inquiry Board All of Convicts Could Have Been Saved

Warden Admits Absence of Precautions Against Fire at Institution

COLUMBUS (O.) April 24. (Thursday) (AP)—A threatened disturbance was quickly averted by guards at Ohio penitentiary early this morning after a group of prisoners working on the night shift in the prison coal house deserted their posts. The prisoners, at first reported in a defiant mood, returned quietly to their jobs as soon as the guards approached them.

COLUMBUS (O.) April 23. (AP)—Sensational charges that prison officials could have saved all of the 318 prisoners who died in the Ohio penitentiary fire Monday night, and an admission from Warden Thomas that no general fire precautions are taken at the institution were read into the record of the board of inquiry today.

Charges that the prison officials were lax in their consideration of the value of human life were made by A. E. Nice, Columbus Fire Chief.

The warden blamed the State for crowing the prison to almost twice its capacity.

Chief Nice declared that all the victims could have been saved if they had been released from their cells as soon as the fire was discovered. He told the board that there must have been undue delay because the first alarm came from a box outside the prison walls.

WARDEN QUESTIONED

Warden Thomas was questioned in detail as to what precautions were taken against fire and why he went outside the prison walls to prevent any escapes when a serious situation prevailed inside.

He replied that he did not provide general fire protection at the prison because Columbus fire companies can reach there in two minutes and that he did not go to the scene of the fire because he had given orders and expected them to be carried out.

The investigation continued through a day marked by another scare, supplied by restless prisoners who caused the number of guards and troopers to be augmented. Several thousand prisoners in the idle house and 600 Negro convicts in the dormitories created a disturbance, but were quieted without serious happenings.

TRANSFERS MADE

One hundred and forty men were transferred to other State institutions to relieve overcrowded conditions and within a day or so the convicts will resume work in the prison factories.

For the first time since the holocaust Warden Thomas ventured into the prison yard. Jeers and cries of derision brought the warden's bowed head erect. He watched the prisoners for a moment, and with a word of encouragement from one of the chaplains continued his walk across the yard. Guards were sent to quiet the jeering men but later in the day the murmurings against him continued among the inmates.

Father O'Brien, Catholic chaplain at the penitentiary, said today that Thomas probably would have been torn to pieces if he had gone into the prison yard Monday night when the convicts were carrying the dead from the flame-swept cell blocks.

There was a cry against him everywhere among the thousands of prisoners who looked on and it is just as well that he did not attempt to go into the yard, the chaplain said.

The Town House

wishes you to know—that the S.S. Columbus docked in its Restaurant yesterday.

Direct steamship travel to Europe from Los Angeles now being started with the putting into service of magnificent passenger liners is a wonderful development for our city.

The Town House has already begun to profit from the first sailing on Saturday next of the German liner Columbus.

Delightful farewell parties in its Restaurant have been numerous.

One, yesterday, had the table decorated with a beautiful reproduction of the steamer in flowers.

A luncheon or dinner in our Restaurant to bid your friends "bon voyage" would provide an occasion you would look back upon with great pleasure.

P.S.—Cook's day off. Comes frequently, doesn't it?

HOSPITAL SITE'S SELECTION NEAR

Choice for State Institution Awaits Soil Analyses

SACRAMENTO, April 23. (Exclusive)—Selection of the site for the new $1,000,000 State hospital for the insane in Southern California is expected to be made within two weeks, Earl E. Jensen, State director of institutions and chairman of the site committee, announced today.

Three sites are being considered by the committee, said Jensen, all within fifty miles of Los Angeles and thirty miles of the ocean. About $300,000 will be paid for the site of several hundred acres and $700,000 will be spent in buildings.

Jensen declared that State engineers have surveyed each site and the final selection will depend on the soil analyses and findings of water supplies.

Judge Parker Confirmation Hopes Weighed

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—President Hoover was informed today by Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, that a close decision is in prospect in the Senate on the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme Court. The Republican leader said after leaving the White House he still is hopeful of confirmation of the nominee.

Confronted with a break in their own ranks, the administration forces are relying on sufficient Democratic support for confirmation of Parker.

RAIL LINE TO DISCONTINUE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission today authorized the San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad Company to discontinue operation of its regular passenger train service between El Prado and Big Creek in Fresno county.

THIRTY PIRATE VICTIMS HUNTED

Japanese Destroyer Seeks Crew of Wrecked Ship

TOKIO, April 23. (AP)—The Japanese destroyer Ume searched the South China coast today for thirty Japanese sailors whose ship, the Kamiyoshi Maru, was pirated Sunday or Monday. Whether the sailors were captured by the pirates or escaped in lifeboats is not known.

The Navy Office learned today that the Kamiyoshi Maru, while carrying coal from Keelung, Formosa, to Hongkong, went aground Sunday night thirty-five miles south of Swatow in Northern Kwangtung Province, China. A Chinese junk was seen Monday alongside the apparently abandoned wreck.

Dispatched to the scene, the destroyer Ume found the freighter plundered and her crew gone. On a near-by island were Chinese, apparently pirates, with documents of the wrecked vessel in their possession.

ONCE-RICH BANDIT HELPED

Chicago Judge Grants Probation to E. B. Doty Who Turned to Crime for Family's Sake

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Bereft of his fortune and charged with banditry, Earl B. Doty, 49 years of age, former comptroller of the Calumet Baking Powder Company, learned today that good deeds performed in days gone by and true friendship really count for something after all.

Arraigned in Criminal Court, the gray-haired, dignified, once-affluent Doty hung his head as he told how in desperation he had armed himself and set out as a bandit.

"Unsuccessful business ventures dissipated my fairly large fortune," he said. "I had no money and one of my children was facing an operation. My insurance premiums were due and my wife needed clothes. I was desperate."

Many influential friends appeared in court to tell how Doty once had devoted himself to the welfare of the community. Among them were his pastor, a university professor, a Boy Scout executive and a representative of the Calumet Baking Powder Company.

Judge Trude heard all these; heard how Doty had always been a good husband, a good neighbor, a firm friend. He also heard how in desperation Doty had robbed two grocery employees of $172. The money was recovered.

Then he announced:

"I am not a betting man, but I am going to bet on you, Doty. I'm betting you go straight. You are granted probation. Please don't disappoint me."

TRAFFIC TOLL HEAVY

PARIS, April 23. (AP)—France experienced possibly the worst week-end automobile casualty list over Easter in the history of motor vehicles. Thirty-six persons were killed and 172 injured in widespread accidents.

COUNTRY'S ILLS LAID TO DRY LAW

Women's Organization Holds Prohibition Failure

CLEVELAND (O.) April 23. (AP)—The women's organization for prohibition reform, asserting it speaks for approximately 100,000 American women, today attacked the prohibition law, which the organization openly charges has failed.

The organization, meeting here to make permanent the temporary organization formed in Chicago last May, was told late today that prohibition not only has "not turned out as we had anticipated," but is responsible for this nation's present condition, including "crime waves, crowded prisons and growing disrespect for all law."

This statement was made by Mrs. Henry B. Joy of Detroit, temporary chairman, addressing the meeting.

Walker D. Hines Voices Defense of Rail Mergers

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Opposition to legislation to suspend railroad consolidations was voiced before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee today by Walker D. Hines, counsel for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads' stockholders.

Hines contended that to enact such legislation would be "to throw the situation once more on the old antitrust laws and to prevent progress and stabilization now going on."

Railroad consolidations are exempted from the antitrust laws by the Transportation Act, which commands the Interstate Commerce Commission to authorize them.

The attorney was heard at his own request by the Senate committee considering a resolution by Senator Cousens, Republican, Michigan, proposing to suspend all railroad consolidations until Congress enacts additional regulations.

offers

Advantages Found Only in Cadillac Cars

Here they are . . .

. . . A Different and Better Performance—First and foremost, there is La Salle performance—something more than mere transportation. Different from anything you have ever experienced. You "feel" the difference. Brilliance—smoothness—unfailing reliability. The reason: The famous Cadillac V-type 8-cylinder power plant. More than 400,000 cars equipped with these engines.

. . . Easier Gear-Shifting—If you have never shifted Cadillac-La Salle gears, you are due for a surprise. You shift from second to high or high to second without hesitation at any reasonable speed. There is never a clash. Shifting is easier, quicker, quieter. The reason: The Syncro-Mesh Transmission found only in Cadillac and La Salle cars.

. . . Finger-Tip Steering—La Salle steering is so easy—in congested traffic or over country roads. No steering strain or whip. The reason: New Cadillac-La Salle Harmonized Steering.

. . . Velvet Action Brakes—Another reason for the complete control and consequent greater safety La Salle owners enjoy is the instant responsiveness of the Safety-Mechanical Four-Wheel Brakes. Only the slightest pedal pressure is required. They do not overheat.

. . . Fisher and Fleetwood Coachwork—You discover a wide difference in bodies between La Salle and other cars of similar price class in La Salle's better style, greater beauty and finer finish. Fisher and Fleetwood coachwork is the reason. For greater safety, windows, doors and windshields are equipped with non-shatterable Security-Plate Glass, without extra charge.

. . . Lowest Price, Quality Considered—Easy Payments—Where else can you equal these advantages? LaSalle is priced as low as $2385, f. o. b. Detroit. Payments are made easy by using the G. M. A. C. Deferred Payment Plan. Your present car may well be sufficient to take care of the first payment.

EXPENDITURES INCREASE LESS

State, County and City Costs for 1929 Under Average

SACRAMENTO, April 23. (Special)—Municipal, county and state expenditures for the fiscal year 1929 totaled $725,250,201, an increase over 1928 of $33,982,161, according to a statement issued today by State Controller Riley. The Controller pointed out that the 1929 increase is considerably less than the average, $50,000,000 annual increase in the past ten years.

Municipal payments last year totaled $236,969,671, State payments $144,926,766, and county payments $343,292,761. Thirty-nine per cent of the State expenditure was for schools and education. Highway construction ranks as the largest single item in municipal payments, totaling 11 per cent.

"Marie, How Do You Keep Your Skin so Lovely?"

"THAT'S easy. I just use Resinol Soap as my regular toilet soap every day, and if I have a pimple or any suggestion of a rash or roughness, I put on a little Resinol Ointment and it clears it right up."

Many women whose complexions you admire are using just this treatment. They find that Resinol Soap not only helps to overcome pimples, blackheads, redness, etc., but its daily use tends to prevent those conditions. Its delightful odor is delightful and its action is so gentle it is suitable to the most sensitive skins.

They use Resinol Ointment too because it so quickly heals those minor skin irritations which everyone has sometimes, and they find it a soothing dressing for burns, sore corns, chafing, blisters, etc. At all druggists.

HEIRESS HAPPY WITH NEWSBOY

Former Miss Huntington and Husband in Toronto

Wife Likes Housework and Cooking, She Declares

TORONTO, April 23. (NANA)—"Mrs. Huntington was a bit shocked, but I must say she took it well—much better than I expected," said Alfred Cecil Durban, the 21-year-old English newsboy whose whirlwind courtship of Vivienne Huntington, 27-year-old American heiress, ended last month in a surprise marriage at Cheriton, near Folkestone, Eng., when he arrived here last evening with his bride.

The picture presented by the newly married couple was somewhat out of the ordinary, judged by the accepted ideas of hurried twentieth-century romances. They stood on the Union Station platform surrounded by a group of reporters bombarding them with questions. The bride was calm and self-possessed, but the bridegroom looked around him helplessly.

BRIDE ATTRACTIVE

There was a marked contrast between the two. Mrs. Durban is attractive in appearance. She has fair bobbed hair and soft hazel eyes. She wore a trim, brown tweed suit, topped by a sealskin coat, a tight-fitting brown hat and low-heeled strap shoes.

Young Durban is not of the dashing Adonis type, and his outfit was more miscellaneous. He wore a blue coat, gray flannel trousers both needed pressing—with a blue and white striped sweater instead of the conventional waistcoat, a blue shirt, carelessly knotted bright blue tie, tan Oxfords, dark gray overcoat and a crushed fedora. His straight, fair hair is brushed right back from his forehead, and his sallow skin lacks the ruddiness of the average Englishman.

COMMENTS THRILL THEM

The most remarkable difference between them, however, is in their voices. Mrs. Durban's soft, well-modulated speech sounds strangely in contrast with her husband's abrupt Kentish twang, but both talked readily and somewhat eagerly. They had bought all the newspapers they could before leaving Folkestone, and frankly said they didn't mind the comments "one bit"—indeed, they intend to get all the papers in this city to read all the "nice stories" published about them.

They chose Toronto as their home because "we had heard it is so English," and also because Mrs. Huntington wants them to live here.

Asked about their first meeting, Durban turned appealingly to his wife.

"When did we first meet, wifie?" he asked. Mrs. Durban was busy talking and failed to reply immediately, so he added, with a broad grin: "You're not giving your husband proper attention, baby."

THIRTEEN NOT UNLUCKY

Mrs. Durban smiled and her husband went on:

"I was selling papers on the Folkestone Central Station and Vivienne came to buy one. I asked if I could deliver the paper at her house," he continued with a bashful smile. "That was the start of it, I suppose. We just got talking and went walking and that's all. We were married five months after we met, on March 13. The thirteen isn't unlucky, either."

The conversation that followed showed it was a case of love at first sight on his part but not on hers, although it didn't take long for her interest to develop.

"At first I just thought he was a nice-looking boy," she said, "and then I thought he was a nice boy."

While the bride's mother was holidaying in Switzerland, they were married at a registry office and were ensconced in the family domicile when Mrs. Huntington returned.

"She was a bit shocked but that's all," declared the bridegroom. "Nobody objected to the wedding but her, and she came too late. My people took it all right."

MARRIED TWICE

Both Mr. and Mrs. Durban responded with an emphatic "Yes" to the question: "Are you very much in love?" and asserted that they will never regret being wed. They went through a second marriage ceremony in a church at Mrs. Huntington's request.

Despite the widely published stories of her fabulous wealth, Mrs. Durban wants it made plain she is not an heiress.

"I have a little money of my own, of course," she said, "but my mother really has everything."

Still, she said, they have money enough to finance them for a whole month, adding, "if necessity arrives I can get a remittance from England, but I expect my husband to support me. My mother expects him to and he expects to himself—in fact, we're all agreed on that. It's a man's job, you know."

JOB WANTED

And then Mr. Durban chimed in: "Give me a job and I'll be happy. I don't care what it is or where it is, but the sooner I get one the better."

He went on to explain that he did not come to Canada for a holiday and is prepared to tackle anything, except selling newspapers again.

The couple are at a modest hotel to which they went after cautious inquiries concerning the rates. They hope to move to a small apartment in a few days. There the former Miss Vivienna Huntington of Enbrook Manor, Cheriton, will preside over her first housekeeping establishment.

She likes cooking and housework. "I've often helped with them for fun," she explained.

UM, STEAK AND ONIONS

Mrs. Durban was reticent about her culinary ability, but her youthful spouse—he is six years her junior, according to her own statement—proclaimed emphatically to the amusement of all within earshot: "Sure you're a good cook," and added that she prepares his favorite dish, steak and onions, to perfection.

Only one detail of the domestic regime is worrying the bride. She doesn't like sewing. In one breath she related proudly that she has already mended her husband's socks, and in the next inquired if it is possible to have mending done in spare time. She may look for a Toronto.

Mrs. Durban doesn't feel that the care of a small apartment and a six-foot husband will occupy, all her time, and suggested taking a course of lectures at the university in her position, although she naively confessed she isn't adept at anything and was not a matriculated student at school, preferring to study domestic science.

"I wanted to be a doctor, but I wasn't clever enough," added the bobbed-haired little lady.

Chicago Shows Robbery Slump

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Forty per cent less robberies in March than in January was the announcement today of Chief of Police Russell.

His compilations showed 927 robberies in the first month of 1930, 673 in February and 553 in March. Burglaries increased somewhat, with 404 in January, 396 in February and 485 in March.

CHURCH MERGER WILL BE URGED

Presbyterian Department to Give Plan to Assembly

United Group and Reformed Denominations Involved

Joining With Other Creeds Also to Be Considered

PHILADELPHIA, April 23. (AP)—Complete organic union with the Reformed church of America (Dutch Reformed) and United Presbyterian denominations will be recommended to the Presbyterian General Assembly in Cincinnati, May 29, by the department of church co-operation and union of the Presbyterian church in America. Dr. J. Ross Steveson of Princeton is head of the department.

The report of the department, made public today, will ask the assembly to authorize preparation of a plan for organic union to be submitted to the 1931 assembly for adoption. The General Synod of the Reformed Church in America is to consider the proposed union in June.

The Dutch Reformed church has approximately 160,000 communicant members, the United Presbyterian 241,000 and the Presbyterian church in America more than 2,000,000.

Concerning union with other churches the report says a conference is to be held in Atlantic City June 10 and 11 by the Presbyterian department and official commissions of the Methodist Episcopal and Protestant Episcopal churches to make further study of Christian morality, looking forward toward organic union.

It points out that the Protestant Episcopal committee "is not making an approach on the basis of either doctrine or policy, such as has already been provided for in the world conference on faith and order, but is seeking agreement on sociological, temperance and racial questions, as well as a clearer understanding as to what is the wisest relationship of church and state."

PRISON BILLS REPORTED

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today reported to the Senate a series of House bills providing prison relief and including authorization for two new Federal prisons.

"Future Events Cast Their Shadows Before"

A LUCKY STRIKE against your double chin with this *JUVENILE WATER

Reach for a GLASS instead!

We do not claim that Arrowhead Spring Water causes shrinkage of your extra chins. But seriously we do say this: at meal times, or any other time when you crave to over-indulge, reach for a glass of this "juvenile" water instead. You will encourage the reduction of excessive weight.

Arrowhead Spring Water does fill an important place in your daily diet—whether you are overweight or underweight. It brings you new vigor because it is "juvenile." No other water is like Arrowhead. In its deep granite source, this water is primarily formed from hydrogen and dissolved oxygen—pure H_2O. As it seeps upward toward the surface it acquires the proper amount of vital minerals essential to normal health. The daily drinking of at least six glasses of this "juvenile" water will give you a new grip on youthful pep.

This famous drinking water is delivered everywhere in Southern California. Five gallons—50c—in metropolitan area. For service phone WEstmore 5231, California Consolidated Water Co.

*Juvenile drinking water is the geological term for virgin-pure water coming from profound depths, wherein nature's Hydrogen rising through miles of granite dissolves with Oxygen, forming naturally pure H_2O. This is the deep-seated source of ARROWHEAD SPRING WATER. Being juvenile it is fresh, pure, healthful and better tasting.

Usurpation of Rate-Making Powers Charged

Mileage Basis for Freights Declared Tendency

Southern Journals Hit by Newsprint Tariffs

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—A resolution voicing disapproval of the "growing tendency of the Interstate Commerce Commission to revise the freight rate structures of the United States primarily upon a mileage basis" was adopted today at the opening session of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association annual convention at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

The resolution, introduced by E. M. Antrim of the Chicago Tribune, chairman of the association's traffic committee, was recommended by the committee, which declared in its report that "it seems to be the intention of the commission to put the freight rate structure of this country in the same kind of a straight jacket as is to be found in Germany and France."

RIGID STRUCTURE

"The main trouble with a mileage scale is that it results in an absolutely rigid rate structure and rate of progression," the committee said, contending that such schedules could not be justly applied in the newsprint paper industry, which is centered in one section, Eastern United States and Canada.

Thus, through the mileage basis, the committee pointed out, publishers in the South and West will be confronted with prohibitive rates on newsprint paper from this section.

When its paper committee generally approved plans to "stabilize newsprint prices but made no definite recommendation on a schedule advanced by the Newsprint Institute of Canada, the convention adopted a resolution asking for a plan of procedure from the committee.

PRICE INCREASE DUE

The Newsprint Institute's schedule calls for a general increase in prices over a three-year period up to $60 a ton from the present rate of $55. The committee indicated that the publishers should decide for themselves whether the increase would be fair.

Canadian manufacturers last fall attempted to increase newsprint prices $5 per ton outright, but granted publishers a six months' extension of old contracts when a general protest was raised.

GUARD COMPANY INSPECTED

HANFORD, April 23.—National Guard officers headed by Col. Ray Hayes of Fresno, gave annual inspection to Company B. One Hundred and Eighty-fifth Infantry, C. N.G. tonight. Before inspection the visiting officers were dinner guests of the local officers at a local cafe.

KIWANIANS HEAR WOELLNER

HANFORD, April 23.—Hanford Kiwanis at the weekly luncheon today was addressed by Dr. Frederick P. Woellner of the University of California at Los Angeles on the subject, "What is Education?"

ONE FRENCHMAN MAY BE WRONG

Viscount Barred at New York On Grounds That He Might Get Job

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP) A French Viscount was refused admittance to the United States today on the ground that he might go to work.

Arriving on the liner Westernland, Viscount Louis de la Bassetiere presented a one-year visitor's visa. A special board of inquiry at Ellis Island decided he might be tempted to accept a job and ordered him excluded. What prompted this conclusion was not revealed.

The Viscount is said to be the son of a former Boston woman who married into French nobility. He said he will take an appeal to Washington and his deportation was deferred.

Giannini Bank Interests Buy in Food Corporation

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—The Giannini banking interests have purchased a block of stock in General Foods Corporation, one of the largest holders of food companies in the world. In entering the food business they have followed the lead of J. P. Morgan & Co., which sponsored the formation of Standard Brands, Inc., General Food's greatest competitor.

E. F. Hutton, chairman of the board of the General Foods, which controls Postum Company and many other concerns, said tonight that Bancamerica-Blair Corporation yesterday purchased 7 per cent of the common shares.

Mr. Hutton said that the stock was purchased at a private sale at a price above the close of the market today.

Court Hearing on Disbarment Case Up Today

HANFORD, April 23.—Judge H. S. Mahon of Sutter county has been appointed by the State Judicial Council to preside in the disbarment proceedings against Attorney J. L. C. Irwin, former State Senator, which opens in the Kings County Superior Court tomorrow. Judge K. Van Zante, local superior judge, agreed that the matter should be heard before another judge when the petitioners contended that they could not obtain a fair hearing before him, because of his long and intimate acquaintance with Attorney Irwin.

Irwin is accused of unethical acts in connection with the affairs of the Elberta Oil Company, of which he is a director and for which he is counsel.

HIGH COURT BAN SOUGHT ON BOTTLES

Government Asks Ruling Against Accessories of Bootlegging Trade

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The government urged the Supreme Court today to aid it in more effective prohibition enforcement by preventing stores from selling bottles, casks and other containers which will enable bootleggers to deliver their products to customers in an attractive manner.

The question reached the court in an appeal by Ike Danovitz of Pittsburgh, Pa., as the surviving partner of the Feitler Bottle Company, protesting against the seizure and confiscation by prohibition-enforcement agents of a stock of empty barrels, bottles, corks and other articles.

The government defended the seizure on the ground that the articles were intended for sale for the illegal manufacture of liquor.

Ward Bonsall, as counsel for Danovitz, insisted the seizure was illegal on the ground that the prohibition law condemned traffic in articles used only in illegal manufacture.

Asst. Atty.-Gen. Sisson took direct issue with this argument, insisting that the bottling and preparation of the liquor for the market was a part of the manufacture declared illegal by the Volstead Act.

Shots Fired at Murder Witness

EUREKA, April 23. (AP)—William Martell, Eureka service-station proprietor, and a witness in the Clarence King murder case, reported to Sheriff's officers tonight that four shots had been fired at him near Beatrice, twenty miles south of here, after he had answered what developed to be a fake call for a tow car.

Half an hour later James Weld, San Francisco salesman, reported a bullet had been fired through the windshield of his automobile on the highway fifteen miles north of the spot where Martell reported having been fired upon. Weld's car is painted the same color as Martell's private machine.

Public School Week Observed

TULARE, April 23.—Dr. Goeffrey Morgan of Long Beach spoke here tonight on "Special Aims of Education" at a mass meeting held in the high-school auditorium as a climax to Tulare's observance of public school week.

Music for the mass meeting, attended by school and church groups, service clubs, lodge members and of many more youthful members of the community, was furnished by the various musical organizations of the high school. Public school week has been widely observed here, all the elementary schools keeping open house with interesting exhibits shown in the various departments.

AMERICAN RELEASED BY BANDITS

Dr. Purnell Freed Near Guadalajara on Payment of 400-Peso Ransom

MEXICO CITY, April 23. (AP)—Dr. George Edward Purnell, American dentist who was kidnaped near Guadalajara Sunday, was released by his captors outside Guadalajara late last night on payment of 400 pesos (about $200.) Dr. Purnell reached Guadalajara at 1 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Purnell was the third American within the past month to be kidnaped by bandits and then later released. The first was J. E. Bristow, Texas mining man who was released at the end of three weeks on payment of ransom, while the second was Leonard Cassidy of Peabody, Mass., who also was released.

Dr. Purnell was released through the efforts of Raleigh A. Gibson, American Consul; William B. Lawton, American Vice-Consul; two other Americans and two Mexicans.

The kidnapers had asked 6000 pesos but this figure eventually was reduced to 400 in silver through negotiations.

Dr. Purnell, who has lived in Mexico for more than thirty years, was not mistreated by his captors although he did not have much to eat.

Beauty Contest Winner Granted Divorce Decree

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Mrs. Pauline Bradford Keeler, winner of the international beauty contest at Galveston in 1926, was granted a divorce in Superior Court here today from Irwin Keeler, hotel broker and publisher, on the grounds of mental cruelty. Mrs. Keeler charged her husband nagged, quarreled and was indifferent to her.

Mrs. Keeler obtained the decree on a cross-complaint filed in answer to a suit instituted by Keeler a week ago. They were married last October and separated April 1, last. As Pauling Hampton, winner of the Galveston beauty contest, Mrs. Keeler's portrait was selected for permanent display in the art museum in London.

Committee of Grape Growers to Start Drive

HANFORD, April 23.—Kings county grape growers have named a committee of twenty-five to take up the drive for signatures of contracts under the Federal Farm Board's industry plan for reorganization of the grape industry.

The committee members are to receive their proportion of the contracts as soon as they are ready for distribution and each member is authorized to select his assistants in the work of covering systematically the territory assigned to him. The county committee is headed by Sheriff W. V. Buckner.

Woman Convict's Son Sentenced

OAKLAND, April 23. (Exclusive) Clarence A. Reid, 23 years of age, son of Evelyn Rosencrantz, will follow his mother inside the walls of San Quentin soon, it was indicated today.

He was sentenced by Superior Judge Wood on a charge of taking an automobile without the owner's consent. He was sentenced in the same court and by the same judge who sent his mother to prison for the rest of her life as a habitual criminal.

Veteran Rail Worker Dies

BAKERSFIELD, April 23. — William Suner Grandy, 71 years of age, retired railroad man, who was twenty-seven years division foreman for the Santa Fe Railway here, died yesterday at his home, 1818 Second street. He retired from active service in February, after thirty-eight years of association with the Santa Fe.

SISTER WINS PATENT FIGHT WITH BROTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (Exclusive)—A patent battle between brother and sister, involving an automobile headlight reflector, was won by Mrs. Martha W. Caughlan, Oakland, in an order handed down by Federal Judge St. Sure today. Her brother-opponent is William O. Wood, San Francisco, who brought suit against her last year, charging she stole his ideas for a device he claimed to have invented in 1923.

CENSUS DODGER TO FACE CHARGE

More Than Thirty May Find Themselves in Court

Federal Attorney Threatens Obdurate Fresnoans

They Must Appear Today Not Later Than 5 p.m.

FRESNO, April 23.—Thirty or more persons who have refused to give information to census takers here will face charges in the United States District Court unless they voluntarily appear at census headquarters before 5 p.m. tomorrow, it was announced today by Asst. U. S. Atty. J. George Ohannesian following a conference with Census Supervisor Glenn V. Slater.

Slater is said to have reported that not only individuals have refused proper information but several hotel managers have declined to co-operate.

"After a consultation with Judge Paul J. McCormick regarding this matter, we have decided to allow all persons who have thus far refused to give information until 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon to voluntarily appear at the census headquarters to be enumerated," Ohannesian said. "The names of between thirty and forty persons have been furnished to me and we are preparing to file information in the District Court in each case. In cases where persons involved voluntarily go before the census supervisor, the informations will not be filed."

With the 1930 check-up of population lagging approximately 2000 behind the government census of 1920, the home of every pupil in local schools will be circularized in an effort to obtain a complete enumeration. Action to this end will be taken through distribution of a questionnaire among the school children, each family being asked to signify on the blanks whether or not they have been visited by the census enumerators.

Figures to date show that 43,006 of the city's residents have been accounted for by the census takers.

The Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association are co-operating in the move to complete the enumeration of the city's residents, and will receive the assistance of the postoffice. Local letter-carriers will inquire at each house they visit whether the census blanks have been filled out, Postmaster Turner said.

A telephone poll and house-to-house canvass are proposed in the event the school plan does not bring the desired results.

BAKERSFIELD HAS AT LEAST 22,250 POPULATION NOW

BAKERSFIELD, April 23. — This city has at least 22,250 residents, Roland Veon, census director, said today, following tabulation of returns completed to date. Eight of the twenty-one city enumerators have completed their work and have turned in their forms.

Persons missed in these eight districts will remain in the lost or strayed column until the last day of the renumeration. After that date the post-checking work will be started and their names and residences rechecked at the Census Bureau.

Tracy Police Chief Ousted

STOCKTON, April 23. (AP)—The new City Council at Tracy last night ousted Chief of Police O. C. Morehouse and appointed former Chief William L. Lampkey. He assumed office at once. The Council refused to discuss the removal, which was carried by a vote of 3 to 2.

BOROUGH HELPS POET CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Edwin Markham, who at the age of 47 years became famous as the author of "The Man With the Hoe," today celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday, and the borough of Richmond, on Staten Island, where he lives, celebrated with him. Hundreds of school children marched in a long parade at noon to his home and held a pageant in his honor on his front lawn.

Before January 8, 1899, the day on which a San Francisco newspaper printed his "Man With the Hoe," Mr. Markham had been a farm boy, sheep herder, blacksmith and teacher. His poem, inspired by Millet's painting, immediately made him famous.

DRY LAW PENALTIES GIVEN TO NINETEEN

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Nineteen of twenty-four men recently indicted by the Federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy against the dry laws pleaded guilty today and were given sentences ranging down from $5000 fine and eight months in prison to $100 fines for minor defendants. John J. Garibaldi, president of the Baccus Bottling Company, New York, was sentenced to serve eight months and fined $5000, heading the list.

TWITCHELL, OLD-TIME BASEBALL STAR, DIES

CLEVELAND, April 23. (AP)—Larry Twitchell, 68 years of age, famous old-time baseball player, died here today. He played with the Detroit National League club in 1887. With Cleveland in 1889 he set a batting record that stood for many years, by getting a home run, three triples, a double and a single in six times at bat in one game.

PLANE THAT CARRIED PRINCE OF WALES FALLS

CAIRO (Egypt) April 23. (AP)—The airplane on which the Prince of Wales traveled here from Khartoum last week crashed this morning at Heliopolis airdrome shortly after taking off on its return flight to Khartoum. Its occupants were killed.

Road Scouts Find Michoacan Land of Enchantntent

Splendid Future as Tourist Playground Foreseen

State Under Leadership of Young Progressives

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

MORELIA (Michoacan, Mex.) April 23.—For two days the scout expedition of the Automobile Club of Southern California has been traveling through a land of enchantment.

Turning southeast from Guadalajara the highway runs through Michoacan, which is the Switzerland of Mexico. Silver lakes nestled among timber-covered mountains which turn blue and ashes of roses in the changing light of the tropic sun, regal old haciendas, villages of Ascara Indians whose forefathers defied the imperial power of Montezuma—tolling ox carts—a peon passing with a flintlock gun dating back to the American Revolution—quaint country villages with monuments in the plazas that still have an aroma of the lost Aztec civilization — endless forests of hardwood timber—green lakes in the craters of extinct volcanos—blue clear lakes half hidden by tropical trees.

WEALTHY COUNTRY

Michoacan is a country of fine horses, vaqueros riding by with picturesque serapes and scarlet saddle clothes on fiery horses that breed back to Kentucky racing stock—fields of waving wheat and corn.

The experts of the Automobile Club believe that with good roads this will become the greatest tourist playground in the world. It has everything—hunting, fishing in beautiful mirror lakes, a superb climate and an indefinable charm of age, of mystery and of enchanting beauty.

Out from Guadalajara we spent the first night in the historic town of Zamora whose very building seems to whisper of tragedy and drama. We are now at Morelia, the capital of Michoacan. It, too, has history. The old university where Hidalgo plotted the revolt against Spain, still stands. The cathedral is regarded as the second finest example of architecture on the American continent.

YOUTHFUL LEADERS

We were received this morning by Gov. Lazaro Cardenas in a great palace which was formerly the seat of an archbishop. The Governor is surprisingly young and has surrounded himself with a staff of young progressive men. This morning we were shown an industrial school where waifs of the city are cabinet making, shoe making, winding electric batteries, repairing automobiles. The school building is a sixteenth century monastery and it seemed symbolic of what is happening in Mexico that the boys' gymnasium should be an old torture chamber of the Inquisition.

Tomorrow morning the expedition starts out again for Mexico City, being joined tonight by two cars of the expedition which left us at Guadalajara to route a road by way of San Jose de los Lagos and Leon. Chief Engineer East has carefully inspected the roads with Cortez Herrera of the Michoacan Highway Commission. At present the roads are fairly good in the dry season, but impossible after the rains come. The great problem is to find a road which can withstand the torrential rains. The Mexican government is building a road eighteen miles out of Morelia. Mr. East says that the engineering work is enlightened and excellent.

Answer Made to Federal Suit on Advertising

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Announcement was made today by Foster & Kleiser Company in response to the suit by Federal authorities charging an advertising monopoly that the company has always endeavored to conduct its business within legal limits and that further statement of its defense will be reserved for the court.

A formal announcement of about 200 words was issued by George W. Kleiser, president of the company, discussing the suit, which was brought in Southern California. He said that the government had spent several years in investigating the outdoor advertising industry and previously filed suit in New York against several companies. Foster & Kleiser Company was included but subsequently the suit was dismissed as to Foster & Kleiser without prejudice to the right of the government to initiate similar proceedings on the Pacific Coast.

Irene Bordoni Obtains Right to Sue Lawyer

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Irene Bordoni, musical comedy and screen actress, today obtained permission in the Supreme Court to sue her former lawyer for $100,000 damages on the charge that the attorney made scandalous accusations against her in an affidavit.

The assertedly scandalous matter, she said, concerned a divorce suit brought by her former husband, E. Ray Goetz, theatrical producer.

The attorney, Richard D. Mackey, submitted the affidavit to the Supreme Court on an application for a writ of attachment against Miss Bordoni's $3000-a-week vaudeville salary to collect $1500, which he asserted she owed him for professional services.

Stock to Be Issued After Young-Plan Adoption

Three Departmental Chiefs Named at Session

BASEL (Switzerland) April 23. (AP) The directorate of the new bank of international settlements, organized under the Young plan to handle reparations and other matters of international banking, completed its plans of immediate operation, organization and personnel at a forenoon session today.

All proceedings were considered definite but will be adopted formally again when the Young plan is adopted by Great Britain and Italy, fulfilling all the requirements for actual commencement of operations of the bank.

STOCK ISSUE PLANNED

It was decided to issue stock at par eight days after these two ratifications are obtained. Reparations bonds totaling $300,000,000 will bear 6 per cent interest, as was understood previously, but details of this transaction have not been completed.

Functions and authority of the various officers were defined more fully and it was decided that President-Designate Gates W. MacGarrah, and Leon Fraser, his alternate, may sign for the bank alone, while Pierre Quesnay, general manager, and other officials must have their instruments countersigned also.

CHIEFS APPOINTED

Three chiefs of departments were appointed and two others left open. Dr. Hulse of Germany was made chief of the banking department, Signor Pilliotti of Italy was named the secretary-general and M. Nanseeland of Belgium was appointed the chief of the security marketing division.

The section charged with liaison with the various banks of issue momentarily is in charge of M. Quesnay, while there has been no appointment to the exchange section, over which the Japanese will preside.

GUNNISON (Miss.) April 23. (AP)—A crowd of several hundred men today shot and killed Dave Harris, 35-year-old Negro, accused of slaying Clayton Funderberg, 17-year-old farm boy.

"I Will Praise Sargon Long As I Live," She Says

Many who wisely put Sargon, the new and different medicine, to the test, return to express amazement at the speed with which this modern compound goes to the very source of their ills and brings relief before they fully realize that Sargon is at work.

MRS. CLARA GROENE

Sargon is not designed to give mere temporary relief. It is not that kind of a medicine. Its aim is new, abundant and glorious health.

Sargon stands on its own record of matchless achievements. There are thousands of cases like that of Mrs. Clara Groene, 3381 Cottonwood St., San Diego, who tells what Sargon did for her as follows:

"As long as I can remember I was constipated, and for the past five years I took a laxative every night. I was so rundown and nervous I never slept well, and would be disturbed by my kidneys three or four times a night. In the morning I'd be so weak and tired I'd have to force myself to do my housework. I was careful what I ate, but even then had indigestion most of the time.

"I had taken so many medicines that I was almost out of heart, but decided to give Sargon a trial because I had heard of so many San Diego people being benefited by it. Every day I take the treatment I can see an improvement. The Sargon Pills have ended my constipation, and my kidneys do not annoy me at night, and I sleep much better. Indigestion doesn't trouble me any more and my appetite is good. I've gained in health, energy and happiness, and I'll praise Sargon the longest day I live."

So it goes. Such triumphs as these are what have made Sargon famous; such victories account for the fact that Sargon has become the sensation of the drug trade, and is rapidly becoming a household word throughout America.

Go to the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, and meet the Sargon Man. He will give you the astonishing facts about this wonderful new medicine which is accomplishing such remarkable results all over the country. The astonishing record of Sargon is based on actual results accomplished; not empty promises. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett's Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

"The use of Copper, Brass and Bronze in a house adds to its value as well as its life" . . .

President, Marine Midland Corporation

WHEN you plan your home, it is well to consider what it will be worth ten or twenty years from now. When you sell, you want to get the best possible price for it. This is one reason why many bankers, like Mr. Rand, advise you to build your home for permanency—with Copper, Brass and Bronze.

Brass or Copper pipe, Copper flashings, gutters and downspouts and solid Brass or Bronze hardware and lighting fixtures represent permanent value in building materials. They cannot rust. They give maintenance-free service that means an actual saving.

Paying the slightly higher initial cost of these rust-proof materials adds considerably to both the present and future value of home or skyscraper.

The Building Service Department of the COPPER & BRASS RESEARCH ASSOCIATION, 25 Broadway, New York, will be glad to advise you without charge about the uses and proper application of these metals.

CONFEREES END WORK ON TARIFF

All Differences Reconciled Save Eight Points

Sugar Rate, Debentures and Flexibility Stickers

Battle Goes Back to Floors of Congress Again

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—An agreement between the Senate and House conferees on the tariff bill was reached today, but eight major points of controversy were referred back to the two branches for final determination and a bitter dispute over these is in prospect.

The controversial sugar-rate increase, the export debenture and the modified flexible tariff provision are among the propositions upon which new votes will be necessary before a bill can be sent to the White House.

MAY ASK HOOVER

Republican leaders immediately began conferences seeking to determine whether the House or Senate should be asked to act first on the eight points of difference. There is every indication that President Hoover may be called upon for advice.

While it is customary for the Senate to act in the first instance, Republican chieftains are undecided. Democratic leaders are insisting that inasmuch as the Senate already has voted on the questions in disagreement, the House should be required to take initial action.

OTHER DIFFERENCES

Besides sugar, debenture and flexible differences, the two houses have yet to reach an accord on the cement, lumber, shingles and silver rates, and the Senate's proposed reorganization of the Tariff Commission.

Before adjourning the conferees eliminated the Norris amendment providing for suspension of duties on all commodities dealt in by monopolies, and accepted the House provision to repeal an existing statute limiting cigar shipments by parcel post from Cuba to packages containing 3000 and up.

Postmaster-General Predicts Merchant Marine Growth

Presents Views at National Conference at Capital

Seamen's Union President Registers Complaint

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Reattainment of the American commercial and maritime independence of 100 years ago with American ships carrying substantially all of the nation's commerce is expected soon by Postmaster-General Brown.

In an address before the third national conference on the merchant marine, the Postmaster-General, who is charged with administration of ocean mail provisions of the Jones-White law, said that within a year he believes American shipyards will all be working at capacity and that replacements and additions made necessary by the country's expanding commerce will bring stability and prosperity to the industry.

MANY LEADERS PRESENT

Approximately 300 leaders in the merchant marine were in Washington for the conference called by the Shipping Board with its chairman, T. V. O'Connor, delivering the opening address in which he promised the shippers that with the board no longer operating ships, it will make every effort to co-operate toward a greater merchant marine.

He pointed out that 1879 ships have been disposed of by the board for approximately $380,000,000, with 171 of them sent into American foreign trade. Today only 471 vessels remain to be sold, 217 being in active operation.

Postmaster-General Brown said that under the provisions of the Jones-White law, providing for the award of mail contracts to aid the upbuilding of the merchant marine, fifty-seven vessels of 600,000 gross tons are to be built at a cost of $255,246,000. Award of contracts on four additional routes now under consideration will bring the number of new ships to sixty-four.

FAST LINERS PLANNED

He pointed out that the United States Lines is undertaking to complete by 1935 two $30,000,000 ships of not less than 45,000 gross tons, each with a speed of not less than twenty-eight knots, for service between New York and Southampton.

"These vessels," said the Postmaster-General, "we believe will exceed in speed and size any ships now operating in the trans-Atlantic service.

"Our people must learn to give their patronage to the ships which are subsidized by their own tax dollars," he said. "They should travel under the American flag; they should send their merchandise and their letters on American vessels."

Sharp controversy between ship operators and officials of the International Seamen's Union of America developed today over the efficiency of American seamen.

UNIONIST KICKS UP ROW

After Andrew Furuseth, president of the union, had charged that inefficiency is prevalent on board American ships and that union members are discriminated against, Chairman O'Connor of the Shipping Board rose to a defense of the board and of the ship operators.

"Furuseth keeps charging," Chairman O'Connor said, "that inefficient men are carried on our vessels. As chairman of the Shipping Board I deny it."

He added that no union man ever came to the Seas Service Bureau and was turned away because he was a union man.

Earlier W. J. Peterson, president of the Pacific American Steamship Association, had replied to attacks of the union head and asserted that Furuseth is not representative of the nation's seamen.

The ship operators and builders were warned by Representative Free of California, a Republican member of the House Merchant Marine Committee, that the Jones-White Act is unpopular in Congress at this time. Free urged them to keep faith with Congress.

Trial Charges Flatly Denied by Gov. Kohler

SHEBOYGAN (Wis.) April 23. (AP) A charge that Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin authorized excessive 1928 primary campaign expenditures for which he is on trial was countered today by a flat denial.

In opening arguments of the case, which will decide the millionaire executive's right to continue in office, special State prosecutors charged Gov. Kohler was guilty of violating the State Corrupt Practices Act. Defense lawyers agreed that expenditures in excess of the legal limit of $4000 had been made but insisted they were without Gov. Kohler's knowledge or consent.

PARTY MEMBERS REST ON SHIPBOARD

S. S. LEVIATHAN, April 23. (AP) Running at top speed, the steamship Leviathan tonight is speeding westward through a slightly rolling sea. She is bringing back to the United States Secretaries Stimson and Adams, Ambassador Morrow and Senator Robinson, together with members of the staff of the American delegation to the London naval conference.

All the delegates had luncheon and also dinner in the first-class salon today, but through most of the daylight hours they rested in their cabins. Secretary Stimson came on deck in the afternoon and tramped several miles.

Unlike the departure from New York for England, when the delegates were saluted by Fort Jay and by the sirens of all the ships in the harbor, the sailing from Southampton was so informal as to constitute only the departure of another ship from that busy port.

Similarly, formalities were lacking at Cherbourg. The only official to board the ship was Fred Houck, acting Consul. It was remarked that when Secretary Kellogg sailed from Cherbourg with the text of the pact of Paris, he was given naval honors and a farewell by Ambassador Herrick. There was nothing of that sort today, although the prized possession of Secretary Stimson and his colleagues is a certified copy of the London naval treaty. This was deposited in the ship's safe when the delegation went aboard at Southampton.

MARRIAGE PUTS DIVINE ON TRIAL

Episcopal Pastor Charged With Wedding Catholic

Church Acts to Revoke His Ministerial Vows

Bride Sits by Kentuckian as He Pleads Not Guilty

LEXINGTON (Ky.) April 23. (Exclusive)—Rev. Julius A. Velasco today faced an ecclesiastical court of five ministers of the Lexington diocese of the Episcopal Church here, and with passionate delivery declared, "Love does not wait on religious persuasion, neither does it depend on religious creed."

Mr. Velasco is the rector of the little parish of St. John's Episcopal Church, situated on the street dividing the twin towns of Dayton and Bellevue, Ky. He went on trial today in Christ Church Cathedral parish house, charged with breaking a preordination vow to his bishop that if he married a member of the Roman Catholic Church he would resign his orders.

Originally the charge was that he had broken his promise not to wed a Roman Catholic. Both the original charges and the amended were read to the court by Henry Duncan, Lexington attorney, who with A. E. Stricklett, Covington, Ky., former State Senator, is representing the standing committee of the diocese, which preferred the charges against the minister.

OTHER CHARGES CITED

Other charges that now stand against Mr. Velasco include a charge that in being married to Miss Catherine Rogers of Howard county, Maryland, February 24, last, by a Roman Catholic priest, "in violation of his vows to his charge" he agreed to let his wife bring up any children which might be born of the marriage in the Roman Catholic faith. In addition, the committee charges that Miss Rogers, when he and she went to an Episcopal minister to ask him to marry them, changed her mind and said that to be married by an Episcopal minister was not in accord with her faith.

Mr. Velasco, according to the charges read to the court, also used "defamatory language" in a statement to the press regarding Bishop H. P. Almon-Abbott of this diocese in which he said, "Bishop Abbott has called me a rebellious priest, and since he has done so, I will do my best to be one," and made other statements concerning the bishop's asserted withdrawal of a part of the minister's salary of $2000 a year. It was also charged that when Bishop Abbott called in St. John's parish February 9 Mr. Velasco used "disrespectful and insolent language" and denied him entrance to the parish house without his invitation.

"NOT GUILTY, SUH"

"The standing committee had some knowledge of Mr. Velasco's attachment to a young lady of Roman Catholic faith," said Attorney Stricklett in the prosecution's opening statement, "and saw an impediment to the performance of his duties as a priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

"That is why the committee made the condition in giving its assent to this ordination as a priest, that if he did become wedded to this sweetheart he would thereupon resign his orders."

The "sweetheart," now Mrs. Velasco, 20 years of age, with fair hair, a cupid bow mouth and a tilted nose, sat throughout this and following discourse in the rear of the room, her arms folded, her blue eyes narrowed as she watched the procedure. Occasionally she turned to her husband, who sat beside her before he addressed the court, and smiled. Once he put his arm around her as they bent over a legal paper.

When Rev. Franklin Davis of Danville, Ky., who presided over the court of three elderly and two youthful ministers, asked the accused if he pleaded guilty to the charges, he arose and said in his pronounced southern accent, "Not guilt, suh."

STATEMENT TO COURT

Mr. Velasco, acting as his own attorney, in his opening statement, which lasted almost two hours, said:

"I see no need for any legal counsel. I am no criminal and I am guilty of no misdemeanor. I feel that I have done no wrong."

"My wife may be a Roman Catholic, sirs," he said. "I did not marry her because she was a Roman Catholic, but in spite of it."

"I want to clear up this point," he said later. "In the event that children are born of this marriage, I shall bring them up, not as the Roman Catholic church wishes them brought up, but as my wife wishes them brought up. And I believe that my wife, in recognition of the dignity of my position, will spare me the humiliation of bringing them up Roman Catholics. But I owe her the privilege of deciding. And if she does decide they should be brought up in that faith, I should give up my priesthood.

"I am not responsible for my wife's being a Roman Catholic any more than that I am responsible for my being an Episcopalian. We are not responsible for the faith we are brought up in. And love does not wait on religion."

The trial probably will be concluded tomorrow.

Bay City Board Denies Parole for Sutcliffe

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—The San Francisco Parole Board today denied a parole to Walter J. Sutcliffe, serving a three-year sentence in the County Jail for mutilating a youth he surprised in a hotel room with his wife. The board held Sutcliffe will not be eligible to parole until he has served half the sentence.

Mrs. Pearl Sutcliffe, whose testimony was largely responsible for Sutcliffe's conviction, came here several days ago from Los Angeles to attempt to gain her husband's parole. She stated they had become reconciled.

CAPITAL SCHOOLS SHY AT EDISON CONTEST

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—District of Columbia school children will not compete this year in the Edison scholarship contest. The Board of Education on the recommendation of its superintendent, Dr. Frank W. Ballou, has refused to allow district pupils to try for the scholarship, which last year was widely heralded as looking to the selection of a possible successor in science and invention to Thomas A. Edison. Among the reasons assigned by Dr. Ballou for nonparticipation is the fact that one scholarship is available and that the chances of a district pupil would be remote.

VETERANS' BILL AROUSES FIGHT

House Finance Leader Hits Costs Entailed

Hoover's Plea for Economy Cited by Wood

Expenditure of More Than Billion Foreseen

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The first definite reaction to President Hoover's warning two days ago of an impending deficit in the Treasury was shown in the House today when Chairman Wood of the Appropriations Committee threw the weight of his office against the Johnson bill to grant increased compensation benefits to World War veterans.

Through more than ten hours' general debate on the measure which would provide compensation benefits for every disability incurred between date of enlistment and January 1, 1925, no voice was raised against it until Wood took the floor. The only previous opposition had been based on the contention that the bill should be broadened to include more veterans.

COSTS ESTIMATED

Asserting that the legislation is "full of injustices from beginning to end" and is an opening wedge for the expenditure of "more than $1,000,000,000 a year" for veterans' relief, the Indianan read the letter sent to himself and Chairman Jones of the Senate Finance Committee by President Hoover calling for a reduction in expenditures.

The cost of the veterans' bill was estimated by Wood at a possible $400,000,000 annually.

PRESENT EXPENDITURES

"We are already expending through the Veterans' Bureau an amount equal to the customs receipts of the United States," Wood said. "We are now expending through the Veterans' Bureau an amount equal to one-fourth of all the income of the United States through any instrumentality and if this bill passes I offer now the prediction that with its contents and authorizations necessary to carry it out we shall be expending in less than two years more than $1,000,000,000 through the Veterans' Bureau; as much money, if you please, as it cost to run this entire government before the World War."

Wood inserted in the record a list of projects already authorized by Congress and totaling more than $810,000,000 and explained that pending bills if enacted would swell this sum to $825,000,000.

In addition to this, he added, there is the omnibus, rivers and harbors bill, just reported, calling for more than $100,000,000.

INSURANCE DEATH PLOT CONFESSED

Second Missourian Held in Murder of Salesman Admits He Fired Shots

LINN (Mo.) April 23. (AP)—Casper Tillman was arrested by Sheriff Schmitzler of Osage county today and confessed to participation with Dr. Andrew J. Bass of Columbia, Mo., in the murder of William Pearman, Columbia automobile salesman and in the disposition of the body of Pearman. Tillman is 35 years of age and is married and has five children.

Acting on a tip from Boyle G. Clark, attorney for Dr. Bass, who already has confessed slaying of Pearman in a $200,000 insurance swindle plot, Boone county officers asked for the arrest of Tillman. Dr. Bass yesterday called John R. Duty, Arkansas attorney, to his cell at Bentonville, Ark., and admitted that Tillman assisted him in the killing. Duty notified Clark and Tillman's arrest followed.

Tillman admitted he fired at least two shots into the body of Pearman and that he had agreed to kill Machir J. Dorsey of Hammond, Ind., in a previous insurance plot. The confession was made to George J. Gove, prosecutor, and Sheriff Schmitzler of Osage county in the presence of Boone county officers and Clark.

RATE REGULATION ON GAS LINE ACCEPTABLE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP) The Standard Oil Company of California today informed the State Railroad Commission it is willing to submit to rate regulation by the commission on natural gas conveyed through the joint Standard Oil-Pacific Gas and Electric Company pipe line from the Kettleman Hills, but added it does not propose to dedicate its interest in the line to public service. Hearing on the application to construct and operate the line began before the commission today.

Chinese Tree Farms Raided by Communists

TIEN-TSIN (China) April 23. (AP) Example of the growing influence of Communists in this area was seen here today in raids of men, women and children on the tree-farms of the Kailna Mining Company in the Tongshan coal fields.

The raiders chopped down the trees and carried them off. A local committee of Communists addressed the police and military, calling them comrades and urging them to disobey the orders of their officers, start a revolution and form a soviet. The police were passive toward the culprits.

The mining company had intended using the trees as props in its mine pits.

POTTER PALMERS LEAVE THEIR CASTLE FOR GOOD

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—The last of the Potter Palmers have left the Lake Shore Drive mansion that truly could be called a castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, Jr., moved yesterday—two weeks in advance of the May 1 rush.

Built by Potter Palmer, Sr., in 1885, the brownstone structure that casts the shadows of its towers and turrets on Lake Michigan for half a century has been the show residence of Chicago's Gold Coast and a gathering place for select society.

Victor Bendix, millionaire manufacturer, who purchased the property in 1928, leased it back to the Potter Palmers for annual rental of $100,000. Bendix said a fifty-story hotel, costing $25,000,000, will replace the mansion.

His name was first brought into the inquiry when Larry Potter, a local underworld character, testified at the Coroner's inquest that he had introduced Mitchell to Mrs. Moormeister. Mitchell, according to Potter's story, left for Los Angeles on the morning of February 21, probably twelve hours before the murder was committed.

Since the Coroner's inquest it was discovered that Mrs. Moormeister had an appointment with Mitchell on the afternoon of the murder, or some hours after he checked out of the local hotel. This was discovered through a notation in a book found among Mrs. Moormeister's effects some days ago.

This telltale notebook contained notations of other appointments Mrs. Moormeister had on the last day of her life, appointments with her dressmakers, manicure, hairdresser and others, including an engagement with a friend in the offices of the Universal Pictures Corporation on East First South street.

E. O. Heinrich, California criminologist, now directing a scientific examination of the Moormeister murder mystery, and Chief Deputy Sheriff Larsen attached great significance to Mrs. Moormeister's apparent intention to see Mitchell on the day that closed with her murder.

ALIASES DISCLOSED

Sheriff Patten, making an investigation of Mitchell in Los Angeles and San Francisco, has been unable to locate him, but has information to the effect that he is a racketeer who has gone under a number of aliases.

According to the Los Angeles police he has gone under the aliases of Hiram Paul Mitchell, Harry P. Mitchell and six others. The Los Angeles police record shows that he was arrested as a robbery suspect in 1924; for possession of liquor and still apparatus in April, 1925; for suspicion of murder in November, 1925, and held in jail until February of 1926 when the case against him was dismissed.

In November, 1926, Mitchell was arrested at San Francisco for vagrancy and disturbing the peace and a few days later was charged with assault to commit robbery.

During the investigation conducted by Heinrich in Salt Lake a number of important bits of evidence have seemed to depend upon evidence which might be supplied only by Mitchell.

An effort is being made to obtain a statement from a mystery woman who is known to have been with Mrs. Moormeister during the evening of the murder and Chief Deputy Larsen hopes to have this phase of the case cleared in a few days.

HOMES TO HEAR AERIAL BATTLE

Golden Gate Maneuvers to be Told from Air

Observers in Midst of Fight to Broadcast Event

Wondrous Progress of Radio Shown by Feat

BY MAJ. C. C. MOSELEY

Formerly pilot Twenty-seventh Squadron, First Pursuit Group, A.E.F., now vice-president and western manager Curtiss-Wright Flying Service.

SACRAMENTO, April 23. (Exclusive)—Radio, one of the most potent factors ever introduced into warfare, promises to contribute widely to the success or failure of great future conflicts. Aside from its immeasurable value in military communication, it is highly probable that radio will introduce directly into the homes of a nation all the grim drama, stark realism and sanguinary struggle of the modern battlefront.

At least there are no technical difficulties to prevent, although the advisability of such a policy is debatable, of course. However, as earnest of what the future may hold in this direction, tune in tomorrow on the imaginary battle to be staged over San Francisco and the Golden Gate by 135 airplanes of the Provisional Wing, Army Air Corps, as the concluding phase of spring training exercises.

BATTLE BY ROUNDS

Through a nation-wide network of Columbia and National broadcasting systems, Herbert Hoover, Jr.; Jennings Pierce, Jack Keogh and other famous announcers will describe the battle maneuvers from earth and air just as they might do some terrible day in actual warfare.

Although still highly experimental, the scientific accomplishment of executing verbal orders to pursuit planes traveling at speeds of three miles a minute, holding two-way conversations from both ground and plane with huge Condor bombers rumbling along at 125 miles an hour and receiving verbal reports from observation ships miles distant has been of daily occurrence here the past month.

This is indeed a long step forward from the time when pilots dropped messages in tubes and received instructions by means of panels placed on the ground in maneuvering large formations in the air. Radio is now considered an invaluable supplement to signals of squadron commanders and probably before long will supersede other methods entirely.

Bombing units now keep in instant touch with protecting planes and may summon them to rescue from higher unseen altitudes when suddenly set upon by superior forces.

Even more important is the development of telephoto equipment for the transmission of radio maps and drawings from the air. Suppose, as in the army test conducted yesterday, two enemy submarines lurked outside the Golden Gate submerged. They are waiting for a chance to slip into the harbor under cover of darkness and destroy shipping or the United States battle fleet riding at anchor.

SPOTTING THE ENEMY

An aerial observer, spotting the underseas craft, makes a drawing, plots their exact position and transmits the sketch in detail to headquarters within five minutes. Fifteen minutes later a bomber will take off, fly out over the spot and quickly remove this menace.

Again, artillerymen firing at distant objectives could have the fall of shell charted and returned to them from an observation plane between rounds showing exactly how far in error the projectile had fallen.

And if line drawings and words can be transmitted today, it will be but a short time before actual photographs likewise may be laid down on the general's table to mark the tide of battle.

ROBOT-GUIDED PLANE WILL FLY TO SEA

SACRAMENTO, April 23. (AP)—An army bombardment plane capable of carrying 4000 pounds of bombs and guided alone by a mechanical pilot is to fly 100 miles out to sea from the Golden Gate tomorrow and theoretically sink the steamer Silver Oak of the General Steamship Line, bound from Java to San Francisco.

Army officials here declared today this is the first time a heavy bombardment airplane has ventured so far from land. They said the flight will be made to demonstrate the long cruising range and heavy striking power of this type of plane, also the effectiveness of the automatic pilot.

The bomber is to fly to San Francisco from Mather Field with the rest of the provisional wing and detach itself from formation when the other planes open their offensive against the "enemy" fleet attempting to enter the Golden Gate.

Lieut. Harold Beaton is to be the control pilot of the mission. Accompanying him will be Elmer A. Sperry, Jr., inventor of the automatic pilot; H. J. Adamson, assistant to F. Trubee Davison, assistant Secretary of War, and Sergt. Charles Budoff, radio operator.

The plane will be in constant communication with the Army Air Corps' ground radio station at Crissy Field. On locating the Silver Oak, the plane will circle overhead, drop a parachute flare, simulating bomb discharge, and fly back to Crissy Field, and thence on to its Mather Field base.

GOV. KOHLER TESTIFIES IN COURT FIGHT

Wisconsin Executive, on Stand, Denies Authorizing Heavy Primary Outlay

SHEBOYGAN (Wis.) April 23. (AP) Accused of spending more than $100,000 in his successful 1928 campaign, Walter J. Kohler, Wisconsin's millionaire Governor, took the stand today to corroborate contentions that he did not authorize excessive expenditures.

Four leaders of the "progressive" faction of the Republican party, headed by Phil La Follette, seek to oust the Governor from office on the grounds that he spent more than the legal $4000 in his campaign.

Gov. Kohler testified he did not seek the nomination until asked to run by Mrs. Harry Thomas, National Republican Committeewoman from Wisconsin. "Until I became a candidate, I was considered a pretty decent citizen," he said.

Answering charges that he invited thousands of voters to his "model" manufacturing city at Kohler, Wis., for the purpose of influencing their votes, he said:

"I invited no one personally from any other purposes than to show them the village of Kohler, how the men work there and under what conditions they live. I wanted to show them my life work."

Later the Governor admitted he might have thought "if they consider me a good citizen, they might vote for me."

British Colony in Rome Honors Dragon-Slayer

ROME, April 23. (AP)—The feast of St. George, the dragon-slayer, martyr and patron of England, was celebrated fittingly today by the British colony in Rome, and in all the churches serving the English Catholic community.

Special interest was attached to the services at San Giorgio in Velbaro, where part of the warrior-saint's banner was exposed, as well as a reliquary containing his skull. High mass was sung in the Church of St. George and the English Martyrs, situated just under the slope of the Pincian Hill, attended by the Seminarians of the English and the venerable Bebe colleges, the "gray nuns," and Anglo-Saxon members of other religious congregations.

Four Burned to Death in Crash on Rail Crossing

CANBY (Or.) April 23. (AP)—Four persons, three adults and one child, were killed and two others were burned seriously late today on the Pacific Highway near Canby when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a Southern Pacific switch engine.

Those killed were Herman Anthony, J. W. Evans and his wife and their daughter, Irene Evans, 8 years of age, all of New Era.

Flames caused by ignition of the automobile's gasoline tank consumed the car before the bodies could be recovered.

Official Found Slain in Ruins

PORT ALBERNI (B. C.) April 23. (AP)—Shot in the back of the head, the body of City Clerk Martin M. Stephens was found in the vault of the ruins of the City Hall, which was burned here today between 5 and 6 a.m.

Stephens left his home about 4 a.m., after telling his wife that he saw two men loitering around the hall.

Officials investigating the shooting and blaze say they believe the City Clerk entered the hall, found the safe open and was shot from behind as he entered to investigate.

AIR CIRCUS SATURDAY

Demonstration at United Airport by 142 Planes; City to be "Bombed" Friday Night

Exactly what the 200,000 persons who are expected to witness the army air demonstration at United Airport, Burbank, next Saturday may expect from the army brood's bag of air tricks was detailed last night on arrival here from Sacramento by Maj. H. H. Arnold, representative of Brig.-Gen. William E. Gillmore, commanding officer of the Air Corps.

In the first place the horde of 142 combat planes—pursuit, attack, bombing and observation—will serve notice on Los Angeles of Saturday's mimic warfare by sending five giant bombers of 1200 horsepower ahead tomorrow to simulate a bombing attack on the city proper.

PREPARE "BOMBS"

These leviathans of the air, capable of carrying 4000 pounds of bombs and five men at 131 miles an hour, are scheduled to land at United Airport at 1 p.m. Then their crews will prepare the 300,000 candlepower flares that they will drop instead of bombs, await darkness and take to the air at 8:30 p.m. on their supposedly destructive mission. Three lighted observation "fireflies" will precede the bombers by half an hour.

Meanwhile the other planes of the Provisional Wing, now completing three weeks of annual war maneuvers at Sacramento, will have landed at March Field, Riverside, to spend the night before proceeding to Burbank Saturday morning.

The vanguard of the main group will settle down at 9 a.m. Saturday, with the rest of the ships scheduled to be in by 11 a.m.

FIREWORKS START

Following lunch for the 173 officers and 113 enlisted men, the drove of planes will start taking off in group formations at 2 p.m. for the high spot of the local show. It will take the ships half an hour to clear the field and fall into tight formation for review.

Then in quick succession will come:

Pursuit, bombardment and attack groups demonstrating battle formations.

Pursuit group simulating attacks on bombardment group.

Pursuit squadron simulating attacks on attack group.

THRILLS FOR PUBLIC

Individual air acrobatics—rolls, Immelmann turns, loops, spins and power dives—by two pursuit ships.

Balloon bursting—diving at toy balloons from high altitudes—by two pursuit ships.

Smoke screen by one pursuit ship.

Smoke curtain by one bomber.

All planes are scheduled to be back on the ground again at 4 p.m. and the show will be over. For the spectators, that is, but the flyers, pick of the Army Air Corps, will be entertained at a round of evening events in Hollywood and Los Angeles.

LONG BEACH STOP

They will take off Sunday at 2:30 p.m. for Rockwell Field, San Diego. Twelve of the ships will stop at Long Beach for a short time on their way to give beach residents who do not witness the Burbank demonstration a chance to inspect the various types of winged fighters. The groups will leave San Diego Monday for their home bases—located in practically every district in the country.

Two pursuit, one attack and one bombing plane will arrive at United at noon tomorrow to be placed on display for visitors. Scaffolds will be constructed around these to facilitate close inspection.

The local demonstration will be free. Ample parking-space for thousands of automobiles has been arranged surrounding the 240-acre airport—on Hollywood Way near San Fernando Boulevard, a forty-five-minute drive from Los Angeles.

French Tariff Arouses Italy

ROME, April 23. (Exclusive)—Considerable ruction was caused in Italian industrial circles today when it was discovered that the boosted duties on automobiles imported into France will apply to Italian as well as American cars. The duties are raised from 25 to 60 per cent.

Manufacturers here are indignant at the new French duties, which may result in retaliatory rates here against French cars.

Officer Slain Following Raid

COOKEVILLE (Tenn.) April 23. (AP)—A deputy sheriff was shot to death and another was seriously wounded last night as a party of officers returning from raiding a liquor distillery was fired upon by unidentified men in an automobile.

Deputy Orville Moss, 45 years of age, died within an hour after he was shot, and Deputy Sheriff Beal Warren, 31, is in a critical condition. One man was arrested.

HONOR REFUSED BY MRS. NORRIS

She Passes Up Presidency of Penwomen Chance

Authoress Favors Election of Friend, Mrs. Seton

Fight on Her Disarmament Stand Causes Action

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—On the eve of an election in which she had been announced as uncontested candidate Kathleen Norris, novelist, today withdrew her name for the presidency of the National League of American Penwomen because of circulation among delegates of an anonymous attack on Mrs. Norris's views favoring disarmament.

Mrs. Norris withdrew in favor of the friend who was to have nominated her, Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton.

LED FIGHT FOR FRIEND

"I am accepting," said Mrs. Seton, who led the fight for the amendment of the by-laws which would have permitted Mrs. Norris, a Californian, to serve without changing her residence to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, former President-General of the Daughters of the American Revolution, said she is not a candidate. Mrs. Brosseau's friends continued to insist, however, that they intended to swing the election to her if possible.

They contended that Mrs. Brosseau, a resident of Washington and a strong advocate of the "anti-foreign entanglement" and national defense resolutions passed by the D.A.R. last week, would better express their patriotic views and could better build the contemplated clubhouse for the penwomen than an "absentee" president.

ISSUE STATED

Mrs. Norris, who laughingly called herself "a dry, a Catholic and a pacifist" at the opening breakfast in her honor Monday, put the issue squarely in her letter of withdrawal.

She said she had thought of the penwomen as "only a literary group, unaffected by politics, religion or personal international ideas," but that she had come to realize this is "not so" and that her "acceptance of this office" would "force me to defend creed and conviction." She said the argument of the minority against her as an "absentee" president was well taken.

MOTION-PICTURE CODE ACCEPTED BY NATION

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 23. (Exclusive)—Evidence of overwhelming sentiment throughout the country in support of the recently adopted production code of the motion-picture industry has been matched by indorsement from all branches of activity within the industry, Carl E. Milliken, former Governor of Maine and now secretary of Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., declared before the League of American Penwomen here tonight.

"The cry of a few professional liberals that the code will inhibit art," Mr. Milliken said, "could have come only from men who talk about art instead of creating it. Conscious care and self-discipline on the part of the artist have never done anything to art but increase its virility. Death to art comes through the hatchet, the scissors or the blue pencil applied from outside.

TAKE JOHN MILTON

"John Milton, the historic Anglo-Saxon apostle of freedom of expression, won the right for himself and all who followed him to write what the mind of the artist willed. Then his own standards of the high purpose of art led him to turn out a product as notable for wholesomeness as for beauty. If that self-discipline killed the art of Milton a lot of people have been fooled. The most restricted art form in the world is the English sonnet. Poetic genius, working within those restrictions, self-applied, has achieved the finest efforts of the language.

"There is always a neurotic fringe, sitting enviously outside the circle where art is produced, which confuses art and lack of standards. The American people have no patience with such tenets and the artist finds them laughable.

NO DOMINATION

"In the words of Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, the screen intends to keep itself free from domination by professional moralists and professional immoralists.

"Ninety per cent of the newspaper editorial comment of the country has been in commendation of the adoption of the new code. On the Coast, under the auspices of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, group meetings of directors, artists and writers are being held for discussion of the principles of the code and agreement as to uniform interpretation. The enthusiasm there has been unanimous for this commonly acceptable and commonly understandable guide adopted by and for the makers of pictures."

Couple Found Shot to Death

WORCESTER (Mass.) April 23. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Montville, 31 years of age, and Fabian Spitalonis, 39, a boarder in the Montville home, were shot to death some time last night and the police are working on the theory that it was a double murder.

Raymond Montville, husband of the woman, reported that when he reached home from his work in a steel mill he found the bodies of the couple lying on the bed with a revolver on Mrs. Montville's breast.

ERLANGER WILL CASE JURY TRIAL DENIED

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—A trial by jury was denied today by Surrogate Foley in the contest of Charlotte Erlanger of the will of A. L. Erlanger, late theatrical magnate. Mrs. Erlanger claims she was Erlanger's common-law wife. Surrogate Foley also ordered Max D. Steuer, attorney for Charlotte Erlanger, to furnish attorneys for the Erlanger estate with a bill of particulars concerning the asserted marriage. The surrogate appointed Saul A. Baron, temporary administrator of the estate.

HEALTH OF SPANISH PRINCE IMPROVING

MADRID, April 23. (AP)—The Prince of Asturias, 22-year-old heir to the Spanish throne, who has suffered since childhood from hemophilia or tendency to bleed excessively from the slightest injury, now has hopes of recovery. Two eminent Spanish physicians have the Prince under treatment and are said to have obtained encouraging results from recent dietary experiments. Hemophilia is a hereditary condition which has existed in several of the European royal families. The murdered Russian Czarevitch suffered from the same malady.

CHINA'S FAMINE HORRORS TOLD

Pastor Says 2,000,000 Dead in Shensi Province

He Reports Wheat Selling for $5 Per Bushel There

Lack of Planting Expected to Increase Suffering

[Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, April 23. (Exclusive) Rev. F. S. Russell, a member of the English Baptist mission who has been stationed for seventeen years in the Province of Shensi, arrived at Shanghai today for the purpose of conferring with famine relief officials. He said that wheat is now selling in the city of Sianfu, capital of Shensi Province, for more than $5 a bushel, with millet and corn proportionally high.

He said that due to the lack of seed only about one-fifth of the available farm land had been seeded this spring and despite the expenditure of approximately $350,000 through Chinese agencies and $150,000 through foreign agencies for relief measures that about 2,000,000 of Shensi's previous population of 6,000,000 had starved to death.

In reference to the relief agencies he said that the foreigners now operate a dozen refugee stations and the Chinese relief embodies about fifteen stations, but that it is practically impossible to cope with the situation.

Recent rains, he said, had brought some relief but owing to the fact that the Province is denuded of grain and the spring crop, due to the lightly cultivated acreage, is not likely to last until the fall crop is available.

Boy Electrocuted in Garage Fall

DENVER, April 23. (AP)—Fred Dodge, 17 years of age, was electrocuted late yesterday in an attempt to retrieve a toy glider. The youth, a Denver high school student, fell from a garage roof across some electric lines, his feet entangling in a chicken wire netting which resulted in the death circuit.

Firemen worked more than an hour trying to revive him.

LEWD PEN SNARES WOMAN

W.C.T.U. Official Indicted After Admitting She Wrote Hundreds of Obscene Letters

SPOKANE (Wash.) April 23. (AP)—A woman temperance worker who signed a confession that she wrote hundreds of indecent letters and caused two innocent men to be charged with the crime was indicted today by a Federal grand jury for sending obscene matter through the mails.

Miss Lette Jourdan, secretary of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union here, went before the last grand jury and swore that Arthur and James Rainey, father and son, sent her indecent letters. They were indicted and were released only recently when she signed the purported confession.

This document related that she sent several "poison pen" letters of a threatening nature to officers and private individuals as a joke. The ladies' aid society to which she belonged was selling vanilla extract to help the church. Rainey would not permit his wife to sell the extract, so Miss Jourdan said she began sending him letters and writing other letters which purported to incriminate him and his son.

Then, she continued, she "couldn't stop" writing obscene letters, and they were sent out for two years. Each time she "received" a letter she conferred with Sheriff Brower about it, the Sheriff said.

Miss Jourdan stated she "liked to talk with the Sheriff" about the letters.

'Kidnaped' Wife Says She Eloped

OAKLAND, April 23. (AP)—Denying she had been kidnaped and saying she had eloped with Thomas Barclay, 43 years of age, "because I wanted to and because I care for him," Mrs. Edna Uzell started back tonight to Fort Collins, Colo., where her husband and 7-year-old daughter, Maxine, await her.

Meanwhile Barclay, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and British army World War veteran, is being held in the County Jail here on a charge of kidnaping, awaiting the arrival of a warrant from Colorado. He was arrested Tuesday.

BOMBING CASE GAINS REVIEW

Supreme Court Will Weigh Billings's Pardon Plea

Prisoner Linked to Mooney in Bay City Outrage

Previous Conviction Bars Action by Governor

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Chief Justice Waste announced today that the State Supreme Court has concluded its examination of the entire record of Warren K. Billings's appeal for a pardon. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney have served fourteen years in prison for a crime they say they did not commit, the 1916 preparedness-day bomb outrage in San Francisco.

"The court will soon decide," Judge Waste said, "how far it may go in an independent investigation. Many affidavits were filed with the court and we will next decide whether we may examine witnesses and make other inquiries into the correctness of these affidavits relating to matters that have occurred since Billings was convicted."

Under the law, having been convicted of a previous offense, before Billings can be pardoned by the Governor, the Supreme Court must recommend such action to the chief executive. Mooney's application for pardon is before the Governor, who has asked the State pardon board for a recommendation.

. . . and COLONEL LINDBERGH establishes the newest Transcontinental Record with RICHFIELD

AT EXACTLY eleven minutes, fifty two seconds past 11 P.M. Easter Sunday, a speeding Lockheed Sirius plane powered with a Pratt & Whitney Wasp motor, piloted by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh with Mrs. Lindbergh acting as co-pilot, appeared over Roosevelt Field, Long Island, circled the field three times, touched the ground in a perfect three-point landing and another Transcontinental record had been made with Richfield.

Colonel Lindbergh, Technical Advisor of the T.A.T.-Maddux Lines, made this flight to test the possibilities of using higher altitudes for air transport.

Lindbergh took off in the early dawn Sunday, his plane carrying 446 gallons of Richfield gasoline in the tanks. He followed the "great circle" route, flying at altitudes ranging from 10,000 to 15,000 feet . . . streaking through the sky at an average speed of more than 175 miles per hour.

Richfield joins with the nation in saluting the "Flying Colonel" and Mrs. Lindbergh. Once again Lindbergh demonstrates the superb courage and flying skill that made possible his history-making flight across the Atlantic.

EDISON UTILITY PROFITS HIGHER

Operating Statement Issued for First Quarter

Net at $4,085,186 Up on 1929 Period $180,165

Increase in Gross Revenues Set at 8 Per Cent

Recording an increase in gross business of 8 per cent, revenues and net earnings of the Southern California Edison Company for the first quarter of the current year ran b per cent higher than in the first three months of 1929, it was revealed yesterday in the operating statement issued by R. H. Ballard, president.

Net income after all charges excepting depreciation, aggregated $4,085,186 for the quarter ended March 31, last. This compares with $3,905,021 for the same period last year and represents an increase of $180,165, or 5 per cent.

OUTPUT GAINS

During the period the company sold 580,141,975 kilowatt hours of electric energy, which is an increase of 8 per cent over the first quarter of 1929.

Gross revenues for the period aggregated $9,433,368, as against $8,959,349 last year, a gain of $474,019, or 5 per cent. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes increased $210,854, or more than 6 per cent, from $3,435,648 in the 1929 period to $3,646,302 for the three months' period just closed.

This left a balance as net operating income before interest charges of $5,787,066, which compares with $5,523,701 for the same period last year and represents an increase of $263,365, or 5 per cent.

MARCH NET OFF

While gross revenues for the month of March were slightly higher than in March, 1929, the net income after all charges except depreciation decreased $66,344, or about 5 per cent, from $1,280,583 last year to $1,214,239 for the month just ended.

Gross revenues in the month aggregated $2,989,407, against $2,972,704 last year, an increase of $16,703, or 5 per cent. On the other hand, operating expenses, including maintenance and taxes, increased $42,158 to $1,202,767.

The balance as net operating income before interest amounted to $1,786,640. This compares with $1,812,095 reported in March last year and represents a decrease of $25,454.82, or 1.5 per cent.

Earnings for both the quarter period and for the month of March this year were derived from lower rates for electric energy than last year, the statement points out. The rate reduction went into effect during the latter part of 1929.

Net Profits of Sun Realty Off

Sun Realty Company reported yesterday net profits for 1929 of $434,902, after all charges, equal after preferred dividends, to 26 cents a share on 1,400,000 common shares, against $611,246, or 38 cents a share in the preceding year, a decrease of $176,344, or about 29 per cent.

In 1928 the company reported other income at $601,000, as against other income for 1929 of $80,000. The net income from rentals was $1,422,294 in 1929, against $1,378,608 in 1928, and net operating profits totaled $1,291,696, against $1,218,431. Deferred charges written off in 1929 amounted to $6568, against deferred charges of $431,259 in 1928.

PROFITS OF GAS UTILITY OFF IN YEAR

Report for Year Shows Los Angeles Company's Net 6 Per Cent Lower

Net earnings of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation for the twelve months closed March 31, last, amounted to $5,258,122.09 after all charges including depreciation, amortization and taxes, equivalent to $37.01 a share on the largest amount of preferred stock outstanding during the period, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

This compares with $5,579,490.42 reported earned in the corresponding twelve months a year ago and represents a decrease of $321,368.33, or nearly 6 per cent.

After providing for dividends on the preferred stock there was a balance available for the common stock of $4,090,366.09. All of the common stock is owned by Pacific Lighting Corporation.

Gross earnings for the twelve months aggregated $23,660,250.11, as against $22,281,615.14 a year ago, an increase of $378,634.97. Operating expenses, including taxes, increased $475,439.37 to $12,769,566.86.

The balance as net operating income before interest charges amounted to $2,482,427.53, as against $2,456,877.95 a year ago, a decrease of $96,804.40. Interest charges increased $25,549.58 to $2,482,427.53 and depreciation and amortization charges of $3,150,133.63 were $199,014.35 higher.

Peerless Motor Profits Higher

CLEVELAND, April 23. (Exclusive)—Peerless Motor Car Corporation for the quarter ended March 31, last, today reported net profits of $93,486, after charges, including depreciation, equal to 36 cents a share on 258,589 common shares, as against $23,533, or 9 cents a share for the similar period last year. Since the end of its fiscal year, September 30, last, net profits of $145,499 have been shown.

The improved showing is indicative of the benefits being derived from the installation of entirely new production facilities and increased distributory organization, J. A. Bohannon, president, said.

AUTO-LITE NET DROPS

TOLEDO, April 23. (Exclusive)—Electric Auto-Lite Company reported today for the March quarter consolidated net income of $1,930,504 before taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $2 a share on 926,228 common shares as against $3,399,084 before Federal taxes in the 1929 quarter, or $3.74 a share on common.

CIGAR EARNINGS OFF

NEW YORK, April 23. (Exclusive) Congress Cigar Company for the quarter ended March 31, last, today reported net income of $267,-256, after all charges and taxes, equal to 76 cents a share on 350,000 capital shares, as against $456,293, or $1.30 a share in the 1929 quarter.

LOCAL INDUSTRY UNIT IN MERGER

Union of Diamond Electrical and Square D Concern Completed

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Merger of Square D Company, Detroit, and the Diamond Electrical Manufacturing Company, Los Angeles, was completed today. An initial dividend of 50 cents a share quarterly, payable in cash, and of 2 per cent semi-annually in stock was declared on Square D "B," which has not previously been on a dividend-paying basis. Payment will be made June 30, next, to shareholders of record June 20.

Officials of the Diamond Electrical Manufacturing Company yesterday stated the terms of exchange were the same as published in The Times the 23rd inst. and that sufficient Diamond Electrical stockholders had signified acceptance to make the deal effective.

BRIGHT AIR FUTURE PAINTED

Publishing House's Survey Predicts 1,000,000 Private Planes in Fifteen Years; Industry Sound

BY EARLE E. CROWE

New vistas for aviation are conjured up in a survey just completed by the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia. Vast fleets of privately owned planes; supremacy of the air transport in travel of more than 100 miles in distance, and virtual monopoly of the carriage of mail and package goods are visualized as likely developments in the early future.

At least 1,000,000 privately owned airplanes will be operating in the United States within fifteen years. This encouraging prophecy is made by the author of the survey, Charles Coolidge Parlin. This prospect, which gives airplane manufacturers something tangible at which to aim, excludes from consideration commercial and military planes. In 1929, he points out in contrast, only 6034 planes were produced in the United States.

For the air transport companies Mr. Parlin offers this heartening and attractive prediction:

EXPRESS TO LEAD

"It seems to us likely," he writes, "that ultimately all first-class mail will be carried by airplane wherever an airplane can speed delivery; that a majority of 'Pullman' day travel for distances in excess of 100 miles will be by air; that air package transport may exceed first-class mail and passengers combined."

Before these developments will come about, the survey declares that aviation companies must concentrate on the building of volume to sustain the large investment required in airports, lighting, radio, factories, schools; etc. Small volume, it is pointed out, means high prices; and high prices mean small volume.

The remedy, in the opinion of Mr. Parlin, is to stabilize prices on a basis comparable with first-class rail rates, and develop consumer patronage by advertising. The argument against reducing prices is that money is being lost at present rates. The answer, he says, is that if money must be lost, it had better be lost carrying people and thus building a market for the future.

"Nothing is so deadly to any method of travel," he comments, "as apparent lack of patronage; to develop its market aviation must first overcome the public's inherited fear of the air."

TEN TO SURVIVE

While the industry is working to its goal so invitingly outlined, the Curtis expert predicts that competitors will experience a high mortality rate in reflection of the trend toward concentration. Confidence in sturdiness of manufacture he lists as a compelling factor, while style variations will be less effective in winning markets than in the automobile industry.

"It seems to fis probable," he states, "that in ten years fewer than twenty makes of planes produced by less than ten companies will produce more than 90 per cent of the volume."

For those companies that expect to be among the survivors, this reassuring comment is offered:

"The aviation industry is sound, for the idea of flying is sound and the industry is manned with a young and enthusiastic personnel. A great industry is in the making. It needs time, it needs financial backing and it needs to attract more men of seasoned business and sales experience."

Natural Gas Line Project on Way

CHICAGO, April 23. (Exclusive)—A $2,000,000 natural gas pipe line construction program has been inaugurated by Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company to serve new markets in Kentucky and Indiana, Frank P. Parish, president, announced today.

Three gas mains have been put across the Ohio River to serve Cannelton, Tell City, Troy and Rockport, Ind., where Missouri-Kansas holds franchises. Whitesville and Hawesville, Ky., will be supplied from the same line, which taps extensive gas fields in Ohio, Daviess and Hancock counties, Kentucky.

Packard Motor Tells Earnings

DETROIT, April 23. (Exclusive)—Packard Motor Car Company today reported for the quarter ended March 31, last, net earnings of $2,654,247 after all charges, and after having set aside reserves of $618,-250 for contingencies.

These earnings are equal to 18 cents a share on 15,000,000 capital shares and compare with $7,114,000 or 47 cents a share in the same period last year.

ALBERS RESIGNS AS KROGER DIRECTOR

CINCINNATI, April 23. (Exclusive)—W. H. Albers has resigned as a director of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company. The vacancy thus created in the office of chairman of the board will not be filled. Col. C. O. Sherrill was elected a vice-president succeeding A. Nagel, resigned. In a letter to stockholders the company announced the 1929 financial statement was corrected by a reduction in earnings previously reported for 1929 of $458,692, a reduction in earned surplus as of January 1, 1929, of $760,-000 and the establishment of a contingent reserve of $500,000 to cover further discrepancies or inaccuracies.

EASTERN RAIL BOND ISSUE QUICKLY SOLD

CORN PRODUCTS REFINING

This company is the leading organization, in the manufacture of starch, glucose, corn oil and syrups. Some of the best known of the trademarked products are "Karo" syrup, "Argo" starch and "Mazola" oil which are made in the plants located at Chicago, North Kansas City, and Edgewater, N. J.

A controlling interest in the New England Grain Products Company was acquired in April, 1929, giving the company control of eighteen grain companies distributing dairy and poultry feeds in New England and Northern New York State.

Net income for 1929 increased 22 per cent, amounting to $15,647,587, or $5.49 per share on the common stock, compared with $12,745,539, or $4.35 per share in 1928. An exceptionally strong balance sheet position was revealed in the December 31 statement, showing current assets of $62,480,873, including $32,000,000 in marketable securities against current liabilities of only $6,950,231.

Easter Sales in Local Area Gain

Easter sales of retailers in the novelty and confectionery lines of Los Angeles district were beyond expectations, according to the weekly summary of Bradstreet's issued yesterday. Clothing retailers state sales were but fair and not up to the volume of a year ago and business in most lines was below a year ago.

Figures for the first four months show stocks are now lower and wholesalers expect that during the month of May that there should be an increase in immediate sales. Retailers are buying cautiously expecting a decrease in prices, the summary stated.

Net of Utility Holding Unit Up

NEW YORK, April 23. (Exclusive) Commonwealth and Southern Corporation for the three months ended March 31, last, today reported net earnings of $19,060,953 as against $19,036,359 a year ago. For the twelve months ended March 31, last, net earnings were $75,430,775 as against $70,907,080 in the previous twelve months.

Earnings for the twelve months to March 31, last, applicable to dividends after provision for retirement reserve amounted to $24,316,640, equal to 72 cents a share on the 34,-007,622 common shares outstanding at the end of the period after giving effect to mergers recently consummated. Earnings of additional subsidiaries acquired thereby are included only for the months of February and March, 1930.

RATE ON NATIONAL BISCUIT STOCK SET

NEW YORK, April 23. (Exclusive) Directors of National Biscuit Company have declared an initial quarterly dividend of 70 cents a share on the new common stock, payable July 15 to stock of record June 20, placing the issue on an annual basis of $2.80, equal to $7 paid regularly on the old common prior to the 2½-for-1 split-up. March quarter net profits were $4,685,616 after charges and taxes, equal after preferred dividends to 70 cents a share on 6,000,000 common shares as against $4,709,455, or 71 cents a share on the same basis in the 1929 quarter.

GASOLINE COMPANY EARNINGS POINT UP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (Exclusive)—Forrest E. Gilmore Company reported today gross profits for the quarter ended March 31, last, of $58,293 after general and administrative expenses but before bond interest and other charges. This compares with $82,876 for the corresponding quarter in 1929 before the same charges. The total sales for the period amounted to $265,479, an increase of 38.92 per cent over the $191,103 reported for the 1929 quarter.

STANDARD OIL TO BUY GASOLINE

California Company Posts Cargo Lot Price

Offers 6 1-2 Cents Per Gallon at Local Port

New Policy Aimed to Remove Distress Supplies

Inaugurating a new policy described as an innovation in the oil industry, Standard Oil Company of California yesterday announced an offer to purchase United States motor gasoline in cargo lots, delivered to ship's rail, Los Angeles Harbor, at 6 1-2 cents per gallon.

This price is for delivery within thirty days and may be advanced or reduced as market conditions may warrant, and is subject to change without notice. Prices for higher grades of gasoline in similar quantities at the same point of delivery will be quoted upon application by the seller.

In making the announcement the Standard Oil Company issued the following statement:

"The Standard Oil Company of California today announced the establishment of a posted price at which it offers to purchase gasoline in cargo lots at Los Angeles Harbor. Posting a price for the purchase of gasoline is a new policy and an innovation in the oil industry.

"For many years the Standard Oil Company has posted the prices it offers for crude oil at the well in the oil fields, but the wholesale gasoline market has never, in California nor elsewhere, had the benefit of a published purchase price.

"In the past distress gasoline has from time to time been sold at prices actually below the cost of replacement. It is believed that the existence of such a price will be of considerable importance in establishing essential values and in maintaining an orderly market condition."

Net Profits of Western Dairy Products Mount

Consolidated net profits of the Western Dairy Products Company and subsidiaries amounted to $65,-112 for the quarter closed March 31, last, after all charges including Federal income-tax reserve, equivalent to 49 cents a share on 131,313 Class A shares outstanding, S. H. Berch, president, announced yesterday.

This compares with $43,581 reported earned in the same period last year equal to 33 cents a share on the same share basis, and represents an increase of $21,531 or nearly 50 per cent. Net profits for the full year 1929 amounted to $1,104,-400.

Net sales for the quarter continued the advance made during 1929, the record year, and aggregated $5,754,697.58, a considerable gain over the same period last year, Mr. Berch stated. Cost of goods sold was $5,440,417.70, including administrative, sales and delivery expense, which reflects a steady improvement over last year's operating ratio, he said.

Gulf Steel Net Earnings Drop

NEW YORK, April 23. (Exclusive)—Gulf States Steel Company in its March quarter report issued today showed net income of $94,-902 after interest, depreciation and taxes, equal after 7 per cent cumulative first preferred dividends to 30 cents a share on 197,500 common shares as against $354,255, or $1.62 a share on the common in the 1929 quarter.

The decrease in earnings was caused largely by interruptions in regular operations due to the installation of a new enlarged blooming mill and other important construction work, the company stated.

SWANEY ON STAFF OF BOWES COMPANY

Appointment of John Swaney as sales manager of the Southern California territory for Bowes Brothers & Co., investment house, was announced yesterday by Texas E. Schramm, resident manager of the Los Angeles office. Mr. Swaney was formerly sales manager of Drake, Riley & Thomas, which post he left to accept the new connection.

CHEMICAL CONCERN REPORTS EARNINGS

NEW YORK, April 23. (Exclusive)—Commercial Solvents Corporation reported today consolidated net income including the Commercial Pigments Corporation of $750,492 for the quarter ended March 31, last, after all charges and taxes, equal to 30 cents a share, as against $857,729, or 35 cents a share in the preceding quarter and $844,355, exclusive of Commercial Pigments Corporation, in the same 1929 quarter.

ITALO PETROLEUM GROUP ORGANIZED

Organization of a minority group of Italo Petroleum Corporation stockholders is being effected by Norman J. McPhail, with offices in the Consolidated Building, Los Angeles. Mr. McPhail yesterday said that thus far owners of about 180,-000 shares of Italo common have joined the movement, which has as its objective the conservation of the company's assets and the protection of the stockholders' interests.

ECONOMIST ISSUES WARNING

Dr. Anderson of Chase National Bank Says Easy Money Spur to Unwise Spending

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, April 23.—"Beware of easy money," says Dr. Benjamin M. Anderson, economist of the Chase National Bank.

Dr. Anderson fears that not only individuals but many cities and States will increase their debts unwisely, borrowing simply because money is cheap and not because it can be used advantageously.

While easy money is a stimulant to business, he says, it may also become an intoxicant. Prosperity resulting from this kind of a stimulant is likely to prove very costly in the end.

The question of easy money is one of the most debatable in finance. Some believe that it is the only hope of business. Others point out that when capital can be easily secured it has a tendency to extend credits too much, which results in inflation, rising costs and, finally, in the collapse of business.

Dr. Anderson contends that easy money is a good thing when used in moderation, but otherwise rather dangerous. Hence his warning.

Australia likes oranges. Her per capita consumption of citrus fruits is about twenty-three pounds annually. This puts her ahead of the United States, whose per capita is twenty-two.

The growth of citrus fruit production throughout the world has had a marked effect on American citrus development. Many centers are raising citrus fruits that ten years ago had little or no citrus acreage planted. Porto Rico is one.

"Increasing production of oranges and grapefruits in Porto Rico," says the United States Department of Agriculture, "is regarded as of special significance to California growers."

But the United States production is really diminishing. This year's estimate of the Bureau of Economics of the Department of Agriculture is given at 33,739,000 boxes as compared with 54,130,000 for 1929.

How much will America export? The continued large South African, Brazilian and Spanish crops, together with expanding production in Palestine, "leaves little prospect for volume exports of American oranges to Europe during the winter and early spring."

So orange prices continue on a rather low level.

Canada is looking for new-world markets. She has her eyes on South America and the Far East.

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce is planning to send two groups of business men, one to the Orient and the other to Latin America, to foster trade relations and develop commerce between the peoples of these various nations and the Dominion.

The first group will leave Vancouver next October for Japan and China, while the Latin-American representation will leave next January.

Instead of building tariff walls to close out other countries' products, Canada goes forward and builds up trade outlets for her goods, and so expands her commercial friendships abroad.

This Canadian approach to world trade deserves the study of American business and political leaders.

SAN JOSE UTILITY EARNINGS SHRINK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—The San Jose Water Works today reported to the State Railroad Commission that its net operating revenue for 1929 was $389,424, compared with $395,904 for 1928. The gross corporate income last year was $320,503, as compared with $318,779 the previous year.

A $5000 FUND

From a $1000 Investment

A fund of $5000 would make it possible for you to realize some one of your financial ambitions—children's education—retiring a mortgage—a start on home-building—a vacation abroad, or a trip around the world.

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST

Our new folder "TWO PLANS FOR PROFITABLE INVESTMENT" tells how you may accumulate such a fund easily from an initial investment of $1000. That sum invested in M.I.T. shares in 1924 has increased to $2500 in 5½ years—in 1936 or 12 years should be $5331—by double growth through reinvestment of dividends, plus appreciation of the strong equity security holdings of the Trust.

Massachusetts Investors Trust is one of the few trusts in America with a record long enough to prove the soundness of its methods and the skill and conservatism of its management.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Price movements were somewhat confused in today's curb market, but the main tendency continued upward with the oils prominent in the advance. The new money desk opened today with the rate fixed at 4½ per cent, or ⅛ of 1 per cent above the renewal rate on the New York Stock Exchange. This new feature is expected to prove popular with curb members, and to stimulate marginal trading on high-grade curb securities.

The resumption of buying in the oil shares was influenced by reports of settlement of the California price-cutting war. Gulf ran up 4½ points to a new high at 163, but dropped to 160 on realizing. Humble closed 3 points higher at 118 and Lion Oil. Vacuum and Standard Oils of Indiana and Kentucky advanced a point or more.

Several new points of strength developed in the public utility group. Commonwealth Edison soared more than 23 points to a new high record at 330 on odd-lot transactions, and retained all but a few points of its gain. Cities Service attained a new peak at 45⅛, the turnover in both issues being large.

Electric Bond and Share showed a small fractional gain at 116, after having sold above 117, but Electric Power and Light optional warrants closed 2½ points lower at 74½, after having crossed 78 to a 1930 peak.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both bid and close when same as the high.

Sudden Jump in Wheat Exports Brings Upturn

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Something akin to buoyancy returned to the wheat market today after a fortnight of declines which had pulled prices down 14 cents a bushel. Sudden huge broadening out of export business in wheat from North America was largely responsible for the right about face, and so too was the fact that Federal Farm Board allies were taking ownership of immense quantities of cash wheat in exchange for May delivery contracts. Furthermore, drought complaints were again at hand from the Southwest, with a short crop predicted for parts of Kansas and Oklahoma unless rains come soon.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm at nearly the day's top level, ½@¾c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@1¼c up, oats ½@¾c advance, and provisions unchanged to a ring of 10c.

Estimates were current that European purchases of wheat to be shipped from Canada and the United States had reached an aggregate of 2,500,000 bushels or more in the last forty-eight hours. The total was said to include good sized quantities of No. 2 domestic hard winter wheat to go way of the Gulf of Mexico, and significance was also attached to the fact that Pacific Coast bids were likewise apparently on a working basis.

Adding to the force of today's upturns in wheat values were unofficial advices indicating that the wheat surplus belt of Kansas and Oklahoma has a very unpromising outlet and that under any conditions hereafter a bumper crop this season is unlikely.

Corn and oats advanced with wheat. Provisions were somewhat firmer because of scattered buying despite downturns in hog values.

Standard Oil of California Hits New 1930 Peak to Dominate Local Stock Trading

Standard Oil of California featured operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday by advancing more than 2 points to another new 1930 peak and heading the trading activity of all other issues on the board. The market as a whole was the most active this year. Southern California Edison and Claude Neon also stood out prominently and the balance showed a fractional gain with one or two exceptions. In most cases final sales were the highest for the day.

Standard of California was traded in to the extent of 7500 shares and shot up more than 2 points to a new top for the year at 73 3-4. The high was reached shortly after the first two hours and held through to the close at 2:30 p.m. Edison with more than 4000 shares changing hands, advanced 1 1-4 points to 70 3-8, and Claude Neon, which recently weakened on neglect, turned suddenly active with a turnover of 3000 shares and rallied 2 1-2 points to 40 1-8.

Outside of Standard of California the oils as a group held for the most part to the stronger levels of the preceding day. Union, after reaching 48 1-4, reacted to 47 3-4, off 1-4 net, and Union Associates dipped 1-8 net to 47 1-8, after touching higher levels earlier in the day. Rio Grande and Richfield both improved fractionally ending at the high for the session, Pacific Western advanced 1-4 to 18 1-2, the high and close. Macmillan yielded 1-4 to 28 3-4.

Transamerica traded briskly with a turnover of 5000 shares and advanced 3-4 to 45 1-2. Pacific Mutual firmed up slightly to 92 1-4, while Pacific Finance after moving up to 42 1-4, ended at 41 7-8, off 1-8 net. Pacific American Fire Insurance sold off 3-4 to 56 3-4 and International Re-Insurance, 1-2 to 97 1-2.

Sales totaled 38,091 shares, valued at $1,918,324; previous day, 28,189 shares, valued at $1,145,009.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Dr. George Otis Smith, chief of the United States Geological Survey, is reported to be en route to California to confer with Robert Patterson, government representative, at Taft, in connection with the possible protection of government permits in the Kettleman Hills oil field.

Dr. Smith's visit is asserted to be the result of the completion of the Standard Oil Company's No. 35, newest producer on the north dome at Kettleman Hills, and which is a direct offset to the Continental Oil Company's government permit embracing three-quarter's of a section.

According to officials here, some interesting developments are expected with Dr. Smith here to make a survey of the situation. Continental's government permit is midway between the Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1 producer and Standard's No. 35, and the property is being drained. Continental constructed a derrick a year ago to begin drilling operations but with the signing of an agreement to suspend operations, the company is obliged to remain idle there until July 31, 1931, unless the government grants permisison for the company to protect the permit.

Continental officials here assert that they have not requested Dr. Smith to study the situation as a result of Standard's new completion, but it is expected that he will confer with the company's officials and his representative, Mr. Patterson, at Taft, as to the proper course to pursue. A year ago Dr. Smith was here to get Kettleman Hills operators to agree to suspend operations.

Appoints Committee

Paul Boggs, chairman of the State-wide General Committee on Oil Curtailment, yesterday appointed a committee of eleven experts as suggested at a meeting the previous day, for the purpose of determining the fundamental condition of the oil industry and the correct amount of oil curtailment for the State.

The new committee includes the following: Hooper C. Dunbar, Bell View Oil Company; C. R. McCullon, Pacific Western Oil Company; S. B. Mosher, Signal Oil and Gas Company; L. M. Lockhart, Rio Grande Oil Company; Allen Jergins, Jergins Syndicate; R. E. Haylet, Union Oil Company; T. E. Swigert, Shell Oil Company; W. E. Dunlap, Richfield Oil Company; Earl W. Wagy, Standard Oil Company; A. S. Hayes, General Petroleum Corporation, and Ralph Lloyd, Ventura royalty owner.

Each member of the new committee has been notified to meet in the offices of the California Oil and Gas Association next Monday, at 10 a.m. at which time a chairman is to be selected. The group will also select an economist, to consider the important features of the survey.

To Speak

Herbert R. Macmillan, president of the California Oil and Gas Association and chairman of the Santa Fe Springs Operators' Committee, is scheduled to deliver an address on "Curtailment in California" at the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington, the 28th inst.

Edwin Higgins, managing director of the California Oil and Gas Association, today will deliver an address at the first annual convention of the California Commitee on Public Safety in Oakland. He is a member of the board of governors and will speak on "The Work of the Oil Industry in Preventing Traffic Accidents."

Kills Producer

Although excellent production was obtained from the well, the General Petroleum Corporation has killed Ferguson No. 2, a tideland producer at Seacliff, and has resumed drilling to deepen with bottom of the hole below 3455 feet. This project came in this week for approximately 1200 barrels of oil a day.

Gasser Shut In

The General Petroleum Corporation's Newmorris No. 1, a gasser just completed on Sec. 6, 28-23, one mile west of the Milham Exploration Company's gassers at Buttonwillow, has been killed and shut in indefinitely. The project came in for 10,000,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day from a depth of 2700 feet. Since General has no market for the flow the well will remain shut in. Additional drilling is not planned for the present.

New Test Scheduled

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Hobson No. A-2, two miles southeast of the Seacliff field, has penetrated another stretch of saturated oil sand with bottom of the hole below 6856 feet and will make another production test within a week.

Chanslor - Canfield Hobson No. A-2 succeeded in shutting out water at 6573 feet with considerable oil sand in evidence and resumed drilling to find another body of oil formation to justify a test. If this project should come in as a producer it would extend the present Seacliff field several miles.

Abandoning Project

Failure to develop its south dome test into a producer at Kettleman Hills has resulted in the abandonment of the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Sahlein No. 1. This undertaking is located on Sec. 28, 24-19, and went to 6435 feet without developing sufficient oil showings to justify further drilling.

While drilling slightly below 3300 feet Chanslor-Canfield's Sahlein No. 1 went into a few scattered showings of oil sand. A production test was made but without results. It is a short distance from the Ohio Oil Company's Smith No. 1, also on the south dome and which was abandoned several months ago with bottom below 8000 feet.

Drilling Out

Cement is being drilled out of the Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 2 southeast of Venice. It has been standing cemented with five and three-quarter-inch casing set to 6050 feet with bottom of the hole at 6057 feet. Eight feet of oil sand has been cored. When the water shut-off test is successful drilling will be resumed to deepen.

Ohio's Howland No. 1 southeast of Venice is drilling below 6539 feet without oil showings and Del Rey No. 2 is below 4831 feet. The company's Brown No. 1 and Dickinson No. 2 are both drilling below 4000 feet.

Building Derrick

The Plymouth Oil Company has leased two and one-half acres near the intersection of Hill and Cherry streets in the extreme southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field and is building derrick for its No. 12. This property is near Tom Cannon's Harriman Jones lease.

Flowing

The Union Oil Company is obtaining some production from its Sansinena No. 11 wildcat on the south flank of the Puente Hills. This project bailed fluid for a week with bottom below 3000 feet with about 1000 feet of oil sand formation to draw from. It is making about fifty barrels of 17-deg. gravity oil per day, but will be killed to deepen.

Pulling Tubing

George F. Getty, Inc., is pulling tubing from Parker No. 1 in the townlot area at Potrero and will be rigged up to resume drilling within a week in an endeavor to go into the same producing formation developed by the Sunset Pacific Oil Company's Inglewood-Community No. 3, one-half block south of it.

Getty's Parker No. 1 has been a steady pumper from a depth of 3880 feet and will be deepened to about 5400 feet, where Sunset Pacific's latest producer is flowing at the rate of 1700 barrels of 40-deg. gravity oil per day. Sunset Pacific's No. 2 is being deepened and now is drilling in oil sand below 5275 feet.

No Showings

The Standard Oil Company swabbed to a depth of 4150 feet in Gerber No. 1 wildcat at Point Conception and failed to develop production with bottom of the hole at 4371 feet. About 4200 feet of tubing was landed for the production test and the company reported that oil and gas showings were not in evidence while swabbing.

Completes One

The Standard Oil Company has completed Santa Gertrudes No. 11-A at Santa Fe Springs for 324 barrels of 29.9-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 7910 feet. The well is flowing about fifty barrels of water.

To Deepen

George F. Getty, Inc., is preparing to kill Parker No. 1 in the town lot area at Potrero, and will deepen it to the same productive formation found by Sunset Pacific Oil Company's Inglewood-Community No. 3 which was completed several days ago.

Getty's Parker No. 1 has been a steady pumper from a depth of 3880 feet, and was the first to develop production at that depth in the town lot section at Potrero. Like a number of other projects there, it was originally completed for about 1000 barrels daily, but due to sand and water troubles, it failed to hold up.

Sunset Pacific's Inglewood-Community No. 3 is flowing 1600 barrels of 40 deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 5372 feet, and the yield is practically clean. It penetrated about eighty feet of oil sand and is thought to have opened up a zone free of water. As a result, the company is deepening its No. 2 that has been producing ninety barrels of oil daily.

To Speak

Edwin Higgins, managing director of the California Oil and Gas Association is scheduled to deliver an address at the first annual convention of the California Committee on Public Safety at Oakland on the 24th inst.

Mr. Higgins is a member of the board of governors of the California Committee on Public Safety and will speak on "The Work of the Oil Industry in Preventing Traffic Accidents."

Test This Week

The Standard Oil Company's Gerber No. 1 at Point Concepcion has drilled out cement from 4269 feet to 4278 feet, and has cleaned the project down to 4296 feet, with bottom at 4371 feet. Eighty feet of oil sand has been cored and a production test will be under way within a day or two.

NET PROFITS OF WESTERN RAIL HIGHER

Union Pacific Earnings in 1929 Equal $20.36 a Share on Common

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—The Union Pacific Railroad Company today reported 1929 net income from all sources, of $49,256,042, equal after preferred dividends to $20.36 a common share. This total was an increase of $3,149,170 over 1928 when earnings per common share amounted to $18.95.

Income from investments was $21,598,472, a gain of $1,251,914 due principally to increases in dividends on stocks and in interest received on bonds and loans. Net income from transportation operations was $45,325,568 against $43,818,995. Fixed charges declined $390,682.

After payment of all dividends and charges the company carried $23,035,158 to surplus, an increase of $3,139,170 in this item for 1929.

The general balance sheet as of December 31 showed investment in other companies of $170,146,114, of which $93,932,217 was in stocks and $76,213,897 in bonds. The total was $2,219,030 below the 1928 figure.

Current assets at the year-end amounted to $45,958,027, a decrease of $23,945,289. Demand loans and deposits totaled only $6,500,000 against $27,000,000 on December 31, 1928. Current liabilities were $46,260,712 against $43,079,002.

TRANSCONTINENTAL OIL EARNINGS GAIN

NEW YORK, April 23. (Exclusive, Transcontinental Oil Company today reported for the quarter ended March 31, last, net income of $1,173,869 after expenses, interest, depreciation, dry holes, leases and property abandonment, equal to 36 cents a share on 3,272,110 common capital shares. This compares with $527,551 or 16 cents a share on the same share basis in the 1929 quarter.

CHANGES SOUGHT IN FISH-AND-GAME LAWS

UPLAND, April 23.—Dave Vasbinder of this city, president of the Izaak Walton League of America in California, announced today the California organization is seeking to have several changes made in the fish-and-game laws of California.

One change that is sought is having the limit on golden trout reduced to the same number of other fish varieties and that the season in the high Sierras be advanced from June 30 to June 1.

Closed season on grouse and sage hens is sought in order to save these birds from extinction and a limit of one deer instead of two is advocated. A short open season on ring-necked pheasants is recommended.

BURBANK PLANNERS PRESIDENT TO QUIT

BURBANK, April 23.—President L. H. Boydston of the Burbank City Planning Commission will retire as head of the organization at its next meeting, to be succeeded by C. K. Bowen, at present a member of the commission. A dinner will be given in honor of the work Boydston has done in past years, and to express regret at his retirement.

FALL FROM LADDER FATAL

ENCINO, April 23. — Funeral services for Gilbert Sage, 50 years of age, and a brother of Mrs. Gazola of Encino, will take place tomorrow. Sage fell from a ladder while working on a house on Encino avenue. He fell head first, fracturing his skull.

Mayor Takes His Seat; Thieves Take His Goods

OXNARD, April 23.—While E. R. Gill was being officially reappointed and reinaugurated as Mayor of this city last night in the City Council chambers his home was ransacked by thieves.

Gill and his family discovered the robbery upon their return home late in the evening. The robber or robbers gained entrance by cutting a window screen and prying a window. They used matches to light their way and the floors of the rooms literally were covered with burned matches, Gill said.

Drawers, desk, shelves, book cases, nooks and corners were rifled. Even the bed clothing was ripped back by the thieves, who hoped to find money or valuables in secret hiding places. Their only reward consisted of inexpensive jewelry and trinkets of intrinsic value to the Gill family only.

The Gill robbery is the third of a series. The home of Ed Schowe on E street was also entered last night and on Sunday night the William Eastwood residence was broken into. Little of value was found, but the thieves turned things upside down in each case. Similar burglaries have been reported from other parts of the county during the past few days.

Lions' Clubs to Meet in Council

OXNARD, April 23.—Members of Lions' clubs from nine different localities, comprising the Ventura-Santa Barbara Intercounty Council, will gather here tomorrow night for a special council meeting. Approximately 200 are expected at the affair, which will be held in the Masonic Temple.

A feature of the evening will be elimination contests for five-minute speakers, quartets and stunts to determine who will represent the council at the Lions' convention in Stockton next month. A speaker, a quartet and a stunt team will be sent from this district and there is keen rivalry between the various clubs for the honor of being represented.

Among the local clubs participating in tomorrow night's banquet and meeting are Oxnard, Ventura, Santa Paula, Fillmore, Ojai, Simi Valley, Carpinteria, Camarillo and Santa Barbara.

TAUSCH MADE POLICE JUDGE

ANAHEIM, April 23.—Frank Tausch, local insurance agent, last night was elected police judge, when the newly organized City Council met for its first regular meeting. Tausch succeeds Eldon W. Stark, who had resigned to enter private law practice in Los Angeles. L. E. Miller was re-elected Mayor.

UPLAND TO REVIVE HORSESHOE PITCHING

UPLAND, April 23. — Horseshoe pitching is to be revived here as one of the chief outdoor sports during the summer. Plans are progressing rapidly for the formation of a horseshoe-tossers' league to comprise Upland, Guasti, Cucamonga and Alta Loma, teams from three communities to meet in regular listed tournaments.

The Chamber of Commerce is giving assistance in starting the ball rolling for the tournaments. Richardson Funeral Home of Ontario, has offered to donate a large silver cup to the team winning the tournament.

ROCK-CRUSHER ISSUE IS STILL UP IN AIR

SUNLAND, April 23.—The City Planning Commission has recommended to the City Council that the request of S. V. Goodman, for a permit to build a rock-crusher plant in Tujunga Wash be denied. A public hearing on the matter will be had at 11 a.m. on May 5, next. Several hearings and reports already have been made. A check on petitions shows a majority of residents are opposed to the plant. The larger majority, it is shown, have manifested but little interest in the issue.

Woman Saves Children's Lives by Quick Action

PASADENA, April 23.—Prompt action of Mrs. Peter G. Jurich, wife of Rev. P. G. Jurich, local Nazarene Church pastor, is reported to have saved from death or injury two small children who had released the brakes of a milk truck while it was parked on a hill this afternoon.

When the truck driver left his vehicle to make a delivery on Dominion avenue the children clambered into the seat and one of them released the emergency brake. The truck gathered speed and headed directly for a cement retaining wall at the end of the street.

Hearing the children's terrified screams, Mrs. Jurich dropped the garden hose with which she had been watering the lawn at her home, 1215 Dominion street, jumped on the side of the truck and halted it less than a yard from the cement wall.

Despite assertions of neighbors who witnessed the rescue that Mrs. Jurich narrowly escaped falling between the truck wheels, she became incensed when someone insisted on calling her a heroine. "Heroine nothing. Any mother would have done it as part of her day's work," she retorted.

Van Sweringen Corporation

Five Year 6% Gold Notes

(With Stock Purchase Warrants Detachable on or after May 1, 1932)

Under its broad charter powers the Corporation will, it is expected, furnish a corporate instrumentality to buy, sell, trade in or hold stocks and securities or other property and to enter into such other transactions as may be from time to time determined.

To be dated May 1, 1930 — To mature May 1, 1935

Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee

A letter from Mr. O. P. Van Sweringen, President of the Corporation, copies of which will be furnished upon request, has been summarized by him as follows:

Van Sweringen Corporation has been organized by the Van Sweringen interests under the laws of the State of Delaware, to furnish a corporate instrumentality to buy, sell, trade in or hold stocks and securities or other property, and to enter into such other transactions as may be from time to time determined.

The Corporation will acquire forthwith from the Van Sweringen interests (a) all of the outstanding stock of a subsidiary having title, by ownership or lease of building sites (sometimes referred to as "air rights") over the new passenger station and yards of the Cleveland Union Terminals Company, to the co-ordinated group of buildings erected and being erected at the Public Square in the heart of downtown Cleveland, and to certain additonal adjoning building sites and land available for improvement as the terminal area develops, and (b) 500,000 shares of Alleghany Corporation common stock.

Business structures on these sites and leased property include the Medical Arts Building and Builders Exchange and Garage Building, which are practically completed, and the Midland Bank Building, which is over 60% constructed. In addition it is planned to erect a department store building and an additional office building, both expected to be completed before the end of 1932.

The Corporation will also control the Cleveland Hotel and the 52-story Terminal Tower buildings which have been erected on building sites leased in perpetuity.

Present Financing

With these Notes and attached warrants, and with 1,744,800 shares of no par value Common Stock and warrants for the purchase of 240,000 additional shares of such Common Stock, the Corporation will so acquire the above mentioned real estate properties and stock and $17,096,263 cash (available for the projected department store building, additional office building and/or other investments) in addition to sufficient funds to complete the buildings now under construction.

The consolidated pro forma balance sheet of the Corporation and its wholly owned subsidiary, as of March 31, 1930, given in the above-mentioned letter, after giving effect to such acquisition of property and completion of buildings under construction and this financing, shows net assets, after deducting all liabilities other than these Notes, of $73,740,179.

(Note:—Negotiations are pending with a large insurance company for the sale of a $10,500,000 ten year 5% mortgage bond issue on the Medical Arts, Builders Exchange and Garage and Midland Bank properties, the proceeds of which would be available for the purchase by the Corporation of additional securities).

Provisions of Issue

These Notes are to be direct obligations of the Corporation, and will be issued under a Trust Indenture which will provide, among other things, so long as any of these Notes are outstanding, that the 500,000 shares of Alleghany Corporation common stock presently to be acquired by the Corporation will not be pledged or sold except as set forth in the Trust Indenture.

Messrs. O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, as individuals, will enter into an agreement for the benefit of the holders of these Notes effectively guaranteeing (until at least $15,000,000 of these Notes shall have ben retired with the proceeds of said stock) that if at any time and while the market value of said Alleghany Corporation common stock then owned together with the proceeds of any shares sold and/or United States government obligations representing the investment of such proceeds, shall amount to less than 50% of the amount of these Notes then outstanding, they will make available additional readily marketable securities to the extent necessary to mkae up such deficiency, all as set forth in the Trust Indenture.

For provisions limiting the right of the Corporation to issue secured indebtedness reference is made to the above-mentioned letter.

Warrants

The Notes will have attached thereto warrants (detachable on or after May 1, 1932, but not prior thereto except when exercised or in the event of the redemption of the appurtenant Note) entitling the holders to purchase 20 shares of Common Stock of the Corporation in respect of each $1000 of said Notes, at $25 per share (the price at which the Common Stock is being issued to the organizers for the assets which are being acquired by the Corporation,) such right to expire May 1, 1935.

In addition to the warrants to be attachd to these Notes, similar warrants for the purchase of 240,000 shares of Common Stock at $25 per share will be issued in connection with the acquisition of assets and this financing.

Capitalization

(To be outstanding upon completion of present financing)

Funded Debt
Five Year 6% Gold Notes, due May 1, 1935 (this issue)	$30,000,000
Capital Stock
Common Stock (no par value)	*1,744,800 shs.

*In addition 600,000 shares reserved against exercise of warrants attached to these Notes and 240,000 shares reserved against exercise of similar warrants issued in connection with the acquisition of assets and this financing. The price and number of shares purchasable under warrants are subject to adjustment in certain cases. Total Common Stock authorized 4,000,000 shares.

Earnings

Annual earnings abailable to the Corporation upon completion and occupansy of the various buildings erected and being erected, after usual allowances for vacancies, before depreciation and Federal Income Tax and excluding the department store building and additional office building, will, it is estimated by Brown, Wheelock; Harris, Vought & Co., Inc., be substantially in excess of the annual interest requirements on this issue. The return from the projected department store building and additional office building, planned to represent upon completion an investment (including building sites) of about $20,000,000, should increase such earnings substantially. The foregoing makes no allowance for interest on the bond issue proposed to be sold to an insurance company or earnings from the investment of the proceeds thereof.

These Notes have been listed for trading on a "when issued" basis on the Boston Stock Exchange

Authorized and presently to be outstanding, $30,000,000 (this issue.) Principal and interest payable in New York at the principal office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Interested payable May 1 and November 1, without deduction for any Federal Income Tax up to 2%. Coupon Notes in denomination of $1000, registerable as to principal, and fully registered Notes in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. Coupon Notes and fully registered Notes and the several denominations of fully registered Notes interchangeable.

Redeemable, as a whole or in part, at the option of the Corporation, at any time on 30 days' notice at 102½% and accrued interest to and including May 1, 1931, the premium decreasing ½ of 1% for each year or fraction thereof elapsed thereafter.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—The bond market drifted idly today in the dullest session of the month. Sales totaled only a shade above $10,000,00, due to the slowness of most of the convertibles. Investment rails held their Tuesday gains, but the list in general was irregular.

Money was plentiful and dull. Call loans again dropped to 3½ per cent, but rates on term accomodations were unchanged. United States governments ruled higher on small dealings. Treasury 3¾s advanced 11-32, the day's largest gain.

With the usual exception of American Telephone 4½s, the most active domestic issue was the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron convertible 6s, which mounted with the stock to a new high. The bond touched 108¾, its highest price since last fall and the closing figure of 105½ represented a net gain of 4¾. International Telephone 4½s finished 2¾ above its previous close. General Theaters 6s advanced 4 points, in line with the strength of the amusement stocks, while Warner Brothers Pictures 6s were unusually active, but failed to move. The company is planning to list another block of the debentures to the amount of nearly $16,000,000, and will use part of the proceeds to pay for acquisition of the phonograph and radio divisions of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices for each issue. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

ALL'S QUIET ON GASOLINE PRICE FRONT

Major Brands Back at 19 1-2 Cents; Independents Falling Into Line

The gasoline situation settled down yesterday to an average retail price of 19½ cents a gallon for major brands at chain stations following the 4-cent-a-gallon rise of Tuesday.

Independent stations, however, handling major brands and so-called bootleg gasoline, lagged behind in the otherwise general stabilization. This, it was pointed out by a leader of independent dealers, is due to the stock of fuel already on hand at independent stations which was bought before the boosting of the wholesale price.

It is expected the independents will be forced up to the present general price on major products when their present supply is sold.

The only company that did not signify its intentions to raise the wholesale price with the other major organizations, the Texas Company, fell into line yesterday and quoted the reigning tank-wagon price to dealers of 15½ cents—the previous retail price.

Whether further rises are in the offing could not be verified by officers of major companies and dealer chains yesterday.

Frolic by Group Honors Memory of Shakespeare

Celebrating William Shakespeare's birthday anniversary last night, members of the Shakespeare Foundation gathered in a dinner-dance and Elizabethan frolic at the Ambassador. E. Avery McCarthy, chairman, on behalf of the organization, presented to Director Moore of the University of California at Los Angeles a check to endow the founding of a chair of Shakespeare.

Dr. F. T. Blanchard of U.C.L.A. delivered an address on Shakespeare and R. D. McLean, actor, rendered the Bard's "seven ages of man," from "As You Like It." Lawrence Grant was toastmaster.

There were 400 guests present. The Elizabethan atmosphere was heightened by the fact that the women all wore ruffs and the men were fifteenth century caps. Each table was designated by the name of one of Shakespeare's dramas or characters and a bust of the bard wreathed in laurel occupied the center of the dancing floor.

Yacht Builder Plans Branch

Spurred by an order obtained at the recent motorboat show, the concern of Henry J. Gielow, Inc., New York yacht builders, is about to establish Pacific Coast headquarters in Los Angeles, Ben J. Sweetland, vice-president and sales manager, announced yesterday. Offices will be opened here next month, shortly after the arrival of Joseph A. McDonald, president, and plans then will be made for establishment of ship-building yards, where all of shipbuilding for by Pacific Coast buyers will be constructed.

The contract obtained by the company at the boat show calls for the building of a $200,000 yacht for a local capitalist.

Fear Felt for Injured Doctor

Dr. George S. Shattuck, pioneer Los Angeles physician, is still in a serious condition at his home, 1103 West Forty-first street, as the result of an automobile collision on the 6th inst., it was announced yesterday by his two sons. Although he is suffering principally from shock, fears are felt for his recovery on account of his advanced age. He is 89 years of age.

One of the sons is Dr. Frank L. Shattuck of Detroit, where the elder physician is known as founder of the Detroit College of Medicine. The injured man is being attended by Dr. William M. Hoel.

MEXICAN TO HOP TODAY IN NEW TOUR

Fast Far-Flying Plane Made Here to Carry Sidar on Good-Will Flight

In a fast Emsco airplane that can carry 1000 gallons of gasoline and fly 5000 miles without landing, Col. Pablo Sidar, Mexican army pilot, is scheduled to take off at 9 a.m. today from the Emsco factory airport, in Downey, for an unannounced destinati n in Mexico.

The new ship, a high-winged monoplane powered with a 425-horsepower Wasp motor, was ordered by Col. Sidar for a series of long-distance, nonstop good-will flights that are expected to link the United States, Mexico, Central American countries and South America. He plans to make more ambitious flights than those on his 26,000-mile schedule over the same countries last year.

Today's flight will carry the Mexican flyer and an unannounced companion to a landing on the west coast of Mexico.

Then, it is understood, Col. Sidar will fill the tanks of his plane to capacity and hop off for Buenos Aires—approximately 5000 miles from the take-off point. The flight will have to start from as near sea level as possible so the ship can take advantage of the heavier air in its attempt to lift the 6000-pound fuel load.

The Downey-manufactured plane was specially designed for long hops. It is a cabin ship with the tanks built in the usual passenger space behind the two pilot seats, equipped with dual controls.

Three Taken in Five-Apartment Liquor Raid

Vice-squad officers last night made a raid on five apartments at 158 South Berendo street, arresting three men and confiscating a large quantity of whisky and beer. Those arrested. George Rice, 48 years of age, C. L. Mack, 25, and J. T. Mills, 28, of 158 Berendo street, were booked on charges of liquor possession in violation of the Wright Act.

Police had received complaints that intoxicated young persons had been seen leaving this address in the Wilshire district. Detective Lieutenant Rudolph and Officers Barnes, Leach and Jordan of the Wilshire division, entered the place. They report that it was equipped with alarm buzzers and with curtains which muffled sounds of revelry. In the five apartments asserted to have been leased by the three men the detectives say they found forty cases of whisky, 300 cases of beer, $700 cash, an automatic pistol and a shotgun. One apartment was fitted up for brewing beer, they said.

Mate's Sudden Exit Recounted

After telling his wife he was tired of women, George V. Langman, business man, waited until she had invited a number of friends to their home for dinner then left her, Mrs. Pearl Langman testified before Superior Judge Price yesterday when asking for a divorce.

"His sudden departure broke up the party," Mrs. Langman said.

WIFE BALKS AT STILL, DIVORCE PLEA STATES

If Mrs. Frances Tasovac wanted money to run her household, all she had to do was to get a still and run some "white mule," she asserts in her divorce complaint against Nick Tasovac, on file yesterday.

Tasovac, his wife admitted, offered to attend to the marketing of the product, telling her she would run no risk whatever. Another ground for divorce asserted is that Tasovac applied to his wife epithets "too vile to spread on the records of the court."

MORE JOIN OIL-CURB FIGHT

Three Companies Ask Stay of Execution of Court's Restraining Order Pending Appeal

Three more oil-producing companies yesterday entered the battle being waged in the Appellate and Supreme courts over orders of Superior Judge Hazlett restraining petroleum concerns from wasting gas in the Santa Fe Springs oil district. Five other companies are on the records of the two upper tribunals in connection with the oil conservation litigation.

Companies which entered the affray yesterday are the Twin Bell Oil Syndicate, Second Twin Bell Syndicate and the Star Petroleum Company. The other concerns are the Bandini Petroleum Company, Commodore Petroleum Company, Wilshire Oil Company, Wilshire Annex Oil Company and the Ambassador Petroleum Company.

The three new litigants filed an application with Hugh Coultis, clerk of the Supreme Court office in Los Angeles, for a writ of supersedeas, which would direct the Superior Court to stay execution of that court's temporary restraining order of March 19 and an amendatory restraining order of March 28 pending an appeal.

Arguments similar to those advanced in the case of the five concerns in the other action are advanced in the petition. It is pointed out, however, that greater gas pressure is necessary in the area in which the three companies' wells are located, to produce a given quantity of oil.

Because of this asserted greater gas pressure, the petitioners point out further, limitation of oil production would be followed by a much higher or greater proportion of gas to a given amount of oil.

The companies also declare that they are faced with the danger of their oil supply being drained by other concerns. They further contend that it has not and will not be possible to produce oil profitably or commercially from their wells without utilization of natural gas and that the use of natural gas to lift the oil is the most valuable and beneficial use which can be made of the gas.

It also is averred that if the restraining orders of the Superior Court are enforced the companies will suffer irreparable injury and their property will be illegally taken pending the determination of the appeal.

The Bandini, Wilshire, Wilshire Annex, Commodore and Ambassador companies carried their fight to the Appellate Court on a petition for a writ of prohibition against Superior Judge Hazlett, seeking to restrain the court from enforcing the gas wastage orders. The State sought to have the case heard by the Supreme Court, but the Supreme Court refused to take the case into its jurisdiction.

Last Monday oral arguments on the petition for a writ were heard. The Appellate Court had granted an alternative writ and the question before the court at the hearing was whether or not the alternative writ should be made permanent. The court took the case under submission, granting the oil companies ten days within which to file briefs and the State five days within which to file an answer.

RUMOR NAVY OIL CONTRACTS LET

Bids of Four Local Concerns Reported Accepted

Shell, Richfield, Texas and Hancock Winners

Price Tenders Declared to be Lowest in History

BY WALDO DRAKE

Four local oil companies have made successful bids, among twenty-two competing concerns, for the United States Navy's 1931 fuel oil needs of 4,000,000 barrels at Los Angeles Harbor, it was learned yesterday from an authentic source. Prices tendered were lowest in history among the successful bidders, ranging from 54 cents per barrel, by the Shell Oil Company, to 70 cents, by the Richfield Oil Company.

The present navy contract for local fuel oil delivery is 73 1-2 cents per barrel, while the contract for the fiscal year 1929 was 76 1-2 per barrel.

Winning bids, expected to be officially announced tomorrow, are reported to be as follows: Shell Oil Company, 350,000 barrels at 54 cents per barrel; Hancock Oil Company, 700,000 barrels at 60 cents per barrels; Texas Company 1,000,000 barrels at 65 cents per barrel, and the Richfield Oil Company, 4,000,000 barrels at 70 cents. It was explained that the contract will be filled in sequence of prices, i.e., Shell's low offer for 350,000 barrels will be first utilized, followed by the Hancock and Texas quotas, so that not more than 2,000,000 barrels will be bought from the Richfield Oil Company at 70 cents. The contracts contain the option that any of the above companies may furnish any desired amount beyond their actual bids; i.e., Shell has the opportunity to supply the entire 4,000,000 barrels at the 54-cent price.

In addition to the above, successful bids will be announced within the week on approximately 3,000,000 barrels of fuel oil for navy use on the East Coast and 500,000 barrels of Diesel oil for submarine use.

SALVAGE COMPANY BUYS GROUNDED CRAFT

Merritt, Chapman & Scott have bought the K Line freighter Rhine Maru, which went ashore at Point Sur last month, and which the firm has been salvaging. All deck machinery will be taken off, the tug Homer leaving Monterey for the scene today for that purpose. It is possible the hull will be left among the rocks.

Several thousand bales of wet and dry cotton already have been salvaged from the holds, and some cargo remains to be gotten out.

M. Shinoda, manager at Tokio of the Ogura Oil Company, arrived at Los Angeles on his tanker Koyo Maru yesterday for an inspection of local and Elwood oil facilities. J. Iwakami, manager of the associated Asano Bussan Company at San Francisco, joined Shinoda here. The tanker will proceed to Elwood today to load for the Orient. She and the Ogura Maru are fifteen-knot tankers. Balfour, Guthrie & Co., are agents.

The former gambling barge Johanna Smith has been sold, according to unconfirmed report, which is that she again will return to sea, either as a gaming ship or a fishing barge. Customs records still show her owner as Joseph A. Hartman of Bell, Cal.

Union Ice Company yesterday informed the Harbor Commission that it plans to build a cold storage and freezing plant at its Mormon Island factory for the storage of fresh fish. Company officials explained that the proposed plant will fill a long-felt need of the local packing industry and requested that the company's lease with the Harbor Department include construction of the cold storage unit.

March revenues of the port totaled $202,073.14, slightly below March, 1929, it was announced yesterday by Port Manager Burt Edwards. Wharfage led the list, with $95,989; other items being dockage, $17,434; pilotage fees, $25,332; land rentals, $25,174; Harbor Belt Line, $9325; warehouse fees, $4684.

North German Lloyd's liner Columbus, making a globe cruise for Raymond & Whitcomb, will arrive at the port from Hilo at 6 p.m. tomorrow, it was announced last night by Williams, Dimond & Co., N.G.L. agent. She was originally scheduled to arrive at 4 p.m.

The Columbus, carrying 300 passengers, will dock overnight at the Union Pacific terminal, Terminal Island, and after loading 33,000 barrels of bunker oil, will sail at noon Saturday for New York.

The Harbor Department yesterday granted a permit to the Department of Water and Power to construct a $33,000 fresh-water storage tank on Terminal Island, near Terminal Way, for augmentation of the port's water supply.

Five ship joiners will be required to install a second-hand Diesel engine in the pilot boat Catherine Cryer, the Board of Harbor Commission decided yesterday at the weekly meeting. The board approved a salary order for their temporary employment.

Capt. Harry H. Birkholm, district manager of General Steamship Corporation, yesterday announced that the firm has opened new passenger offices at 609 South Grand avenue, in charge of Arthur Friberger, district passenger agent. Mr. Friberger will also have on his staff Charles B. Edmonds, who has been on the local passenger staff of the French Line.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SEATTLE, April 23.—Railroads are considering reductions in transcontinental rates on silk, which, if effected, will bring movement of the product from the Orient through North Pacific ports to normal again, S. Uchida, manager in the United States of the Osaka Shosben Kaisha, declared here today.

He added that silk held for future delivery and for which there is no immediate demand will continue to move by the water route through the Panama Canal to New York, as it is in storage in transit saving warehousing costs.

Uchida and Ishii arrived here from New York where general offices of the O.S.K. were opened.

The Motorship Bullaren will load lumber for Papeete in the South Seas as well as for its regular calls at Australian ports when it arrives on Puget Sound next Tuesday. The Bullaren, operated by the General Steamship Corporation, will load at Tacoma and Bellingham, and later at petroleum products at California ports.

PORTLAND, April 23.—Included in the outbound cargo of the British steamer Narenta of the North Pacific Coast Line, when it sails tomorrow, will be fifteen tons of old automobile radiators, destined as scrap radiators for delivery at Hamburg.

The Narenta reported here late today after loading lumber at Westport since Monday. In addition to the radiators she will load cases cake and 180,000 feet of lumber locally for delivery at Hamburg.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"They Learned About Women." Opens today.

Burbank, Main at 6th.—"Tonight at Twelve." Also vaudeville.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A mighty drama of war and its effect. This is one which should not be missed.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Song o' My Heart." John McCormack and his Irish home cast; their pure spell around this gentle, sentimental tale.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"King of Jazz." Paul Whiteman and his orchestra provide a special day of color, glamour and excellent entertainment.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"The Girl Said No."

Filmarte, 8228 Vine—"Othello." A revival of a world-made German film which features Emil Jannings.

Fergus, Pico at Norton—"Son of the Gods." Drama and sentiment in large doses, realistically played by Richard Barthelmess and Constance Bennett.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"The Vagabond King." A spectacle of color and music is made from this popular operetta, featuring Dennis King and Jeanette MacDonald.

Grand State, Broadway at Seventh—"High Society Blues." Opens today.

Hayan, Hill nr. 11th—"Journey's End." A superb translation from stage to screen of a somber and splendid play.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Sarah and Son." Ruth Chatterton appears at her best to date in a powerful and restrained drama of mother love.

Palace, Broadway at 6th and 7th.—"Girl Said No." William Haines does again the pumpkious wise-cracker.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Paramount on Parade." Opens today.

Rialto, Seventh at 5th and 6th.—"Her Unborn Child." This is a gross between a sex preachment and a "Coquette."

Rivoli, Wilshire at—"Girl Said No."

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Impact." Gorillas and their pastimes afford thrills and adventure.

Tower, Bdwy. at 8th—"Wide Open." Warner Brothers and Edward Everett Horton conspire to concoct a comedy.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"Ladies Love Brutes." Reviewed in today's Times.

Uptown, Western at 10th—"Such Men Are Dangerous." A lift in the face will do wonders for love, discovers Elinor Glyn, and Warner Baxter proves it.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th.—"Mammy." Opens tonight.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"Such Men are Dangerous."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"June Moon." A smart satirical comedy of a "hick" song writer who makes good, in Ring Lardner's best style.

Egan, Fig. at Pico—"For Cryin' Out Loud." The family gathers in the living room again and cries away the ringing about their joys and sorrows. With Lorin Vale.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland "Broken Dishes." Family life in the raw is always good for drama and once in a while a laugh. Percy Pollock is starred as the all-American husband.

Fiesta Playhouse, Fig. at 104th.—"Up and at 'Em." Reviewed in today's Times.

Majestic, Bdwy. nr. 9th.—"The Student Prince." Opens tonight.

Mason, Bdwy. nr. 1st.—"Rah, Rah Boy." Waring's Pennsylvanians entertain with their well-known music and the book is just fair. Dorothy Lee, Evelyn Hall and others are capable.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful annual pageant of the "passion" of California, up to its usual standard. With J. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"The Imaginary Invalid." Moliere's comedy is given a skeptical treatment which creates amusement for everyone.

President, Bdwy. at 8th.—"The Blue Monkey." Ghosts and spooks at midnight will for piteous acrobatics by a cast headed by Bernice Elliott.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine—"Among the Married." A revival of Vincent Lawrence's sophisticated play presenting a overtful performance by Robert Fraser.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

"YELLOW DOG" SCRATCHES DIRT

U.S.C.'s Scandals Exposed in Razz Sheet

Distributing Annual Campus Publication

SCORING heavily in "exposes" of football heroes, student political leaders and co-eds' love affairs, the "Yellow Dog," annual "razz sheet" published by pledges of Sigma Sigma, junior classmen's honorary fraternity, appeared on the University of Southern California campus yesterday.

Several campus engagements were unearthed by the pledges, who had free sway in writing their stories because of the recent termination of faculty censorship. Nate Barragar, football captain and Jesse Mortensen, track captain, shared in the good-natured "razzing."

Buron Fitts, Southern California graduate, was "uncovered" as the probable successor to Justin Miller as dean of the law school.

Junior class students, chosen for prominence in activities and for scholarship, who edited the publication are Lewis Gough, Randolph Ritchey, Marshall Duffield, John Dorfner, Glenn Johnson, Joe Ward, Ray Zeman, Mulvey White, Paul Zander, Robert Schurmer, Ward Foster, Francis Conley and Sam Baker. Gregson Bautzer, another pledge elected, now is on a debate tour in England. Two faculty members elected are Justin "Sam" Barry, basketball and baseball coach, and Orville P. Cockerill, law-school professor.

WATER BOND SUPPORTERS INCREASING

More Organizations and Individuals Voice Pleas in Favor of Voting Issue

While additional home owners and taxpayers' organizations were added yesterday to the long list of those giving official expression to their active support of the water bond issue on the May 20 ballot, the absolute necessity of providing additional water for Los Angeles also was being stressed by pioneer residents of the city, familiar with water problems. Among the latter is J. Wiseman Macdonald, civic leader for many years.

Mr. Macdonald empasized that the voting of the water bonds will not increase taxes. He pointed out that definite provision has been made for the meeting of all bond payments from earnings derived from the sale of the additional water obtained by the bond investments.

Included among the organizations which yesterday went on record for the bonds are the West Jefferson-Exposition Boulevard Association and the Vermont-Vernon Business Association.

Wholehearted approval of the water bonds, coupled with a plea to Los Angeles citizens to rally to their support was expressed yesterday by D. Joseph Coyne, member of the State Board of Irrigation.

"There can be no question as to the urgent need for the additional water and the water storage that will be obtained through passage of the water bonds," said Mr. Coyne.

In stressing the necessity of keeping the city's water supply apace with its growth and domestic water needs, Mr. Macdonald said:

"A considerable portion of the $38,800,000 to be expended will be devoted to storage development. Our limited rain precipitation absolutely demands unusual water storage capacity.

"The work of obtaining water for Los Angeles and constructing proper storage facilities and lines for transportation, will give employment to several thousand ment in need of this work."

REGISTRATION HEAVY FOR BOND ELECTION

Registration of 400,979 voters in the city of Los Angeles in preparation for balloting on May 20 on the $38,000,000 water bond issue was announced last night by Registrar of Voters Kerr. The same figures show 314,801 registered outside of Los Angeles in the county.

Heavy registration is seen in the

Beverly Bonds' Passage Means Street Opening

Crescent Drive and Rexford Drive, two of Beverly Hills' important avenues, will be made through streets from Sunset Boulevard to Pico Boulevard if the civic center bond issue carries at Monday's election, it was decided at a meeting yesterday of the Beverly Hills City Council. Success of the bond issue by making possible the acquisition of the proposed civic center site, will enable the cutting through of the two streets, now blocked by the Pacific Electric right of way on Burton Way and Santa Monica Boulevard.

Removal of this obstruction long has been desired by Beverly Hills, and will be an additional benefit to accrue to that city from passage of the $1,100,000 civic center bonds Monday. It was stated yesterday by Lon Haddock, chairman of the Beverly Hills Civic Improvement Committee.

EARLY RISING WINS REWARD

Arising at 3:30 a.m. to attend sunrise Easter services entitles a motorist to some consideration, Municipal Judge Bush declared in traffic court. The judge suspended a $2 fine for Mrs. G. A. Armes of 939 South Figueroa street, who pleaded guilty to failing to make a boulevard stop shortly before 4 a.m. last Sunday. She was on her way to sunrise services at the time, she said.

PACIFIC STATES COHESION URGED

Unified Efforts to Attract Tourists Advised

Coast Crusaders Feted Here and at Long Beach

Numerous Speakers Discuss "Travel Business"

Pacific Coast team work to bring west of the Rockies a greater share of the $4,000,000,000 spent annually by the American traveling public was urged last night by the Pacific Coast crusaders at a banquet of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce at the Breakers Hotel. The same rallying call was sounded yesterday at a meeting in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The 105 members of the Pacific Coast Crusade are on a campaign to unify effort to win the tourist throngs now spending most of their money east of the Mississippi. A special train last night took them to Long Beach, where a dinner had been arranged by Franklin W. Robinson, Erwin M. Stevens, president of the Long Beach chamber, presided, introducing as speakers Mayor Hauge and City Manager Bucka, as well as several of the Crusaders.

TO RIVERSIDE TODAY

Following the dinner the visitors were taken on a night sight-seeing trip to the top of Signal Hill. They remained overnight in Long Beach and today will visit Orange county, Riverside and San Bernardino, returning to Los Angeles tonight. They will leave tomorrow for San Diego.

More than 200 persons attended yesterday's luncheon tendered by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

"The Pacific Coast from Canada to Mexico offers as varied an attraction as any traveler might wish for," George I. Warren, Victoria, B. C., crusader, said at the luncheon. "The thing for us to do is to capitalize on this and get travelers out here."

E. E. Faville of the Portland (Or.) chamber said:

"The tourist business is a big industry. This is a business crusade. We are trying to tie together all Pacific Coast interests to get more business for our industry."

"The Pacific Coast," said J. W. Sayre of the Seattle Times, "is a great big family. Los Angeles belongs to us and Seattle belongs to you."

MEXICAN AID OFFERED

Clyde Edmondson of the Redwood Empire Association, San Francisco, read a message from President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico offering all the co-operation west-coast government officials can give to the crusaders on this tour and in advancement of their objective.

"We must learn from each other how we can attract more of the tourist business across the Rockies," R. W. Childs, Portland, said. He is crusader chairman for Oregon.

John Cuddy, Californians, Inc., San Francisco, said:

"Southern California has an optimism that the whole Pacific Coast needs. We should seek especially the type of tourist who will become a permanent resident."

"We shall be glad to boost for you in the Northwest as you boost for us here," Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan said. Mayor Porter welcomed the crusaders, declaring "you have done us an honor to come here."

Vice-President Kerr of the chamber conducted the meeting with the declaration that "when we help each other build up the Pacific Coast we help build for ourselves alone also."

Don Thomas of the All-Year Club said Pacific Coast boosters should budget more of their spending money at work in eastern States.

Detectives Will Banquet Tonight

Co-operation with the law-enforcement organizations of this district will be pledged tonight by the Southern California Association of Detective Agencies at its third annual banquet and installation of newly elected officers at the Oakmont Country Club, Glendale. The affair will begin at 6:30 p.m., with representatives of the Mayor, District Attorney's office, grand jury, Sheriff's office and police department and the presiding judges of the Superior and Municipal courts as guests of honor. Charles R. Burge is to be installed as president.

Following the dinner entertainment will be provided by the Jose Arias Troubadours, Bert Barber, the singing newsboy; Reginald Ellis, ventriloquist, and Miss Ruth Terry, KFI radio artist.

DR. BROUGHER SAYS ADIOS

Friends of Popular ex-Pastor Gather to Wish Him Success in Boston Charge

Members of the Optimist Club gave Dr. James Whitcomb Brougher, former pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, farewell yesterday noon at a luncheon at the Biltmore and last night hundreds of members of the Baptist organization gathered at the church auditorium and gave him good-by and wished him success in his new pastorate at the Tremont Temple Church, Boston, to which he has been called.

Dr. John Snape, incumbent pastor, presided at the Temple Baptist Church gathering last night. Rev. Edward Brown, associate pastor, spoke briefly, voicing his admiration and esteem for the former pastor, who for the past two years has been in charge of the First Baptist Church at Oakland. He said that the church had taken deep roots in the religious soil of Los Angeles through the ministry of Dr. Brougher. Dr. A. M. Petty of the Baptist Home Missionary Society declared that the Baptist denomination owed more to Dr. Brougher for its present harmony than to any one other man.

OTHERS SPEAK

Dr. H. K. Walker, former moderator of the Presbyterian Church, who was to have spoken, was unable to be present and his place was taken by Dr. W. S. Dysinger, pastor of the First Lutheran Evangelical Church, who spoke for the pastors of Los Angeles. He declared that Dr. Brougher is more than just the pastor of the Temple; that he is bigger than his church and bigger than his denomination and that all who contact him catch something of his idealism and truthfulness.

DR. JAMES WHITCOMB BROUGHER.

Dr. Brougher spoke feelingly of the many friends that he has in Los Angeles and said that he does not intend to give them up. He voiced his regrets in going away from California, but said there is a larger work ahead for him. He wished the congregation success in the building of the new Temple Church.

A general reception followed the speaking program with Dr. and Mrs. Brougher on the receiving line. The Temple Quartet sang several musical selections.

SPOOFED AT CLUB

At the Optimist Club meeting Dr. Snape, present club chaplain, ventured a few bold observations as to the possible effect of Boston culture on Dr. Brougher's vocabulary; some one reported Will Rogers as saying the pastor will need an interpreter in the Massachusetts metropolis; others chortled over memories of past talks of the pastor.

And Dr. Brougher came back with as good as he received. He even told the story of the Boston bull terrier who obdurately ignored a command to "lay down," but who readily recognized the authority in "lie down!"

Thus, Dr. Brougher's leave-taking from Optimist Club friends at the Biltmore. Despite the quips, however, a note of seriousness crept into

Street Opening Project Expected to be Reported on Favorably Tuesday

The Street Opening and Widening Committee next Tuesday is scheduled to take up the matter of opening Beachwood Drive from Yucca street to Hollywood Boulevard and widening the street for several hundred feet north of Yucca street.

At that time it is expected that the City Engineer will file a report of the petitions, both of proponents and protestants, for consideration by the committee. The report, it is expected, will show a huge preponderance for the opening project.

According to C. P. Evans, president of the Beachwood Drive Development Association, the project is a much-needed benefit to the community, as the flow of traffic is interrupted seriously by the dead-end at Yucca street. The opening will permit the residents of the Beachwood Drive community, numbering more than 7000, to reach Hollywood Boulevard and the Hollywood business district direct.

Answering statements that the cost of the project will be excessive, Evans declares that the expense will not exceed $300,000, which, when spread over the district for the ten-year period, will amount to no more than $15 or $20 per year per parcel.

He states that the key lot on Hollywood Boulevard has been obtained for $117,500, and can be turned over for that amount, while options have set the price on other lots needed for the opening, which, with the Hollywood Boulevard lot, total $235,000.

EPSTEIN GOING EAST

Dave Epstein, Hollywood press representative, will leave this morning by T.A.T. plane for New York to be absent ten days on business. He will join Carl Laemmle and his party there to attend the New York premiere of "All Quiet on the Western Front." At the invitation of Carl Laemmle, Jr., he will return with the Universal party from the East.

PUBLIC BEACH RULING NEARS

Supreme Court Takes Step in County Test Case

Hearing on State Purchase Set for Next Week

Two Moot Points Expected to be Cleared Up

The State Supreme Court yesterday took its first official action in the test case to determine whether the county and State can legally join in the purchase of beach lands when it issued an alternative writ of mandate requiring Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors to show cause why he should not execute a deed conveying two parcels of county-owned beach land to the State.

The writ was made returnable next Wednesday in the Supreme Court in Sacramento, according to advices yesterday from San Francisco. Chairman McClellan still is confined to the Santa Monica Hospital and it is reported he probably will not be able to appear personally. It is expected, however, that he will be represented by County Counsel Mattoon.

TWO OBSTACLES

The suit was filed to determine whether the State can join in the recent purchase by the county of $835,000 worth of beach lands in Manhattan Beach and Redondo. Although representatives of the State Park Commission had signified California's willingness to pay half the cost, State participation was blocked by two obstacles, which it is hoped the present test case will remove.

These legal obstructions are: (1), an interpretation of the law that the State cannot join in the purchase of lands in an incorporated community, and (2) lack of a ruling giving the county authority to deed lands to the State for operation as public parks.

In order to settle the points definitely, the test case was arranged through agreement between the State Park Board and the Board of Supervisors. At the suggestion of County Counsel Mattoon the board voted to deed to the State the two parcels, one in Manhattan Beach, the other in county territory. Chairman McClellan then refused to execute the deed because of lack of legal authority, and the mandamus proceedings were filed in Supreme Court.

MUCH AT STAKE

If the present case results in a favorable ruling, it is considered probable that the State will assume the balance of approximately $315,000 due on two beach purchases made recently by the county in Manhattan Beach. In event of a ruling lending support to the present obstacles it is planned to ask for an amendment to the State law at the next session of the Legislature.

It was reported yesterday that the State's participation in proposed beach purchases in San Diego, Orange, San Luis Obispo and Ventura counties also will depend largely on the outcome of the present case.

H. W. O'Melveny, Los Angeles attorney, and member of the State Park Board, has agreed to represent the petitioner in the present case without compensation. County Counsel Mattoon will appear for McClellan as a matter of policy.

Insurance Sum Hinges on Fall

An insurance clause in the insurance policy of the late Charles P. Gormly, who fell from a window of his home March 13, and died as a result of the fall, makes it necessary that the probate court decide whether Gormly's death was accidental.

If the decedent did not commit suicide, his widow, and two children will collect $25,000 on his policy.

FORMER LOS ANGELES BUSINESS MAN DIES

News of the death of Louis A. Stahl, former business man of Los Angeles and connected with the Los Angeles Lime and Cement Company for a number of years, was received here yesterday from Monmouth, Ill., where he removed more than a year ago. He was 68 years of age and came to Los Angeles in the early eighties. He leaves his widow and one son, Leslie W. Stahl, who resides at Houston, Tex.

Therefore, who shall object to the fact that Nicolas is slightly grimy behind the ears; or that his forehead is two inches high; or that his skull rises to a peak like a football helmet?

OUT OF THE MYSTERIES

Nicolas is our mozo. He appeared from somewhere out of the mysterious mountains. He is a mind reader. He knows exactly what everyone in camp is going to want before he knows it himself. Nicolas is always there holding out with a grin the thing you are going to need next.

When the water gets low Nicolas saddles the pack horse and disappears into the canyon with the kegs — which he presently brings back full . . . from heaven knows where.

A GREAT THRILL

The great thrilling joy of the life of Nicolas is our patent can opener. He has never seen canned goods before in his life—not to mention can openers.

The one great ambition of his soul is to move in on Los Angeles. If they ever let him get a toe hold in the burg Nick will grow rich and famous. Anyone who can think two laps ahead of the game as he can is a gift not to be lost to the world.

THREE LITTLE SOLDIERS

We have three little soldiers who live with us all day long while our Scout parties are out looking for the trail. They have made a ramada with their blankets and sit there without saying a word all day long.

This country may be safe from the bandits, as they say; but we observe that the soldados keep their cavalry carbines between their knees even when they eat lunch.

FUSSY APPETITES

We thought we were going to give them a grand treat with real food. Especially the coffee. Mexican coffee is unspeakably awful. We gave them some Mocha and Java—the kind that is served at the best Los Angeles hotels. They looked sad and turned up their noses.

We tried them on canned fruit; but they only turned up their noses again. Bacon and eggs tasted queer to them. They bit into the delectable mixture as though they thought it would explode; and one bite was enough. They got a real kick out of but one thing on the table—the granulated sugar.

A HOT SPORT

The grandee of our crowd is the Presidente of the town of Ixtlan. He is a fat man but a howling swell. His saddle horse is a mule with a gait like a rocking chair. His saddle is a curious round-pommeled Mexican cow saddle—very flat and bunchy. It gleams with brass and gold and scarlet plush. Alongside the great Moorish stirrups is a long, curved sword in an embroidered leather hilt. El Presidente weighs close to 300 and has a collection of china, but—having been hoisted into the saddle by a couple of mozos—he rides like a centaur.

WEBSTER TO SPEAK

The Men's Club of Carthay Center and vicinity will hear Councilman Webster on a subject of interest to all property owners of the district on Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Armanda Chapel, the Little Church at Carthay Circle on Olympic Boulevard. A home-cooked dinner will be served by the ladies of the Armanda Chapel choir. John B. Schuyler is president of the Men's Club.

CLINIC INQUIRY BROADENS

Search Ordered for Dr. Arthur Benson in Quiz Resulting from Complaints of Patients

While investigation into the practices of the Gilbert Thayer Foundation clinic assumed widespread proportions yesterday, City Prosecutor Nix ordered a search for Dr. Arthur Benson, said to have been head of the establishment against which 200 patients have complained.

Following the vociferous charges of the patients Tuesday that they have paid approximately $75,000 to the clinic during the past year and received no benefits, Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday summoned Dr. Carl H. Hotchkiss, assistant to Dr. Benson, for questioning.

At the same time Hornaday announced a move toward enlisting the aid today of Chief Investigator Byrne of the State Board of Medical Examiners to determine if any provisions of the Medical Practice Act have been violated in the conduct of the foundation.

Several of the erstwhile patients who stormed Nix's office Tuesday demanding an investigation were examined yesterday by attaches of the offices of Dr. George Parrish, city health officer.

The complainants said they had been led to believe they were suffering from serious ailments and had received treatment for the supposed diseases after they had paid in advance sums ranging from $75 to $1000 on a guarantee that they would be cured.

The city physicians told Hornaday last night that they have examined some of the witnesses and found them not to be suffering from any ailments.

The investigation spread to the State Labor Department yesterday when Hornaday said that several nurses and attendants at the clinic had complained that Dr. Benson had not paid them their wages, and the matter is to be submitted to Deputy State Labor Commissioner Lowy.

While the investigation is under way and City Prosecutor Nix has

WIFE, UNRULY IN COURT, JAILED BUT LATER FREED

After creating a disturbance in court for the second time, Mrs. Lillian Kamp, contesting the divorce action of her husband, Jacob Kamp, Los Angeles building contractor, yesterday was found in contempt of court by Superior Judge Tryon and sentenced to five days in the County Jail. Later, however, the woman was released following a plea by her counsel, Attorney John M. Dvorin, and after she offered an apology for her conduct.

Mrs. Kamp became excited at the hearing shortly after it was resumed following a two-day recess. She began talking audibly while a witness was under examination and was ordered by Judge Tryon to be quiet. This she refused to do, and when the judge warned her that if she did not obey she would be sent to jail, Mrs. Kamp demanded that she be sent there. She was ordered committed.

The hearing ended yesterday following introduction of evidence from appraisers who valued the property of the couple. Judge Tryon took his decision under submission. More than $190,000 worth of community property is involved.

Kamp, represented by Attorney Lester Roth, brought suit for divorce asserting that his wife during the thirty-one years of their married life, frequently called him a nit-wit and half a man. He also asserted that she frequently interfered with business deals in a way that lost him large sums of money. Mrs. Kamp declared that her husband forced her to make property settlements which were disadvantageous to her.

The couple married in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1898. The family home is at 307 South Highland avenue.

PANTAGES FILES NEW PLEA

Convicted Theater Man Applies to Supreme Court for Release on Bail Pending Appeal

Denied the request twice in Superior Court here, Alexander Pantages, millionaire theater magnate, yesterday applied to the State Supreme Court, according to San Francisco dispatches, for release on bail pending appeal to the State District Court from conviction on the charge of criminally attacking Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancing girl. The application was filed for Pantages by Louis Titus, his attorney, the theater man being in the Los Angeles County Jail.

"Circumstances of an extraordinary character which have occurred since conviction," according to the text of the application, were set forth by Attorney Titus as reasons why Pantages should be admitted to bail. They were listed as follows:

(1.) Pantages has suffered repeated attacks of heart disease and permanent injury to his health will result and render his death imminent unless he is released.

(2.) The $1,000,000 damage suit filed against him by Eunice Pringle.

(3.) The $500,000 slander suit filed against him by Nicholas Dunaev, Miss Pringle's former dancing partner.

(4.) The $250,000 slander suit filed against him by Frederick T. Wise, who was a witness at the trial.

Affidavits signed by Drs. Henry Lessner, O. M. Justice, Edward H. Anthony, Ernest C. Fishbaugh and Benjamin Blank accompanied the application. Each states Pantages has lost weight since his incarceration, and that his general state of health demands his release.

This constitutes Pantages's third attempt to obtain freedom pending his appeal. The other two were made in Superior Court and each was blocked by Judge Fricke, who denied the application.

Mother Held for Quiz in Long Beach Poison Death Investigation

GIRL'S VISCERA SHOW ARSENIC

Bodies of Father and Also Brother to be Exhumed

Police Say Insurance of All Payable to Woman

Mystery Surrounded Sudden Passing of Both Men

Discovery of arsenic in the vital organs of Ruth Hartman, 14-year-old Long Beach girl who died on the 16th inst., supposedly the victim of ptomaine poisoning, led yesterday to the detention of her widowed mother by Long Beach police for questioning. The mother, Mrs. Mary Hartman, was taken in custody following interrogation at the hands of Detective Sergeants Le Baron and Wood.

Search of the Hartman home last night by Detectives Le Baron and Wood led to the finding in the medicine chest of two unlabeled packages which contain a white powder similar in appearance to arsenic. A similar package containing apparently the same sort of powder was found on Mrs. Hartman when she was searched at the police station. The powder in the three packages will be analyzed at once, it was said last night.

Questioning of Mrs. Hartman and her subsequent arrest as a suspect, came as the joint result of a request made by Coroner Nance that an inquiry be conducted into the previous deaths, under more or less mysterious circumstances, of the woman's husband and son. Coroner Nance asked for the inquiry when he learned from County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner that chemical analysis of the dead girl's organs had revealed traces of arsenical poisoning.

EXHUME BODIES TODAY

Accordingly, under direction of the District Attorney's office, the bodies of O. B. Hartman, 47, the husband, and Henry A. Hartman, 22, his son, will be exhumed today from their graves in Sunnyside Cemetery, Long Beach, where the former has lain more than two years and the latter nearly a year. The vital organs of both are to be turned over to the County Autopsy Surgeon for chemical analysis aimed at determining whether they also contain any form of metallic poisoning.

Investigation of the girl's death and its consequent order for the double exhumation, according to Detective Sergeants Le Baron and Wood, are the result of insistent requests by other members of her family, in which intimate friends joined. Harking back to the deaths of her father and brother, they recalled that each had been marked by unusual characteristics, although neither had resulted in official investigation.

DEATH LAID TO ASSAULT

O. B. Hartman died in the family home at 1726 Lime avenue, Long Beach, October 16, 1927. A month before, it was recalled, he had been struck on the head while asleep, the murderous attack occurring a few days after the killing of a neighbor by a pants burglar. His death, coming suddenly and after the wound had healed, was attributed at the time to after-effects of the nocturnal assault.

Early in June, 1929, Henry A. Hartman announced that he was about to marry; and a few days later he was stricken suddenly with what was diagnosed as ptomaine poisoning. He was taken to a Long Beach hospital, where he died on June 9. An unofficial post-mortem was performed by hospital pathologists to satisfy their curiosity, according to the Long Beach police, but it failed to disclose anything of a suspicious nature.

Ruth Hartman's death on the 14th inst. also at first was attributed to ptomaine poisoning. Last month the girl and her mother were seized with an illness after partaking of hamburger in the Long Beach amusement zone. Mrs. Hartman recovered the following day, but the girl suffered about two weeks before being pronounced out of danger. Then, on the verge of complete recovery, she had a relapse and died in the hospital.

A post-mortem at the Cleveland mortuary, according to the detectives, revealed indications of poisoning, and at the insistence of friends the vital organs were sent here yesterday for a chemical analysis. When County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner reported his finding of arsenic traces in the tissues, Coroner Nance asked the District Attorney's office to order the exhumation.

ALL CARRIED INSURANCE

The three dead persons all carried insurance policies, the father's being for $1000, the son's for $2700 and the daughter's for $1000. According to Detectives Le Baron and Wood the policies were payable to Mrs. Hartman. The officers also state investigation to date shows that shortly before his death Henry wished to let his policy lapse but that his mother dissuaded him and paid the premium.

Besides Mrs. Hartman, there are two surviving members of the family, one married daughter, and an unmarried daughter, Nettie, 19, a stenographer employed in a physician's office. The Hartmans have lived in Long Beach about twenty years, the father having been employed as a carpenter's helper.

An additional touch of mystery was given the case yesterday when Nettie Hartman told the detectives that recently she has received from an anonymous sender thirty pound boxes of candy and numerous boxes of cut flowers. Each gift was accompanied by a white card, blank except for the presence of a question mark.

Hearing Held Up in Graft Case

Preliminary hearing for former Mayor Reeve Houck and Councilmen Dave Clark and Dan Coombs of Culver City on graft charges was postponed yesterday by Municipal Judge Ballard until the 28th inst., pending further investigation of the case by the grand jury.

The three men are accused of misusing public funds in connection with an election which was to have been held in October, 1927. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman charges they used $2500 of the city's money to pay transient voters imported into Culver City for the election.

MOTORIST CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

A complaint charging H. Schumacker of 8631 Prince street with manslaughter was filed with Justice of the Peace Austin of Compton yesterday by W. S. Baker of 3630 Platt avenue, Lynwood, husband of Mrs. Ida L. Baker, 77 years of age, who died Sunday several hours after having been struck down by an automobile said to have been driven by Schumacker. The complaint was filed following an inquest in Compton yesterday. After the accident on Sunday, which took place at Long Beach Boulevard and Mulford avenue, Lynwood, Schumacker went to the Lynwood police station and made a report of it. The police questioned him further and then released him.

OFFICERS FLY NORTH TO ATTEND CONCLAVES

Bound for the first annual convention of the California Committee on Public Safety at Oakland, today and tomorrow, Capt. J. A. McCaleb and Lieut. C. D. McCarron of the Los Angeles Police Department left for the north yesterday afternoon via Continental Air Express. Capt. McCaleb, who commands the Highland Park division and Lieut. McCarron of the Hollywood division, will represent the California Peace Officers' Association at the convention. Tomorrow and Saturday, the local officers will attend the State convention of Optimists Clubs at the Oakland Hotel as delegates from the Los Angeles club.

RESERVE OFFICERS GIVEN PROMOTIONS

The following promotions in the Officers Reserve Corps have been announced by the Ninth Corps Area headquarters, Presidio, San Francisco; First Lieutenant Zachary Sanderson, 3425 Santa Monica Boulevard, to captain, Medical Administrative Corps; Capt. C. S. Ullen, 1060 South Broadway, to major, Medical Corps; Maj. J. G. Green, San Diego, to lieutenant-colonel, Medical Corps; First Lieutenant C. W. Spaulding, 145 Westmoreland avenue, to captain, Field Artillery, and Second Lieutenant Francis E. Parker, 1220 South Olive street, to first lieutenant, Quartermaster Corps.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATOR RESIGNS TO REST

After ten years as minister of religious education at the Temple Baptist Church in the Temple Auditorium Building, Rev. George Ellington Joy tendered his resignation at the midweek services last night. Dr. Joy pleads the need for extended rest and the opportunity to study. His withdrawal at this time is not to accept work in some other city.

REV. GEORGE ELLINGWOOD JOY

"These have been blessed years, the hardest of my life's ministry, yet the best and the most fruitful of all," Dr. Joy said last night.

There now are 2100 young people in the Bible school and, during the ten years of Dr. Joy's services there have been 490 baptisms from that school.

Dr. Joy paid high tribute to his associates, and to members of the various committees with whom he has worked.

The resignation is to become effective June 1, next.

'Handsome Man' to be Deported

Being a winner in a "handsome-man" contest did not enrich Alberto Rabagliati, 24-year-old Italian, it was demonstrated yesterday when he appeared before Immigration Inspector Bliss. After the investigation he was placed in the County Jail to await a warrant of arrest for deportation from the Department of Labor.

During the examination Rabagliati admitted that he entered the United States on June 2, 1927, on a leave of six months, and overstayed his leave. He stated that he is under contract to play in an Italian talking picture, due to begin tomorrow. He admitted that in the last six months he has made the sum of $50, in spite of having been named the "handsome man" in a contest.

An effort will be made today to have him released on bail.

DISABLED VETERAN OBTAINS DIVORCE

Mrs. Rose Roberts, twenty years younger than her 45-year-old husband, Harry Roberts, a disabled war veteran, told her husband she was 400 young to be tied down to a home, Roberts testified in Superior Judge Warne's court where he was garnted a divorce yesterday. According to Roberts's testimony, his wife swore at him, threw dishes and refused to prepare meals. She only married him because her father wanted her to, he testified she told him.

RITES CONDUCTED FOR ADELMO SCHROEDER

Funeral services were conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers yesterday for Adelmo Schroeder, retired business man and pioneer resident of Los Angeles, who died Sunday. Interment was in Forest Lawn Mausoleum. Mr. Schroeder, who was 74 years of age, came here in 1874 from Illinois. He was head of the Schroeder Sign Company for many years. His home was at 6430 West Sixth street. He leaves his widow, a son, William H. Schroeder, and a daughter, Miss Augusta Schroeder.

UTAH SHERIFF HERE ON MURDER CLEWS

Declining to disclose the full purpose of his trip to Los Angeles, Sheriff Patten of Salt Lake City late yesterday conferred with officers of the fugitive detail of the local Sheriff's office. When questioned, Sheriff Patten admitted, however, that he is here in connection with the murder of Mrs. Dorothy Moormeister, Salt Lake City woman who was found killed under mysterious circumstances last February.

RANDOLPH CASE UP TO HIGH COURT

Convict's Right to Share in Late Wife's Estate Hinges on Reno Divorce

Whether Jack Randolph, former Pasadena broker, now confined at McNeil's Island prison, will share in an estate valued at $135,000 left by his late wife, Mrs. May Winette Moore Randolph, will be a question for the Supreme Court to decide.

The question the court will decide will be whether Mrs. Randolph's divorce in Reno, Nev., from James E. Moore in 1910, was legal or not.

Announcement that the case will be appealed was made last night by Attorney H. H. Harris, counsel for Randolph, after Superior Judge Archbald held that the Nevada divorce is void.

It was the contention of Mrs. Wilson Collison, wife of the novelist and playwright, daughter of Mrs. Randolph by a former marriage, that her mother's Nevada divorce was illegal, therefore, her marriage to Randolph was illegal, which, she claims, bars him from sharing in her estate as a husband.

During the trial of the case a charge was also made by Mrs. Collison that Randolph is a mulatto, which, under the racial law of California, would have made his marriage to her mother illegal, if proved. The question then was raised how much Negro blood does one have to have to be a mulatto. Attorneys for Randolph assert it requires 50 per cent, which they say was not proven in his case.

According to Attorney Louis Pink, counsel for Mrs. Collison, Judge Archbald in his ruling in the matter declares he could not say what percentage of Negro blood is in Randolph's veins. This leaves the case going to the higher court on the question outlined above as to the validity of Mrs. Randolph's Nevada divorce from Moore. Attorney Pink contends that when Mrs. Randolph divorced Moore she was not a legal resident of Nevada, nor did she give her husband, James E. Moore, any notice that a suit was instituted.

Merchants' Credit Group in Suit for $2229.15

Sanhuber's Milwaukee Attic Retreat Investigated

Attachment of money in two bank accounts of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich on a suit of the Retail Merchants' Credit Association was made yesterday while the woman remained in jail with Otto Sanhuber, "the attic man," on charges in connection with the death of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, murdered eight years ago.

The credit association set $2229.15 in the suit and the papers were served on two downtown banks by Chief Civil Deputy Jewell of the Sheriff's office.

While the man and woman waited to appear in court on the 30th inst., to hear a ruling on a motion for severance of their trials, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello, in charge of the prosecution, yesterday reviewed reports on an attic hide-out asserted to have been used by Sanhuber in a Milwaukee home of the Oesterreichs.

The report dealt with a hidden room in the attic of a house at 363 Thirteenth avenue, Milwaukee, where Sanhuber, then known as Weir, is said to have lived unknown to the wealthy garment manufacturer, whom Sanhuber says he shot to death in the Los Angeles home.

Costello says he learns the Oesterreich home in Milwaukee was equipped with four locks on the rear door, and that the rear windows of the house were paned with frosted glass so that it was impossible to see into the residence.

The hidden chamber, he says, had a secret entrance from a third-floor bedroom, similar to the construction of the hide-out in the Los Angeles home, leading into a compartment under front gables, making a room about three feet high and thirty feet long.

If a severance of trial is denied, Sanhuber and Mrs. Oesterreich are scheduled to appear for hearing June 2, next, at 10 a.m.

GRAND JURY WILL SIFT SHORTAGE

Sierra Madre's Missing Municipal Funds to be Looked Into Further

Following an audit of the books in the water department branch of the city clerk's office in Sierra Madre revealing a shortage of $1439.30, a grand jury investigation into the matter will be asked at once, Blaney Matthews, chief of the District Attorney's bureau of investigation, announced yesterday.

According to Matthews, an investigation has been under way for several weeks, directed by Harry Owens, District Attorney's detective.

Since the inquiry was started, Marie McArthur, a former clerk in the water department, was questioned about the asserted shortage. According to Owens, Miss McArthur has disappeared from her former residence and now is being sought as a witness before the grand jury.

...Property Settlement Gets Court's Approval

...Receives $1000 a Month and Other Things

Mrs. Pearl S. Canfield yesterday was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce, separating her from Charles O. Canfield, son of the late Charles A. Canfield, California oil pioneer, by Superior Judge Blake after a short hearing.

Today a property settlement which delayed the trial of the suit for months, made out of court and approved yesterday by Judge Blake, Mrs. Canfield receives $20,000 in a lump sum, certain benefits from insurance policies held by Canfield, household furniture and $1000 a month until her death, providing she does not remarry. Should the latter die the monthly payments cease.

Canfield did not appear and the decree was given her decree by default.

Mrs. Canfield's examination on the witness stand, conducted by her attorney, Attorney H. R. Snyder, was brief. The burden of her testimony was to the effect that her rich husband had introduced another woman to friends as Mrs. Canfield.

Her testimony was corroborated by J. A. Pennell and Charles S. Peck, friends of the family.

The witnesses said Canfield introduced another woman to them as his wife at Agua Caliente, in 1928. Another witness, Mrs. Harriet Lansing, declared the news of Canfield's action had seriously impaired his wife's health.

Canfield's cross-complaint he charged he had obtained a divorce from Mrs. Canfield in 1926 at Culiacan, state of Sinaloa, Mex. He also charged his wife of deserting him in 1927. He declared he went home one day and found their home disrupted and his wife gone.

In her petition Mrs. Canfield asserted the divorce of her husband obtained was invalid for the reason that she had never been legally notified of such an action had been instituted. However, nothing was said about the Mexico divorce in the wife's testimony yesterday. Canfield was represented yesterday by Attorney Curtis Hillyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Canfield were married at Santa Clara on June 13, 1913, and separated November 1, 1925. There are no children.

In some of the preliminary court proceedings Mrs. Canfield asserted her husband's income from his father's estate was between $50,000 and $60,000 per year.

ALBERTINA RASCH WILL START EAST

On a mission that will take her to London within a few weeks, Albertina Rasch, maestra of the dance, will leave tonight for New York. The woman who created the American ballet will supervise final preparations for dances in a New York production and will conduct rehearsals before sailing for London with a troupe. She plans to use Hollywood trained girls.

Victory Project Will Be Up in Council Again For Argument on May 1

The City Council wrangled for an hour yesterday over the confirmation of assessments for the acquisition of Victory Park, No. 2, in the Arroyo Seco, at a cost of $867,014, but failed to settle the matter, putting it off again until May 1.

Two actions were taken, each indicating that the majority favors confirming the assessments. The resolution of Councilman Williams proposing that the matter be submitted to the electorate at the November election in the form of a bond issue for $950,000 was defeated, 8 to 6; while the transaction was continued until a later date instead of being abandoned.

During the eight days' wait Councilmen Jacobson and Holland, who represent the districts affected, are expected to go over the assessments so that at the next hearing a resolution covering the proposed changes can be submitted.

Councilman Lewis during the argument said the assessments never can be modified to make them equitable. Councilman Randall insisted the Council be frank with the property owners. He said he scents a "foxy move" to delay the matter until after the May 20 water-bond election.

TOURISTS RETURN TO PRESS DAMAGE SUIT

Damages amounting to $62,000 are asked in a suit brought by Elias M. Rothman, his wife, Lena, and her sister, Mrs. L. E. Siegelstein, against Dr. David Saylin, Venice dentist, which went to trial yesterday before a jury in Superior Judge Archbald's court. The action is for injuries asserted to have been received by the two women when an automobile in which they were riding collided with one driven by the dentist at Sixth street and Arden Boulevard on July 13, 1929. Rothman is a retired business man living in Detroit and Mrs. Siegelstein at Cleveland. Both are here to prosecute the suit.

Today's Bible Text

For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.—Romans xii, 3.

BUSY
Now a baby is said to be born every thirteen seconds. There is certainly no unemployment among the storks.

EVENING THINGS UP
If the price of gasoline goes any lower, John D. Rockefeller may be giving away nickels instead of dimes.

GO TO IT
If Mr. Brown succeeds in getting the postal rates raised perhaps we won't get so much "literature" through the mails.

THAT POKER GAME
If money talks, the sixty-hour conference that settled the Fox Film controversy certainly could be classed as an "all-talkie."

THE NEW PLANET
A Berkeley professor discredits the new planet discovered at Flagstaff, Ariz. That makes it just one vote short of being unanimous.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT
If the Congressional Record is broadcast as suggested, a larger number than ever will be in favor of the abolition of Capitol punishment.

GOING CONCERNS
Rev. Phillip Osgood of Minneapolis waves in his faith and says that the Sunday-schools must go. That is what they are doing, brother—going hard.

PUTTING PUNCH INTO IT
"First Baptist Church of Benton, Ill., takes over the operation of a gasoline filling station to help meet running expenses."—News item. It will be used to speed up the pulpit, as it were.

VALUABLE FIND
The psychological research department of some great university should reward Preston Sturges, young playwright, for discovering that a man can borrow $7 from his mother-in-law.

WET REVOLT
It has been called a wet revolt and some drys have been disturbed. But from recent dispatches, it simmers down to the turnover of a revolving fund furnished by a few wet wealthies.

HE COMES FROM THERE
Will Rogers will be in bad with a certain Chamber of Commerce. In his entire spiel about the advantages of the rube town as an incubator of great men he never mentioned Claremore once.

TOWERS OF BABEL
An airplane picture of New York shows the highest buildings to be down in lower Manhattan around Wall street and vicinity. Where dollars stack the highest, there the buildings soar. Los Angeles will likely have the same history in values.

THE CLEAN SWEEP
Oakland is going after this reform thing properly. Whist was banned the other day. Aside from the news that whist still is being played, there is a suspicion that all ping-pong and roque games are to be raided and that jail sentences will be invoked for horseshoe pitching.

SH! IT MAY BE TRUE
When a modern king puts enough thought into a prank to have a garden bench rigged up so that it will drench the sitter, it makes us wonder whether some one ought to slap Alfonso on the wrist. Certainly this hardly measures up with his accepted reputation for common sense.

IT ALL DEPENDS
If a Communist leader had testified before a Senate committee that his organization spent $425,000 for propaganda against the Constitution, there would have been wholesale arrests, deportations and jail sentences, and it would have been called sedition. Loyalty evidently depends upon the public sentiment back of one's revolution.

NAVAL PACT COMPLETED
Completion and signing of the naval accord at London represents a great advance in international relations. Compared with what might have been, the accomplishment of the conference falls short of what was desired; but compared with existing conditions it constitutes a vast improvement. The race in cruiser, destroyer and submarine armament as between the three great naval powers is definitely ended by this agreement. The battleship holiday is continued. The failure at Geneva is wiped out. The start made at Washington in 1921 is carried to fruition.

So far as the United States is concerned, the failure of France and Italy to agree to limitation is not likely to be serious. The United States is not specially interested in the Mediterranean and has no need to worry about any naval construction that either of these powers is likely to undertake. And if either does start building which might hazard our interests, the safeguarding clause of the treaty automatically applies and permits us to meet it.

In all probability this clause will be as effective in preventing undue naval expansion by the powers which do not sign the limitation clauses, as their actual agreement to limitation would have been. While each is theoretically free to build as much as it likes, practically notice has been served that the United States, Great Britain and Japan will take appropriate measures if this freedom is too much indulged.

Parity between the United States and Great Britain has been achieved. By sinking five capital ships to our three, the battleship fleet of Great Britain is brought to substantial equality with our own. In large cruisers we are to have superiority, in smaller ones Great Britain is to have superiority. In submarines each of the three nations is to have the same tonnage, but the building of any more large submarines is forbidden. Destroyer tonnage is limited—in fact, every category of vessels that would be effective in naval warfare has been set upon the scales and passed under the yardstick and there is agreement to hold its construction within bounds.

The provisions for submarine warfare also represent an advance. The use of submarines that brought the United States into the World War has been forbidden, and these provisions are open to the signature of all nations so that, in all probability, they will pass into international law, to remain there indefinitely. It might have been better to eliminate the submarine entirely, but reduction to a defensive status, through size limitation and restrictions on use against merchant shipping, is of considerable value.

This treaty will, of course, suit neither the pacifists nor the jingoes, which indicates that it is a pretty good treaty. President Hoover announces that it will be submitted to the Senate immediately after the arrival here of the American delegation bringing the official copy, and that the requisite majority can be mustered for its ratification seems certain. Not even the Senate fault-finders have been able to discover any reasons for its nonacceptance so far, and while no doubt specious arguments against it will make their appearance, and there will be delays, its appeal to the majority of the thinking people of the country is too strong to prevent its success.

Some grumbling over the allotment to the United States of a considerable tonnage of small cruisers may be expected, and it will be argued that they are of no use whatever to our Navy. This, of course, is nonsense, and not even a naval expert will be able to make such a contention with a straight face, in view of the accomplishments of such vessels as the Seeadler during the World War.

Upon the whole, the treaty puts the United States in a far more favorable position than it was after the Washington conference. It concedes us complete parity. It stops the construction race. It requires few sacrifices of serviceable vessels—the Washington treaty required many. And it will save the Treasury many millions of dollars, an item worth considering even for a country as wealthy as the United States.

This nation does not want to "lick all creation," nor does it want to create distrust and suspicion of its motives. It wants a navy sufficient to safeguard it, but no more.

THE N. V. A. BENEFIT
Shrine Auditorium, next Saturday evening, will be the scene of a benefit performance for many reasons of exceptional appeal to the people of Los Angeles. On that occasion the National Variety Artists' Association will stage its annual show to help the sick and needy of the theatrical profession. How many times has Los Angeles called on the talent of Hollywood for aid and support to stimulate interest or to raise funds for worthy and charitable causes, or to stage pageants for public festivals; and how generous has always been the response! It is now their turn to look to us for support. We certainly should be as ready to do for them as they have always been willing to do for us.

The N. V. A. was started in 1916 and every year since then it has enlarged its operations. It maintains a sanatorium at Saranac Lake, N. Y., where 350 patients are cared for all the time, and it takes care of needy and destitute actors and actresses all over the country. The enhanced operation of the talking pictures has brought a large addition to the Hollywood colony of actors, artists and writers; and the Hollywood people are, therefore, anxious to do their share in providing funds for the one big charity supported by the theatrical profession.

Benefits for this object are this year being given throughout the United States, but the main activities naturally concentrate in the nation's two leading theatrical cities, New York and Los Angeles. No city has a greater concentration of stage talent than Los Angeles and next Saturday night the finest and best-known artists of the acting and picture craft are giving their services free, so that at the Shrine Auditorium will be witnessed a galaxy of leading stars which no financial inducement could gather on one stage for the entertainment of the public.

Only as a free-will offering from the profession as a whole, in aid of a cause dear to the hearts of its members, could such a show as this be staged. All who take advantage of the opportunity presented can be sure of seeing a company of players that no other occasion could unite in one performance, and in addition members of the audience will have the satisfaction of knowing that every dollar collected will be spent for the Christian work of healing the sick and taking care of the needy.

PLEASE DON'T COPY!
Famous style expert is quoted as saying that an old suit and a smart tie and collar make the well-dressed man. Wouldn't it be awful for our impressionable movie fans if Hollywood leading men went stylish!

ASTRONOMERS
By James J. Montague

Astronomers are men who ply
The trade of studying the sky;

They're happy, if into their ken
A comet rambles now and then,

Or if, some lucky night, they view
A planet which is fresh and new.

With souls alight with eager hope
They sit behind a telescope

And seek, in some sidereal zone,
A sphere which is as yet unknown.

Yet these strange bodies that they see
Are of no use to you or me.

We cannot on them file a claim
And add them to our broad domain,

Or vote their people yea or nay
Upon our next election day.

Or make them vote their acceptation
Of sumptuary legislation.

What they discover in the skies
May make us possibly more wise,

But I can't understand how it
Can be of any benefit.

For any good it does the nation
Theirs seems a useful occupation.

LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

EVEN a waiter may make history. Even a waiter who seems utterly automatic, suppressed and atmospheric. Even a waiter at the California Club!

It was just 12:30 p.m., or high noon in California Club parlance. The dining-room was full of people engaged in their regular daily silence contest—trying to see which one could be most completely gustless about his gustatory devoirs. You could have heard a pin drop or even a soup drop. If anyone there could have been guilty of such a thing as to have let a drop of bouillon fall to the floor the splash would have been heard all over the room.

And then, all of a sudden, there was a clatter of dishes which sounded like an old-time Mack Sennett comedy looked.

A waiter had dropped a tray full of dishes.

Diners who might have sat imperturbable in the presence of exploding bombs sprang to their feet. Ejaculations burst from pallid lips. One man who was just entering turned back, thinking he had wandered into the Athletic Club by mistake. Groups from different tables got together and excitedly asked each other what had happened, without even waiting to be introduced.

In fact, the place almost came to life.

History Records No Precedent

"The world is coming to an end!" exclaimed President Sam Haskins.

"It can't, as long as the Republican party stays in power," staunchly affirmed Joe Scott. "I think maybe it's only an earthquake."

"Nonsense!" retorted W. M. Garland. "Real earthquakes are a physical impossibility in Los Angeles. Slight tremors, sometimes—yes. But nothing like this. I think the waiter must merely have become overawed by the dignity of this place, and lost his head."

"He's done that, all right," agreed Haskins, with meaning. "But let us confer with the Oldest Inhabitant, to see if anything like this ever occurred before."

"There's John R. Haynes," suggested Scott. "Ask him."

But Haynes shook his head. "Once in 1871 a waiter dropped a spoon," he said. "But a whole cataclysm of dishes—never!"

"You're mixed in your dates," said Scott. "That didn't happen till 1896. I remember that then it was absolutely unprecedented, and we were going to have the man drawn and quartered for sacrilege and lack of proper reverence for sacred traditions. But we found the poor fellow's mind was upset about Bryan, and had mercy on him."

"This is no campaign year, though," was Haskins's ominous comment. "Maybe this poor fellow has suddenly learned that he has just lost $10,000 in the stock exchange, or something like that. But it is hardly conceivable that anyone guilty of such a crime against the traditions of the most dignified club in America can escape proper punishment—if any punishment can be severe enough to fit the crime. Why, even when Tommy Woolwine tried to get funny with this club there was nothing so indecorous as this!"

But during all that excited conversation the waiter escaped. And as none of the gentlemen diners can identify him it is possible that he will not even be indicted by the grand jury.

Government Interested in Domestic Spats

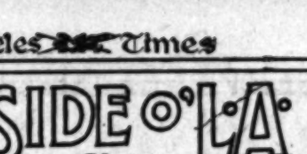
Lee: While many of my friends received census questionnaires printed on white paper, I and several others I know, living in Hollywood, received pink questionnaires, and on them appears the question: "What are your martial relations?" One man I know answered: "War from the first." But what I want to know is, are those pink slips printed especially for circulation in Hollywood?—C. C.

The Poetry Shower

Remember, folks, sixteen lines is our poetry limit. Some good poems are coming in which are too long for use. Stanley F. Widener, for instance, sends us one on "The Flag" which has been set to music for chorus singing, which he gently suggests might do for adoption instead of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Here's one with the real ring in it—a little too suggestive of Masefield, perhaps, but no ordinary poem:

High Seas



I care not how the winds may blow
If but the winds blow strong.
Prey send no veering, halting breath
To bear my craft along—
Just a bright, bright star to steer by
That my ship may not go wrong.

I care not how the seas may toss
Or over the waves may roll,
Or if the fires of outpost stars
Must be my utmost goal . . .

I ride with beauty on treasure ships
Where the far dim quays are piled,
And I carry the kiss of a mother's lips
And the smile of a little child . . .

These are enough, O Master of Ships,
With your harbor of stars a-gleaming:
A far-flung sail, a booming breeze
And a song when the spray is streaming!

SERG. CYRUS C. JOHNSON.

And there is something genuinely touching in this:

A Mother's Prayer

God in Heaven—
She's such a little thing,
So fearful of the dark.
Let me, her mother, go with her.
And help her to embark
Upon that mystic, soundless sea
That stretches to eternity!

Dear God—
If she must go alone
To that far home of rest,
Will not some lovely mother there
Clasp my dear one to her breast,
And say: "Poor little frightened dove,
You shall not miss a mother's love!"

ROSE G. PARKER.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

PROPOSING A "JUNIOR BAR"
[Boston Transcript]

The Carnegie Foundation's annual review of legal education recommends a plan to establish a so-called "junior bar." The discipline which this reform would impose upon new members of the legal profession is not drastic or cumbersome. On the contrary, it is quite simple, encouraging hope that it would prove efficacious.

Under the junior-bar plan, young men and women would not be denied, at the time of their admission, any privilege which they now enjoy. They would continue to be allowed a full professional right to practice law in all its branches and before any court. But they would be given to understand that this right is provisional. "After a certain number of years," says a statement describing the plan, "these privileges will expire, unless confirmed. On the other hand, the practitioner who, after suitable investigation or examination, has once had his license to practice thus extended or renewed, will not thereafter be disturbed, except by the extraordinary process of suspension or disbarment."

In view of the long and arduous preparation already required of young men who undertake to train themselves in a really adequate manner for the practice of law, the change here suggested seems grounded in a very commendable spirit of fairness. It does not, in principle, make any addition to the lengthy period of study which the young applicant must undergo before receiving admission. But the plan does tend to close up a pitfall which, under existing methods, stands wide open. As admission to the bar is now arranged, there is a risk that the young practitioner, once he has cleared the hurdles of the bar examination, may merely feel, "Well, that's over. The last of the formal requirements which society will ever impose upon me is over and done with."

SOME PUZZLERS
[New York Evening Post]

The spelling bee participated in by Congressmen and newspaper men was interesting, but what we want to see is one staged by Senators and Representatives who have been discussing the tariff bill, the contest to include words like "ethylhydrocupracine," "pyroxylin," "saccharides" and "xylene."

WITH NO LOST TIME
[Washington Post]

Senator Brookhart introduces a resolution that would permit the Supreme Court to declare an act of Congress unconstitional only by unanimous decision. If the resolution were approved there would be a unanimous Supreme Court decision.

LETTERS TO The Times

Razing Bunker Hill

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] You say the project to raze Bunker Hill is a commercial rather than a municipal enterprise. A commercial company has no power to destroy streets. Municipal aid must be asked, and the final plan must be municipal, and not private.

If the cost of removal would be $25,000,000, and this would be covered by the gain in land value, what about the improvements, worth as much as the land? These must be paid for.

Mr. Bigelow's estimate of the increase is speculative and extravagant. He could as well reason in this way: We have many unemployed; therefore, wages will rise. We should bring to Los Angeles all the unemployed in the State, then wages will rise still more. It is a parallel case. Hill street north of Fourth is almost vacant. East of Hill are hundreds of lots ready for business buildings, if there be a demand. To cut down 1200 lots to compete with these lots, for which there is no demand, would increase values, says Mr. Bigelow. All around the hill are cut-down lots, used for parking. This wild speculation is intended to encourage owners to trade their good lots for unsecured stock, which would dwindle and leave them nothing.

Let Bunker Hill develop normally and gradually. To attempt to cut it down all at once would benefit only contractors, promoters, wreckers, etc., and end in disaster. C. F. HUNT.

Real Estate Values

HOLLYWOOD, April 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] That well-selected Los Angeles real estate is the safest and most profitable investment in the world is indicated by comparisons made by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of the 1919 assessed valuation of corners located in all sections of Los Angeles with the assessed valuation of 1929. In making its survey of a street, the Title Guarantee has taken into consideration every corner, good and bad alike. These figures show that during the last ten years Los Angeles corner properties have increased in assessed valuation on an average of 1740 per cent, or 174 per cent annually. In no case has a corner covered by the survey depreciated in value.

Where is there a listed stock or bond which can show such a record? To my mind this survey of increases in Los Angeles property values is the greatest proof so far presented of the stability of Los Angeles real estate. G. D. MOYER.

Entitled to Promotion

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am glad to be a subscriber to The Times especially so because of its splendid editorial page.

Your illuminating statement relative to the Julian debacle certainly was much needed in this community where everyone holds a most decided opinion generally based upon a most casual and superficial accumulation of prejudices and hearsay.

Dist.-Atty. Buron Fitts deserves much praise for his energy and courage. It certainly took a lot on his part to have to stand waist deep in a most distressing situation, especially so when he is himself a candidate for Governor.

Any faithful public official certainly is entitled to seek a higher office just as any faithful and diligent employee of any corporation might expect a promotion based upon good work. In view of that he cannot be justly criticised for a thing that is beyond his control.

Reading the editorial column of The Times is a constant source of inspiration and enlightenment. ED LA BART.

Says Mojave Climate Maligned

ADELANTO (Cal.) April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A letter by Mrs. E. J. Easley was sent to me by a friend in Los Angeles, who knew that I have "lived" in the district near Victorville for some time. I, too, ranch near Victorville, and there is no amount of money which could buy this ranch, unless I could turn about and buy one from my next-door neighbor.

Twenty years of my life were spent in the Middle West and three years I lived in Los Angeles and Hollywood. I have been in every State in the Union. There is no place perfect, but when I say that the southeastern part of San Bernardino county is an ideal climate with an altitude of almost 3000 feet and the slight changes of season give a needed variety, I believe that this is almost perfect. No one ever heard of anyone having a sunstroke on the streets of Victorville. And wind, well, the wind blows at times in every unsettled locality in Southern California.

On good authority I have heard that "a desert is a place which receives less than three inches of rainfall," therefore, Victorville and vicinity are not a "desert," for we receive an annual rainfall of 5.5 inches. Of course it is colder than in Los Angeles, but we do not require any more fuel or clothing than they do in that locality, because this is a high mesa lying along the base of the San Bernardino Mountains and we never have those cold, damp fogs which predominate in the winter along the coast.
MILDRED BLANCHARD.

The average matrimonial problem these days is one of subtraction. You substract one from one and get two after the decree is signed.

AMERICA TO THE "REDS"

By An Open Shop Carpenter

The Creator has given us one of the best countries in the world to live in and our forefathers have given us a flag and traditions to love and uphold. We have heard your defiling utterances against our flag, nation and loved ones and we reject them entirely.

We have listened with attention and serious thought to what you have said. You have asked us (American citizens) to join you and by so doing you have also given us the privilege to speak our minds freely. We have heard your voice and doctrine and seen your actions and we speak to you as one man. Our minds are agreed: You say you want to run this government in your way, but we disagree with you and will give you our answer before you leave this country.

It is right that you should be told quickly as you are a great distance from home and we do not want to detain you.

There was a time when our forefathers owned very little of this land. Their seats were very unsure. But there came a great man who guided his brothers to freedom. By so doing we obtained a home, a country and a glorious flag.

We were allowed to plant crops and raise our food and make our own clothes, or, in other words, were allowed to live our own lives and we have continued to advance until now we are one of the richest nations of the world.

But you are here trying to wish or force an evil and unsound doctrine upon us. Most of you have crossed the ocean and landed here. You found friends and not enemies until you made them. You were offered an opportunity to make your home in a great country and in return you only preached anarchy.

Our eyes have been opened and we are ready to combat your revolutionary propaganda and your efforts to set brother fighting against brother.

You tell us you have been sent to instruct us and that if we don't heed you we will always be downtrodden by capital leaders. You say that times will continue to get worse unless we rebel and overthrow our government. You wish to destroy our great schools and their method of teaching. You would close our churches and you condemn our religions.

But we know we have as great if not the greatest system of learning in our schools to be found in the world, and as for religion, we let each person's conscience be his guide.

We believe the way to have better times is for capital and labor to become better acquainted, to work more in harmony one with the other. An honest profit and contented and happy work should be the best and most pleasant investment any man could make. Contented and happy workmen produce the best goods and citizens.

We working Americans may not be entirely satisfied with the relations between capital and labor, but we are far more dissatisfied with your teachings.

You say you have come to enlighten our minds so that we can gain lands and money for the masses instead of for the few.

Bosh and folly. You can't seriously expect intelligent Americans to overthrow a rich and prosperous government and accept a plan that has failed in your home country.

I have attended your meetings and have seen you take up collections and have been told what it was for, and if we should believe your teachings we, too, would have to donate to a few who are living off the many.

You have received answers to your teachings from many sources. This is all we, the American workers, have to say at present, except if you are not satisfied with this country and its laws we pray the great Spirit or Supreme Power will guide you to a safe and speedy return to your own home shores.
A. E. SMITH.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Clothing Construction?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A clothing construction class at the Hollywood Evening High School, 1521 North Highland avenue, meets on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9, in room 5 of the Domestic Science Building. There is no charge of any kind, people of all ages are admitted, and tourists are given a friendly welcome.

Not only are students helped on individual garments, but business women and women with daughters are taught how to plan a whole wardrobe. There is very little lecturing, but those who come just to listen may watch the different fittings and ask questions which their own problems suggest.

Instruction is given in making muslin patterns, in running the sewing machine and in facts concerning the pressing and shrinking of wool.

N. B. In the first-aid class, described Monday, April 21, it was stated that a charge of 50 cents was made for Red Cross certificates. The Red Cross Society informs us that these certificates are issued free of charge.

CENSUS SLANG

If the census enumerators had not been dignified representatives of the government, they might well have been tempted to use an appropriate bit of slang. "Count yourself, you're not so many!" when they encountered protesting ones who objected to having their noses counted, though quite willing to believe that the hairs of their heads are numbered. F. H. H.

PICTURE AND STAR FLY EAST

Speed Needed for New York Premiere

Joseph Santley and Helen Twelvetrees

WHEN executives of the Pathe studios faced the problem of either having an advance print of a new picture and its star in New York for a world premiere within three days after the final cutting of the picture or postponing the event, they resorted to air transportation to solve it.

As a result, some sort of record is expected when Helen Twelvetrees and a print of "Swing High" are officially received in New York tomorrow morning by Mayor Walker, just twenty minutes more than two days from the time they boarded a T.A.T.-Maddux plane at Glendale yesterday.

Sixteen stars and executives from the Pathe studios were at the Grand Central Air Terminal to bid Miss Twelvetrees good luck.

Art Commission Approval Given Many Projects

Plans considered by the Municipal Art Commission for the first three months of the year aggregate $4,250,328, an increase of 72 per cent over the same period last year, according to a report submitted yesterday by Miss Elizabeth Black, general manager.

Municipal buildings, bridges and grade separation structures amounting to $3,538,660 were approved by the commission, including Hangar No. 3 at the Municipal Airport and alterations to the Coliseum.

The commission also approved the model of a Valentino memorial fountain to be erected in De Longpre Park, Hollywood, by popular subscription.

TEACHING EXHIBIT OPENING

Simplified methods of teaching mathematics to students of the elementary school age will be exhibited today in the Hillstreet Building by Mrs. Mabel Arleigh, according to announcement at the extension division of the University of California. Mrs. Arleigh has assembled a series of charts and has enlisted the aid of stories. The exhibit will be open all day to teachers or parents.

WIFE RESENTS ROLE OF OBSCURE MENIAL

Lewis N. Phillips told his wife Lola, that she need not consider herself in his plans except as a housekeeper and a cook as he was not interested in her as a wife, Mrs. Phillips testified yesterday before Superior Judge Price when granted a divorce. The wife also declared her husband would fly into fits of rage during which he would break up dishes and tear off his clothing. The couple married at Riverside on January 21, 1920, and separated March 25, last.

OBSERVANCE BY SCHOOLS NEAR APEX

Many Meetings Scheduled for Tomorrow as Feature of Week's Celebration

Public schools week will reach the climax of its celebration tomorrow night when approximately thirty meetings will be held in school auditoriums and Masonic temples throughout the city.

D. W. Pontius, president of the Pacific Electric Railway, yesterday contributed to the school-week program with a radio address.

Mayor Porter addressed the meeting at the Fairfax High School last night.

Dr. W. V. Goodfellow is scheduled to appear at the Belmont High School meeting tonight, and Benjamin F. Bledsoe will speak at the Inglewood High School. East Gate Temple will present a program that will include Morris M. Ferguson as the speaker.

The classes in oratory will present the program at the University High School tonight, and Van Nuys High School will celebrate by conducting classes during the evening.

Meetings will be held tomorrow night at the San Pedro High School, John Adams Junior High School, John Burroughs High School, Atwater School, Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School, Gardner School, Washington-street School, Alexandria-avenue School, Rose Hill School, Luther Burbank Junior High School, Fletcher Drive School, Sentous Junior High School, Carthay Circle School, Monte Vista-street School, Manual Arts High School, West Hollywood High School, Micheltorena School, Virgil Junior High School, Palms School, Reseda School, Los Angeles High School, Richard Dana High School, Beverly Hills High School, Monte Vista-street School and Nathaniel A. Narbonne High School.

PROGRAM OF FUR SESSION ANNOUNCED

Entertainment Features of National Convention in Los Angeles Completed

Entertainment features were completed yesterday for the 1000 delegates expected here to attend the seventh annual convention of the national fur industry which will open Monday and continue for three days. As announced last night by H. W. Blaine, executive chairman of the committee in charge, the program is as follows:

Saturday—Registration of delegates; midnight show at the Ambassador Theater.

Sunday—Water carnival in Ambassador plunge, featuring Mack Sennett bathing girls; afternoon tea for women members; auto trips about city.

Monday—Opening to the public in the fiesta room of the Ambassador of exhibition by the United States government and by fur manufacturers of methods of processing and preparing furs for market, this exhibition being free; first business session; evening, style revue for the trade only, showing $2,000,000 worth of furs in competition.

Tuesday—Spanish barbecue and golfing; evening, fur fashion revue in Cocoanut Grove, open to the public.

Wednesday—Inspection of merchandise for buyers; entertainment features, including trip to Lake Norconian Club.

RAID NETS GAMBLING EVIDENCE

Chips and Roulette Wheel Taken Along With Four Prisoners in Hollywood

Poker chips of $500 and $1000 denomination and a roulette wheel were displayed yesterday by detectives as evidence taken in a raid on a residence at 1791 North Sycamore avenue, Hollywood, Tuesday night. Four men were arrested on charges of possession of a gambling device. They gave their names as Earl P. Morgan, 33 years of age, of 1735 East Forty-first street; Roy Nash, 32, 1431 West Forty-first street; Frank Hale, 43, 1521 North Wilcox avenue, and Earl Herman, 30, 1719 North Sycamore avenue.

Officers Lincoln, Treharn and Weir of the central vice squad and Investigators McDonnell and Southern of the District Attorney's staff conducted the raid. They assert Morgan is the owner of the house raided.

These officers went to the house to investigate a report that men and women played for high stakes there. Receiving no response to ringing of the doorbell, McDonnell kicked in a glass door, cutting one leg. The others entered and report they found the four men trying to hide a roulette outfit in a folding wall bed.

Obligingness of Mate Aids in Annulment

Oscar Jappey, a salesman, showed Superior Judge Collier yesterday just how obliging he can be when his second wife, Florence Jappey, appeared to get an annulment.

First, Jappey testified for his wife, saying he had another one living at the time he married the second Mrs. Jappey. He said, however, he did not know she was alive at the time.

After granting the annulment, Judge Collier said:

"Well, I'm going to order you to pay $25 a month for the support of your child.

Again Jappey was obliging.

"I'd rather pay $60 a month if it is agreeable with the court," he said. So the order was entered.

APPEAL COURT TO CELEBRATE

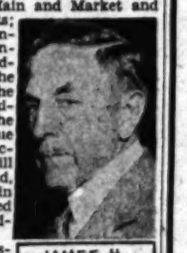
Veteran Employees of First Tribunal Mark Era

Clerk and Reporter Serve Quarter-Century

Institution Occupies Four Locations in Time

The District Court of Appeal will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary today with two of the original officers of the court still active in furthering the ends of justice.

HARRY C. LILLIE



JAMES H. CRUMRINE

The two veterans are Harry C. Lillie, clerk of the court, and James H. Crumrine, chief reporter. They both began service as deputy clerks a quarter of a century ago today. In that time they have served with the court in four locations, first in the Bullard Block, between Spring and Main and Market and Court streets; then in the International Bank Building across the street from the Federal Building; later in the Union League Building at Second and Hill streets and, since 1921, in the Associated Realty Building.

The first justices of the local district were appointed by the Supreme Court to sit until the election of the bench. The appointees were Wheaton A. Gray, presiding justice, and Mathew T. Allen and George H. Smith, associate justices. They sat at the first court session twenty-five years ago.

INITIAL JUDGMENT

About a year later elected justices took office. The new justices were Allen, presiding justice, and Associate Justices Victor E. Shaw and James W. Taggart. The first minutes entered in the records related to organization details. The first oral argument was on a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Archie Hill, accused of murder. The judgment of the Superior Court was affirmed in this case.

The first order entered in the minutes specified that an examination for candidates for admission to the bar should be held on May 12. The list of successful candidates was headed, in minutes of May 13, by Norman A. Bailie, the present head of the Los Angeles Bar Association.

Justices of the two divisions of the District Court are:

Division One, Presiding Justice Conrey and Associate Justices York and Houser; Division Two, Presiding Justice Works and Associate Justices Craig and Thompson.

CANDIDACY IDEA UPSET BY McADOO

"Out of Politics," He Says, in Answer to Boom for Gubernatorial Post

William G. McAdoo, twice a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, and former Secretary of the Treasury in the Wilson administration, is "out of politics" he said yesterday in commenting on reports that California Democrats plan to enter his name as a candidate for Governor in the August primary election.

"The first I heard of the proposed candidacy," McAdoo asserted, "was when I was told that a story concerning the matter had been wired here from San Francisco. I know nothing about it whatsoever. I am out of politics."

Local Democrats, after reading a statement from H. H. McPike of San Francisco, Democratic State Central Committee chairman, in which McPike indicated a desire to support McAdoo for Governor, are disposed to conclude that McPike merely had been indulging in a demonstration calculated to bring about better political feeling among the warring factions of the party in this State.

McAdoo's friends in Los Angeles said yesterday that he not only has ceased to be an active political figure, but that his retirement is of a permanent nature.

Two Convicted of Petty Theft Receive Fines

Charges of working a picture-frame scheme resulted yesterday in the conviction of W. C. Bush and J. M. Shaddrick, 823 South Grand avenue, of petty theft. Municipal Judge McConnell imposed fines of $150 or thirty days in jail on the men, who filed notice of appeal and were released on $500 bond each.

Detective Lieutenants Swan and Marshall charged that a girl accomplice first distributed coupons to householders, explaining that one with the winning number entitled the holder to a free oil enlargement of a photograph. It was asserted that each coupon had the winning number, but that the photograph and painting were not delivered unless the supposed winner bought a frame at from $10 to $100.

A. T. GIBSON TO SPEAK

A. T. Gibson, president of the Lawrence Warehouse Company, with head office in San Francisco, and chairman on the committee of banking relations of Warehousemen's Association, will discuss "Field Warehousing" before the American Institute of Banking class Monday evening in the Lincoln Building.

Go EAST.

THIS COMFORTABLE SCENIC WAY

It's Clean...Dependable...Economical

When you go East, go by Pickwick-Greyhound Motor Coach—the modern way to travel.

Pickwick Greyhound is clean and comfortable. Equipment is luxurious and up to date. Coaches are finely appointed, roomy, and subject to rigid daily inspection. They have reclining seats, of course. Fine terminals and courteous service contribute to your well-being.

Pickwick-Greyhound travel is more scenic. You have your choice of two routes—either by way of Salt Lake or by the Grand Canyon route via Santa Fe. Motor coaches enable you to see parts of the country open to no other form of public travel. Suitable side-trips and stop-overs can be arranged.

Pickwick-Greyhound travel is reliable. It is part of a nation-wide travel system extending 35,000 miles from coast to coast and border to border,—a travel system whose record for dependability is unequalled in modern transportation. Our lines carry millions of passengers every year and make thousands of runs every day—rapidly, regularly, and on time.

And of course, Pickwick-Greyhound travel costs less.

A CLEAN GIVE-AWAY

It's a trade secret not generally known, but a number of leading hairdressers use White King Granulated Soap for shampooing—even though it's specifically designed for household use!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is the purest, safest soap made. It contains no "filler" nor foreign matter of any sort. It's made of vegetable oils good enough to eat! If water won't hurt it, White King won't ... blankets .. dishes .. or lingerie.

And it's economical too. Because it's condensed, a little goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, or a cupful in the washtub, and your washing troubles are over. Your grocer has it.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the smart affairs of the week was the spring luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Georgina Elizabeth Schermerhorn at the Town House, honoring Mrs. Lucien T. Russell, formerly of Forest Hill, N. J. but with Mr. Russell and their interesting family now making her home here, a beautiful new home in Beverly Hills having just been completed. Mrs. Nicholas E. Rice, who is leaving shortly for an extended trip east, shared the honors of the afternoon. The table was charming and artistic in its decorations of pink butterfly roses and lavender iris, laid in the large circular window overlooking the gardens. Unusual place cards marked the covers for Mrs. Owen Humphrey Churchill, Mrs. Oliver S. Hershman, Mrs. Rufus Bernard Von KleinSmid, Mrs. Alfred Griffith Bartlett, Mrs. A. Stephan Vavra, Mrs. William J. Chichester, Mrs. Joseph Harvey Miles, Mrs. J. Chris Lange of Paris, Mrs. Harrett Lansing Hogan, Mrs. Harmon David Ryus and her sister, Mrs. Albert Charles Phillips of Seattle, Mrs. A. M. Carey, Mrs. E. J. Guthrie, Mrs. Elliot Worcester Field, Mrs. Herman Vollmer, Mrs. F. H. Nichols, Mrs. Robert W. Wilde, Mrs. Henry Crocather, Miss Margaret Dent, Miss Ida Marriott White, the hostess and honor guests.

Before The Symphony

Mrs. Russ Avery of 214 North Rossmore avenue is entertaining tomorrow afternoon with a charmingly appointed luncheon at the Biltmore preceding the last symphony concert, the decorations being especially lovely with a profusion of pink roses and tulips in a bed of maidenhair ferns. Those included are Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson, Mrs. William Henry Anderson, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd and her house guest, Mrs. Roland Carvel Ringgold of Virginia, Mrs. Oscar A. Trippet, Mrs. Edward A. Dickson, Mrs. John D. Fredericks, Mrs. Sloan Orcutt, Mrs. Philip L. Wilson, Mrs. Gordon Wallace Wattles, Mrs. John Gillespie Bullock, Mrs. Frank G. Finlayson, Mrs. Joseph H. Call, Mrs. Charles Sheward Crail, Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Miss Kathe Thompson and Miss Gertrude Gooding. The guests will enjoy the concert afterwards at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

Wedding Anniversary

Celebrating their fifth (wooden) wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tipton Steck (Florence Bartlett) entertained with an old-fashioned dinner party Tuesday evening in their apartments at the Biltmore, the decorations carrying out a wooden motif. Those included were Mrs. Alfred Griffith Bartlett, Mrs. Otis Collin, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Buskirk, Mr. and Mrs. William Green, Ormand Merritt, Griffith McKeeby, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Porter, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Stockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Frankel and Mr. and Mrs. George Woodward.

Post-Easter Benefit

An event always receiving hearty support in Southern California is the annual after-Easter bridge tea given for the benefit of the Maryknoll Junior Seminary at Los Altos.

The affair this year will be given Saturday afternoon in the Biltmore. More than 1300 reservations have been received. Reservations may be procured by telephoning ANgelus 4943. Maryknoll has more than 100 missionaries in China, Manchuria and Korea.

Tuesday afternoon, the first annual bridge for the benefit of the newly established Maryknoll Junior Seminary in Cincinnati was given in the ballroom of the Sinton Hotel.

Among the hundreds of reservations for the Biltmore party next Saturday are included Mrs. George A. J. Howard, Mrs. Andrew Mullen, Mrs. George Neville Warwick, Mrs. Harry Hay, Miss Helena Cashman, Mrs. M. S. Watters, Mrs. Arthur Mullen, Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Mrs. Henry W. Keller, Mrs. B. J. Brennan, Miss Ruth Redman, Mrs. Charles Babbitt, Mrs. Lucien N. Brunswig, Mrs. M. J. McGarry, Miss K. Desmond, the Misses Cunningham, Mrs. Edward Scheller, Mrs. J. O. Sword, Mrs. D. F. McGarry, Mrs. Richard F. Lyon, Mrs. Paul Walsh, Miss Mary J. Workman, Mrs. Robert L. Chambers, Mrs. Francis Montgomery, Mrs. D. J. Cahill, Mrs. James G. Donavan, Mrs. Julia McAvoy, Miss Virginia Giulli, Miss Myra Walsh, Mrs. A. J. Goehner, the Misses Metcalf, Mrs. D. J. O'Brien and Miss Eleanor Cox.

Announces Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Capps of 2706 Francis avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Capps, to Don D. Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Short of Mar Vista, the wedding to be an event of June.

Miss Capps, who was graduated from University of California at Los Angeles, is a member of Delta Epsilon chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority and took her post-graduate work at University of Southern California.

Smart Affair

One of the smart affairs of recent date was the luncheon given by Mrs. A. W. McCune, Jr., of Montana, who is making her home at 611 North Alpine street, honoring Mrs. Marvin Trask of Deer Lodge, Mont., past-president of Montana Pioneers, the guests including a number of out-of-town visitors, Mrs. Belvinere Menard, A. W. McCune III and Arthur Menard of Butte.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch of Hollywood, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. McCune, with their attractive daughters, Misses Betty and Pauline Lynch, will leave shortly for a six-months trip to Europe. They will sail aboard the Empress of Australia, shipping their automobile and enjoying a motor tour on the continent and British Isles. Miss Marie McCune, daughter of Mrs. A. W. McCune, Jr., one of the attractive members of the younger set, is a student at Westlake School and active in all the affairs on the campus.

At University of Southern California

Active participation in campus affairs at the University of Southern California resulted in the election of twenty junior and senior co-eds to membership in the Trojan Amazons, all-university women's honorary and service organization. Pledging will take place at noon tomorrow with Miss Bobbie Loftus officiating.

Those who will be pledged are Misses Emory Ardis, Dorothy Beech, Miriam Brownstetter, Alberta Dudley, Sally Ellis, Helen Johnson, Jane Lawson, Betty McDougall, Juanita Mills, Virginia Monosmith, Nancy O'Brien, Helen Pargellis, Helen Parrett, Lenore Rathbun, Mary Reasoner, Hazel Redfield, Blanche Robinson, Ruth Stein, Juanita Wagner and Elinor Wilhoit.

Miss Winifred Biegler, vice-president of the Amazons, will assist Miss Loftus. During the next several weeks she will serve as pledge captain, giving the prospective members training in university traditions and helping them to learn the duties of an Amazon.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stanley McCune (Nancy Georgia McClung) of 226 South Hamel Drive, Beverly Hills, over the arrival, the 5th inst., at the Methodist Hospital of a tiny daughter who is to be called for her mother, Nancy McCune. Mrs. McCune and the babe were taken home yesterday morning.

Home From Egypt

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ladd Gifford and their son, Brooks Gifford, of South El Molino avenue, Pasadena, returned yesterday from a two-months trip to Egypt, where they followed the Nile to Assouan.

A Better Job

When washing your new curtains this spring, first soak them overnight in salted water. As a rule new curtains are full of lime and it is very hard to get them clean without using a great amount of soap powder. After their salt bath you will find them much easier to handle.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

LOQUAT JELLY

Gather the loquats when full sized, but still hard, and only partly turned in color, wash, and remove the blossom end, and any stems that may remain, just barely cover them with cold water, and cook until the pulp is soft, and the juice free, drain them, and cook down until the juice is thick, and cherry colored, then add an equal amount of warm sugar, when the sugar has thoroughly dissolved, cook until it will jell, or two drops will run together. Pour into sterilized glasses while the glasses are hot. Allow to cool, paraffin and place in a cool, dark place.

CHEESE ICE-BOX PUDDING

Take one pound of dry cottage cheese, press through a sieve, and beat into it, one cupful of sugar, and the yolks of three unbeaten eggs, beating them in one at a time, add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and a little at a time, one-half a cupful of melted butter, mix well, add one-half a cupful of chopped seeded raisins, and one cupful of cream. Line a mold with a piece of thin cloth or waxed paper, pour the mixture into it and press down tightly. Place in the ice box overnight, unmold on a cold plate, remove the cloth or paper and serve with a cold orange sauce.

VEAL POT PIE

Place in a large saucepan, two and one-half pounds of veal, cut in cubes, add two medium-sized onions, cut in slices, and just enough water to cover, bring to a boil, and simmer slowly for thirty minutes. Then add half a cupful of salt pork, that has been cut in small cubes, a seasoning of pepper, and four medium-sized potatoes, peeled and halved. Cover and simmer until the potatoes and meat are tender. Place in the center of a large platter, add to the gravy in the pan, one tablespoonful of flour, add a seasoning of chopped parsley, and a little salt if necessary, place the dumplings around the edge of the platter and pour over the gravy.

DUMPLINGS

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, and chop into this two tablespoonfuls of butter, mix to a smooth dough, with about two-thirds of a cupful of milk, roll out on a board, about one inch thick, cut with a biscuit cutter. Place on a plate, set in a steamer, cover and steam for twenty-five minutes.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, "PRACTICAL RECIPES." published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children, stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers helpful hints on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, colitis for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, pinys, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ARE YOU WEANING YOUR BABY BEFORE HOT WEATHER?

Quite as promptly as the season there arrives the argument as to whether the baby should be nursed during the second summer. So fixed is the idea that the second summer is a period of danger, relatives are certain to shake their heads dubiously when the mother says she is going to wean the baby.

The reasons for not nursing a baby during the second summer are so clear and logical we wonder that anyone can marshal any arguments against them. In the first place, after seven or eight or nine months of nursing, the mother's milk is of very poor quality even if there seems to be a sufficient amount. To nurse the child for four or five months longer is, in most cases, to court the more serious danger of real undernourishment.

NO TEETH?

One of the arguments most often advanced for continued nursing is that the baby hasn't any teeth and weaning will be dangerous during hot weather. If the baby has no teeth during the latter months of nursing, it is just because his food is not as good as it should be. The well-fed baby will have teeth at 9 months of age if his diet has been sufficient for his needs. If the baby hasn't any teeth, nothing could be more short-sighted than to continue this insufficient nourishment in the hopes that he will have.

It is the poor, underweight and undernourished baby who has such a difficult time teething, and the best way to help him is to improve his diet.

After these many months of nursing there is no chance at all of improving the quality of breast milk. The only way to improve baby's diet is to put him on good cow's milk, and all the other additional foods that are proper at this time.

DON'T DELAY

Most babies, in this modern day, have had milk for many months even while nursing. They have had their orange juice daily, their cod-liver oil during the winter months, and their twice-a-day bowls of cereal. Weaning for them is an easy matter.

The difficult child is the one who has been nursed exclusively for these nine months, and to whom all food is new and strange. He clings to the familiar breast-feeding with fanatical zeal, and his mother may have to put his feeding in some relative's hands until he has learned to accept food willingly in some other way except by breast.

If he has been sleeping with the mother and nursing half the night (as undernourished babies always do,) the mother will have to end this bad habit immediately, get the baby weaned promptly and thus end what is an unnatural habit brought about by poor sleeping conditions.

April and May are the nicest months for weaning. If baby doesn't want a bottle wean him to a cup, so that when he is a year of age he can be taking his three or four cups of whole milk daily, and eating his three wholesome meals.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

MRS. QUACK'S PROUD MOMENT

In this I'm sure we all agree—
A mother's pride is good to see.
—Old Mother Nature.

Nothing happened to those precious eggs of Mrs. Quack's. Plenty of worries she had and many moments when she was terribly frightened. But Peter Rabbit and Chatterer the Red Squirrel were the only ones who discovered her secret and so in time those ten eggs hatched and ten fuzzy little ducklings were ready to go for their first swim. It was a proud moment for Mrs. Quack when she led them out from under those big, broad skunk cabbage leaves, which had so well protected that nest, and started for the Smiling Pool.

But if Mrs. Quack was proud, she was as anxious as she was proud. All the anxiety which had been hers while she was on the nest was nothing compared to the anxiety which she felt now and knew she would continue to feel as long as those ducklings were too small to care for themselves. A lively lot were those bright-eyed babies. Yes, indeed, they were a lively lot. Mrs. Quack felt as if she needed eyes all over her body to keep track of them. The very first thing she taught them was to mind instantly. She knew that their safety depended on this and she took great pains to make them understand that something dreadful would happen to them if they didn't mind.

Down to the Laughing Brook Mrs. Quack led them first. You would have laughted to see them paddling about for the first time. They had no more fear of the water than they had of the ground when they had left the nest. Then Mrs. Quack swam down the Laughing Brook, going slowly, so that the babies could keep up with her. And in this way they reached the Smiling Pool. A proud mother, indeed, was Mrs. Quack, as she sailed out into the Smiling Pool with her ten babies just back of her.

Farmer Brown's Boy happened to come down to the Smiling Pool with some corn, just as Mrs. Quack and her babies appeared, and perhaps you can guess how delighted he was. Mrs. Quack came over at once to get the corn that Farmer Brown's Boy threw in the water. The babies didn't know what to make of it when they first saw their mother seeming to stand on her head in the water. They gathered around and just stared at her in round-eyed surprise.

Mrs. Quack came over at once to get the corn that Farmer Brown's Boy threw in the water

Of course, they couldn't eat yellow corn, as they were so little that they had to have softer food. So presently their mother led them over along the swampy edge of the Smiling Pool, where among the tussocks of grass and bulrushes they could quickly hide in time of danger. There they found insects of various kinds and they soon were tipping up in the shallow water and searching in the mud below for things to eat.

Curiously enough, that very night Unc' Billy Possum found the deserted nest. He never had given up looking for it. Every once in a while when he had nothing else to do he would go looking for Mrs. Quack and her nest, and it just happened that the night after that nest was deserted Unc' Billy, poking around, happened to push his head under some big skunk cabbage leaves and right into a mass of feathers. They were the feathers with which Mrs. Quack had lined her nest. But the nest was empty save for some broken eggshells. Unc' Billy didn't waste any time there. His nose told him that that nest hadn't been deserted very long and right away he started to look for those ducklings. Those baby ducks would be quite as good eating and perhaps better eating than the eggs would have been.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

HAVE COURAGE TO BE HEALTHY

Courage is a mighty fine companion. Like happiness and enthusiasm, it increases the strength of the body. On the other hand, fear and his spouse, worry, are two sapping leeches, tearing down the strength and vitality.

Courage or fear, happiness or misery, are largely matters of habits and beliefs. Your environment may seem to you to be the cause of all your troubles, but this is not strictly true. Most of one's misery is caused by the way one reacts to circumstances. Instead of mooning or cursing at blind fate, how much better it is to try to improve yourself regardless of conditions.

Some of the most inspiring thoughts have been uttered by men while they were listening to the rustle of death's wings. Some of the most beautiful literature has been written by men who were pallid with prison shadows but whose spirits traveled far and wide. Many of the most tremendous achievements have been made in spite of almost unsurmountable barriers. Others, with a different attitude of mind, would have allowed their thoughts to become as cramped, warped and unhealthy as their bodies.

Strong men develop their bodies by lifting heavy weights and doing hard work. The same may be true in the mental realm. Your troubles should be considered as weights to be lifted to strengthen your mental muscles.

Psychologists have come to believe that fear is the most destructive force in the lives of most people. Let us look into this business of being afraid. Science has shown that we are just born afraid of only three things. They are these: The loss of support or of being dropped, the fear of a loud noise, and physical pain. All of our other fears, such as the fear of losing a job, the fear of going blind, the fear of saying a wrong thing, the fear of being left out of things and being forgotten, fear of not having enough when one is old, and any of the other hundreds of fears with which you may be possessed, are all fears which you have acquired. You began with the first three and picked up the others as you went along. They are all needless. In fact, if you would only remove fear entirely from your life you would be overwhelmed with surprise at how pleasant your days could be with the fears and worries eliminated, and courage and confidence to take their place.

It is a splendid mental habit to simply try to forget about your fears and worries and substitute thinking about health and other cheerful subjects. Too many people spend more time thinking how they are going to feel when they are sick than how good they are feeling while they are well. Think of yourself enjoying your work, achieving, accomplishing, doing worth-while things and deserving good health. If you can build up this inner confidence, it will not take a year's time before you will so have built up your strength and your energy that you will be a changed person. Think of yourself walking up to a mirror; try to see the roses in your cheeks, the shine in your eyes, your head up, and your shoulders square, and hold that mental picture. Realise that health is natural and that happiness is normal.

Three Mothers Agree

When mother is tired, nervous or the whole home is upset. For her family every mother wants to be well and strong. These three women tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped them to care for their families.

Mrs. H. Dellwood, 6318 York St., New Orleans, La.

"Before my baby was born, I started using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such relief that I passed her name on to Lydia. I have six children and five grandchildren too. I am now using Vegetable Compound because of my age. I sleep better and I do housework, and sew. I will do my best to help others by writing these few lines."

Mrs. Harold Gustafson, 36 Cane St., Fitchburg, Mass.

"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. After my baby came I was nervous and could not go to bed often for a whole day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel like a different woman. My husband has those tired feelings and I have told her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Lloyd R. Blake, 115 So. Olive St., Anaheim, Calif.

"After my baby was born I was so nervous and run down I was miserable. One day a friend was left at our door and while reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now using my second bottle and I feel much better. It has helped me in my housework and I feel sure it will help other women in my condition. I will pick up if they will take a few bottles."

Spring Bonnet Salad

by Mary Hale Martin (at right), Libby's Home Economics Expert

6 slices Libby's Hawaiian Pineapple
1 head lettuce ¼ cup chopped nuts
1 package cream cheese Parsley
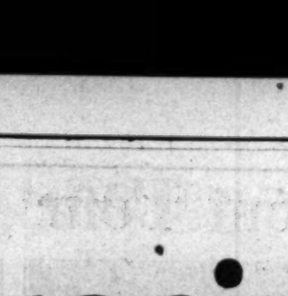
1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
Libby's Maraschino Cherries

Place slice of Libby's Pineapple on each serving of lettuce and fill center with mixture of chopped nuts and half of cream cheese. Top pineapple with peach half, cut side down, to form crown of bonnet. Pipe cheese around edge of each peach with cake decorator. Trim bonnets with sprigs of parsley and halves of maraschino cherries. (Serves six)



Peach Snow Mounds

by Cora Jones (at right), Food Editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
1 No. 2½ can Libby's Sliced Hawaiian Pineapple
2 cup sugar
¼ cup water 1 tbsp. cream
½ cup marshmallow "creme"
1 cup grated coconut
1 pkg. cream cheese
Whipped Cream Mayonnaise
½ cup chopped pecans Head lettuce

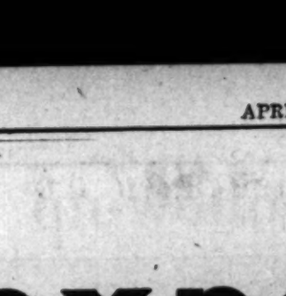
Drain Peaches and Pineapple for an hour. While draining prepare a thick syrup with sugar and water. When syrup has reached soft-ball stage, stir marshmallow "creme" and ½ cup cocoanut into it very quickly. While the marshmallow syrup is hot, cover the entire curved surface of each Peach half with the thick marshmallow cocoanut icing. Work quickly or the icing will become too hard to spread readily. While warm, sprinkle liberally with the grated cocoanut, and place the platter of Peaches in the icebox. While the icing is chilling, mix cream cheese, cream, and nutmeats, and form into balls. Set these in the icebox until well chilled. When serving salad, place a pineapple slice, with a cheese ball in the center, on crisp lettuce. Cover this carefully with a halved Peach. Serve dressing separately. (Serves eight)



Peach Condé

by George Rector (at left), famous restaurateur

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
2 cups steamed or boiled rice
½ tsp. vanilla Maraschino cherries
3 tbsps. sugar Raspberry Jam

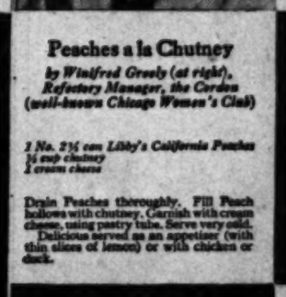
While rice is warm, add the vanilla, sugar and about ½ cup of the syrup drained from the Peaches. Fill individual molds with rice; unmold, and decorate with maraschino cherries arranged at base of mold, about an inch apart. Place a Libby Peach half, round side up, on each rice mold, and top with strained raspberry jam. (Serves six)

Peaches Royal

by Mildred Kitchen (at left), Home Economics Editor of the Los Angeles Herald

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
1 No. 2 can Libby's Strawberries
1½ cups sugar
1 quart brick vanilla ice cream

Boil strawberries and sugar together, stirring constantly to prevent burning, until a thick syrup is formed. Force through a fine strainer and cool. Arrange slices of ice cream on serving plates. Drain Peaches from syrup and arrange, with rounded side up, on the ice cream. Pour strawberry sauce over both. (Serves eight)



Peaches a la Chutney

by Winifred Gresly (at right), Refectory Manager, the Cordon (well-known Chicago Women's Club)

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
½ cup chutney
1 cream cheese

Drain Peaches thoroughly. Fill Peach hollows with chutney. Garnish with cream cheese, using pastry tube. Serve very cold. Delicious served as an appetizer (with thin slices of lemon) or with chicken or duck.

Baked Peaches with Ham

by Bessie Murphy (at right), Food Editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup bread crumbs
2 tbsps. butter
½ cup Peach syrup Broiled Ham

Place Peaches cut side up in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle liberally with brown sugar and bread crumbs. Dot with butter. Pour Peach syrup over Peaches, and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for ½ hr. Serve with broiled ham.

Peach Trifle

by Katherine Truett (at left), Food Editor, the Nashville Banner

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
½ pt. of cream, whipped
½ lb. marshmallows
¼ lb. almonds Maraschino cherries

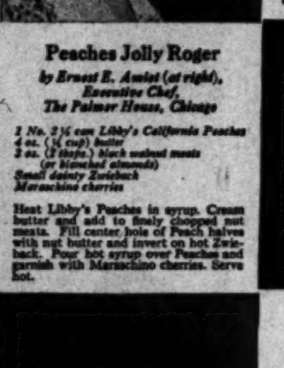
Drain syrup from Peaches. Reserve six halves and dice the remainder. Mix diced peaches slightly with whipped cream, quartered marshmallows, and blanched chopped almonds. Let stand in refrigerator for six hours or longer. Place Peach halves cut side up in serving glasses, then fill with first mixture. Top with a cherry. Serve with Angel Food Cake. (Serves six)



Peaches Jolly Roger

by Ernest E. Amiet (at right), Executive Chef, The Palmer House, Chicago

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
4 oz. (½ cup) butter
3 oz. (2 tbsps.) black walnut meats (or blanched almonds)
Small dainty Zwieback
Maraschino cherries

Heat Libby's Peaches in syrup. Cream butter and add to finely chopped nut meats. Fill center hole of Peach halves with nut butter and invert on hot Zwieback. Pour hot syrup over Peaches and garnish with Maraschino cherries. Serve hot.

Pecan Custard Meringue

by Chef Wyman (at right), Household Economic Expert of the Los Angeles Times

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
6 circles stale sponge cake
1 cup cooking sherry
6 dates
6 walnut meats
1½ tablespoons red jelly
6 eggs ¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup peach juice
½ cup lemon juice
Grated rind of 1 orange
2 egg whites
½ teaspoon baking powder
Libby's Maraschino Cherries

Take pieces of stale sponge cake and cut into circles four inches in diameter and ½ inch thick. Marinate them in cooking sherry for five minutes. Place them in a fire proof dish and top with Libby's California Peach halves, cut side up. Fill centers with chopped and seeded dates, mixed with chopped walnuts; top with red jelly. Make a custard of the eggs, ¾ cup sugar, cornstarch, peach juice, lemon juice, and orange rind. Pour over Peaches, and cover with a meringue made of egg whites, ¼ cup sugar, and baking powder. Place in a slow oven and brown. Allow to cool in the oven before serving; garnish with maraschino cherries. (Serves six)

Peach Fritters

by Dorothy Jane Todd (at left), Food Editor of the Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
2 eggs
¾ cup Libby's Evaporated Milk diluted with ¼ cup water ¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup flour 1 tablespoon butter, melted
2 teaspoons baking powder Frying fat

Drain syrup off Libby's California Peaches. Beat eggs until very light. Add diluted Evaporated Milk, sifted dry ingredients and melted butter. Mix. Dip each Peach in batter until well covered and fry in deep fat (360°F.). (Serves six)

Twin Peach Salad

by Marian Herbert (at left), Food Editor of the Long Beach, Calif., Press Telegram

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
1 cup Libby's Royal Anne Cherries
Walnut Meats Cheese Balls
Angelica Salad Dressing
Lettuce

Place two Peach halves, hollow side up, on lettuce on each plate. Insert nut meats in cherries after removing stone. Fill each Peach with cherries in basket fashion. Cut thin slice from long strip of Angelica, and form handle, joining two Peach halves with one handle. Place 3 cheese balls on side of plate. Serve fruit salad dressing separately.

Other Libby Foods you'll want to try

Libby packs over one hundred foods whose quality is famous around the world. Three favorites among them are: Libby's Catchup, full-flavored, with all the concentrated goodness of perfectly ripened tomatoes; Libby's Corned Beef, tender and gristle-free, delightfully mild and fine flavored; and Libby's delicate exquisitely flavored Bartlett Pears.

Baked Peach Coolidge

by Adolph Stalle (at right), Maitre d' Hotel, the Hotel Sherman, Chicago

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
2 tbsps. crushed macaroons 1 egg yolk
1 tsp. melted butter 2 tbsps. maple sugar
2 pinches baking powder
¼ cup maple syrup 6 thin slices lemon

Place Peaches in a glass baking dish slightly buttered. Mix and divide in six parts the crushed macaroons, egg yolk, melted butter and baking powder, and place in Peach centers. Sprinkle maple sugar over top of Peaches, add maple syrup and lemon slices around Peaches and bake in a moderate oven until the sugar on Peaches begins to caramelize. Serve hot or cold. (Serves six)

Peach Tarts a-la-Darden

by Ann Krebs (at right), Food Editor of the Portsmouth Star

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
Pastry shells
Meringue
Pecans or walnuts
Whipped Cream

Line large muffin tins with rich pastry; prick with fork and bake ten minutes in a 400 degree oven.

Place half of a Peach in each shell; fill center of Peach with meringue, garnish with whole nut meats; replace in oven at 325 degrees until brown, for about 15 minutes, and serve with whipped cream.

Peach Cardinal

by Sigrid Larsen (at right), White House cook during the Wilson administration

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
½ cup blanched almonds
½ cup rice
2 cups milk
¼ cup sugar
Pinch of salt
2 tsps. gelatin
Yolks of 2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1 pint whipping cream
1 cup strawberry juice
1 tsp. cornstarch

Drain syrup from can of Libby's California Peaches. Cut almonds into narrow strips lengthwise, brown slightly in oven, and insert into Peach halves. Then make a pudding as follows: Wash rice thoroughly, then cook in top of double boiler with milk, half of the sugar, and salt, until rice is tender. When cooked, add soaked gelatin and the egg yolks that have been beaten with the remaining sugar until light. When the pudding is cold, fold in the stiffly beaten cream and flavoring. Put pudding in a flat dish and set it in a cold place to chill; then turn it out on a platter and arrange Peaches on top. Pour over a fruit sauce made of the syrup from the Peaches and strawberry juice, thickened with cornstarch. Serve very cold. (Serves eight) by Isabel Glass (at left), well-known "Professional" cook of Germantown, Pa.

Peach Rosettes

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
6 Round Sponge Cake
1 tbsp. butter ¼ cup almonds
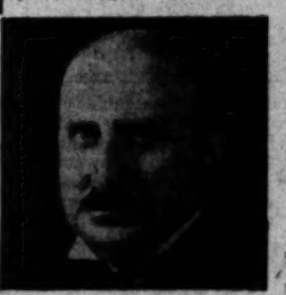
1 cup sweetened whipped cream
¼ cup candied cherries

Drain Peaches. Sauté in butter, rounds of stale sponge cake (3 inches across) to a delicate brown. Place half Peach on each circle of cake, cut side up. Stick blanched, browned almonds in Peach cavity. Surround Peach with a piping of whipped cream and sprinkle finely chopped cherries over top. (Serves six)



Peach and Fig Salad

by Katherine Crosson (at left), "Professional" Cook in fashionable Greenwich, Conn.

1 No. 2½ can Libby's California Peaches
3 figs, canned or fresh
½ cup raisins 1 package cream cheese
Mint leaves Lettuce

Chop figs and raisins, and mix with cream cheese. Fill six Libby Peach halves with this mixture.

Serve on crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with fresh mint leaves. For dressing, use French dressing flavored with lime juice. (Serves six)

The aerial military problem will concern the United States Atlantic Fleet, which is supposed to be bottled up in San Francisco Bay. Following numbers by the United States Army Band, the tactical aspects will be presented to listeners-in. Not a thrill of the exciting sham battle will be lost. At 7 o'clock tonight another excellent concert comprising moments from operetta, musical comedy and light concert numbers will be played by the Raymond Paige Symphony Orchestra. Mona Content, KHJ staq pianist, will play Friml's "Veil Dance," a number written especially for her. At 8 tonight the Merry Makers will hold the dial with a variety of humor and song. At 9 p.m. the Eastman program features each week a child-poem written especially for the half-hour by Edgar Guest. Musical high spots will include "Mother Goose Parade" and selections from "Stepping Stones."

ARMY AIR BROADCAST

KFI at 12 noon also will broadcast the Army air maneuvers at San Francisco as described in the foregoing. At 7 tonight Renee Chemet, French violinist, and Rudolph Ganz, Swiss-American pianist, conductor and composer, will be heard in a concert of classical music. At 7:30 tonight the first concert by the Portland Junior Symphony Orchestra will be heard. At 8:30 p.m. KFI is to feature Arthur and Jeanie Lang, with concert ensemble, in a half-hour of music and song. Miss Lang will repeat her hits in the "King of Jazz."

KECA at 6 tonight is to present an excellent chain program including Mario Chamlee, operatic star, a male quartet, string quartet and a trumpet trio. This should be worth dialing. At 7:30 p.m. an Aeolian organ recital will include the choir from the Blessed Sacrament Church in Hollywood. Beethoven's "Mass in C" will be offered.

KNX at 8:15 a.m. will broadcast the Hollywood Breakfast Club at which Fay Marbe, vaudeville and screen artist, will be guest artist.

MRS. GERTRUDE MAYNARD

Chicago Woman's Club

A program of club talent will be presented before the Chicago Woman's Club of California meeting tomorrow at Barton Home, 2118 Trinity street. The guest artist will be Miss Antoinette de la Vega. The members to appear include Mrs. B. L. Buckley, Mrs. H. C. Case, Mrs. R. L. Jamison, Mrs. M. R. Mallrup and Mrs. E. D. Mather.

Wilshire Woman's Club

Mrs. James Orlando Colwell, president of the Wilshire Woman's Club, will be chairman of the reception committee tomorrow afternoon when the annual bridge tea will be given by the club for the benefit of the war veterans department of the district. Mrs. J. A. Beck is chairman for the department of cooperation with war veterans for the club and Mrs. Sidney Brown for the district. The affair is to be in the Chamber of Arts at 2600 Hoover street, and there is room for 1000 guests. All club women and their frends are invited.

Beverly Hills Woman's Club

Motion pictures of "Wild Animal Life in Africa," by Maj. F. R. Burnham and Robert D. Burnham, will be shown at the program of the art and decorations section of the Beverly Hills Woman's Club, today at 12:30 p.m. Maj. Burnham will give interesting descriptions during the showing which will follow a luncheon, having as honor guests Anita Delano, Barbara Morgan and Bessie Hazen, artists who are exhibiting a collection of water colors at the clubhouse.

Daughters of 1812

The California State Society, United States Daughters of 1812, will meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover street, when Mrs. Frank B. Duncan, State president, will be assisted by Mrs. Nathan Cole and Mrs. A. M. Johnson in entertaining the members and guests.

Election of officers for the ensuing year will be conducted tomorrow with the exception of the presidency, since Mrs. Duncan's term does not expire until 1931.

The National Associate Council convenes in Washington, D. C., today for five days, California being represented by Mrs. F. F. Gundrum of Sacramento, Mrs. H. H. Harris of San Francisco and Miss Jessie B. Burry of San Diego.

A national home located in Washington has been purchased by the society for use as a repository for books, relics and documents pertaining to the period of the War of 1812.

Mrs. Elizabeth N. Bryant, Mrs. E. R. Garrison, Mrs. William Bowman, Miss Ella Brunson, Miss Lorena Carmichael and Miss Emma Carmichael all are daughters of men who saw actual service in 1812 and are honorary members of the society in California.

Philanthropy and Civics Club

Juliet Ottenbach, lyric soprano, will appear before the Philanthropy and Civics Club today in recital. She will sing in four different languages. This charming Austrian singer will be accompanied at the piano by Dr. Edward Delavanti, composer-pianist, from London. Miss Ottenbach recently returned from a trip around the world and while singing socially in Berlin was heard by a great German director and offered a position with the German Opera Company.

May 13 a breakfast, fashion show and bridge will be given at Elks' Temple for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the club. Mrs. W. J. Doyle and Mrs. J. B. Bonhaus are co-chairmen for the affair.

The board of directors will meet Monday at 10:30 a.m. in the clubhouse in Wilton Place to transact important business. Standing committees will conduct conferences and chairmen will be chosen. Luncheon will be served at noon.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Above Tarzan, Werper had stood, his murderous knife poised for the fatal thrust; but fear stayed his hand. What if the first blow should fail to strike his victim's heart? Awakened, the giant ape-man could literally tear him to pieces. Werper shuddered. Again, closer, came the soft padded footsteps in the reeds. Werper abandoned his design. The jewels were his. Before him lay the open plain and escape. Behind was death at Tarzan's hands or the jaws of the beast creeping ever nearer!

Turning, the Belgian slunk through the night, toward the distant forest. Tarzan slept on. Could this dull sleeper be the alert, sensitive Tarzan of old? Perhaps the blow upon his head had numbed those uncanny, guardian powers which had formerly rendered him immune from the dangers of surprise. Closer crept the stealthy creature through the reeds. The rustling curtain parted a few paces from where the sleeper lay, and the massive head of a lion appeared.

Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

It was the beating of the beast's tail against the reeds as he crouched to spring that awakened Tarzan. Even as Tarzan opened his eyes he was upon his feet, grasping his spear and ready for attack. Again was he Tarzan of the Apes, sentient, vigilant, ready. No two lions act similarly under like circumstances. Either surprise, fear or caution overcame this lion and he did not spring at the man at all, but instead, wheeled and jumped back into the reeds as Tarzan confronted him.

The ape-man shrugged his shoulders and looked about for his companion. Werper, of course, had departed. Examining the ground, Tarzan saw no beast had carried the Belgian away; he had gone alone out into the plain. Tarzan pondered the man's act. "Well, let him go, the sneaking coward," thought Tarzan, "deserting without warning in time of danger." If that was the sort Werper was, Tarzan wished nothing more of him. For all the ape-man cared he could remain away, Tarzan would not search for him.

VISITORS TAKE GARDEN TOURS

Redlands Week of Flowers Enjoyed

Gladys Stoddard's Song Matches Her Flowers

"When You Wore a Tulip," sings this dainty Redlands miss as she displays basket of these choice blooms, at their best, during Redlands Week of Flowers, now in progress in university community.

REDLANDS, April 23.—With visitors from many cities taking the garden tours through Redlands choicest flower kingdoms, the annual Week of Flowers gives promise of being even more successful than the affair given for the first time last season.

These garden tours are to be featured again tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, but not on Sunday, in respect to the wishes of those owners who do not want to be disturbed on Sunday. The gardens visited are all privately owned and as such are open to the public only during this week.

The biggest feature of the week will be the annual children's parade scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow. Hundreds of children will parade from Smiley Library Park to the Santa Fe Station, where the annual flower show will be formally opened. These children will be gorgeously attired in costumes representing many varieties of flowers, the theme of the parade being "The Return of Persephone" or the return of spring. Motion-picture cameramen will record the parade for the benefit of the theater goers of the nation.

The flower show gets under way tomorrow and will continue for the balance of the week. Friday and Saturday nights there will be a pageant entitled "Civilization and the Dance," in which the advance of civilization is shown through the dances of the various periods. This pageant is free to the public as is practically all else during the Week of Flowers.

Opportunity is given to see not only the gardens of Redlands but the parks, old Mission, university buildings, mountains—all under the guidance of members of the various service clubs of the city.

Last night the Community Players offered the play "Scrambled Wives" before a packed house at the Redlands Fox Theater. The play is to be repeated again tonight. More than 10,000 visitors are expected to see Redlands during blossom time before the week ends.

RESIDENTS PREPARING FOR FIESTA

Record Throng Expected at Ramona Bowl Opening on Saturday Afternoon

HEMET, April 23. — Entire populations of this city and San Jacinto today were preparing to celebrate continuous holiday for the rest of the week for the opening of the 1930 Ramona Pageant on Saturday afternoon. Streets will be put in festal array tomorrow.

Final preparations are being made by hotels, garages and recreational and hot springs resorts of the vicinity to accommodate a record crowd over the week-end, as the spectacular dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's famous Indian romance is to be repeated Sunday afternoon.

Continuous dress rehearsals on the part of the cast of 200 are the order for tomorrow and Friday under the direction of Phil Whiting to insure a perfect presentation. The road to the Ramona Bowl at the outskirts of Hemet, a modern concrete amphitheater, has been dragged and sprinkled to velvet smoothness. Parking accommodations are provided for 5000 automobiles within a few yards of the bowl. Motorists may deliver passengers direct into the aisles.

Heading the cast of principals who will re-enact the romantic life story of the Indian heroine, will be Dorise Shukow, in the title role, and Herbert Heyes, as Alessandro, her Indian lover. Mammoth fiesta scenes and colorful episodes of the days of the dons enliven the spectacular ending.

Reports from branch box offices in Los Angeles at the Owl Drug Store, Sixth and Broadway, principal music and department stores and neighborhood drug stores throughout the city, indicate a record throng to attend the opening. The Motor Transit Stage Lines have scheduled special excursions direct to Hemet from Los Angeles and principal Southern California points.

Nine-Ton Block of Onyx Mined

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—A nine-ton block of onyx, said to be the largest produced from the quarries at Santa Catarina, Lower California, in the thirty years of operation there, arrived in port today aboard the power schooner Pinole.

The block of onyx, when taken from the quarry, weighed twenty-two tons and is believed to be the largest block of its kind ever mined. Another block of onyx weighing thirteen tons also had to be cut up before it could be loaded aboard the Pinole.

The nine-ton block is to be manufactured into bath tubs.

IMPERIAL GIRDS FOR RED INFLUX

District Attorney Orders All Officers on Guard

Radical Invasion Reported from Los Angeles

Invaders Hope to Disrupt Cantaloupe Harvest

EL CENTRO, April 23.—Law-enforcement agencies in Imperial Valley began preparations today to protect the melon industry against organized radicals who are reported to be formulating plans for a revolt against the workers engaged in the cantaloupe harvest.

Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald summoned all peace officers in the county to a special session at the Courthouse this morning and warned them to be prepared for an invasion of Red agitators.

"We have received information from Los Angeles that word has been passed out for a concentration of radicals in Imperial Valley," he said, "and we want to be prepared to deal with them as fast as they come."

While the officers were holding their meeting in one room of the Courthouse, the county grand jury was in session in another room working on the same problem. The District Attorney submitted to the jurymen a complete file of Communistic literature and other evidence secured during a raid on the asserted quarters of the radicals in Brawley last week.

According to information given out at Heald's office, the papers taken in the raid indicate a well-organized program to prevent the harvest of the valley's 50,000-acre melon crop, unless the employers and shippers agree to working concessions which are said to be prohibitive. Among other things they want a fifteen-minute rest period every two hours, double time for Sundays and holidays and recognition of the Agricultural Workers' Industrial League.

Twelve asserted leaders who were arrested in last week's raids are now being held under $40,000 bond each awaiting trial on charges of criminal syndicalism.

Valley Highway Rosy Path for Twenty Miles

VAN NUYS, April 23.—There is nothing in Southern California in the way of highways that at present can compare with Sherman Way, the first of the long roads built through San Fernando Valley.

Rose bushes are now blooming in profusion along the twenty miles of the route, and millions of California poppies are in blossom on each side of the long right of way. Stately palms above also lend effect to the carpets of flowers beneath.

Along the highway, also are many sweet-scented orange groves and growing crops of all descriptions flank each side of the street. Today hundreds of new tourists were motoring up and down the long thoroughfare.

Charles Maclay Chosen Mayor of San Fernando

SAN FERNANDO, April 23.—Charles Maclay, newly elected City Councilman, took his seat today. The Council at once elected him its presiding officer, which, under the rule here, makes Maclay Mayor of San Fernando, succeeding Mayor F. A. Pomeroy. Maclay is a descendant of a pioneer San Fernando Valley family. At the election last week he received next to the largest number of votes.

Aged Pioneer of Santa Ana Dies

SANTA ANA, April 23.—C. C. Collins, 77-year-old pioneer resident and one of the best known bean and fruit buyers in Southern California, died at his home, 620 Orange avenue, following an extended illness. Collins had resided here for forty-three years, coming from Ohio, where he was born.

He was the owner of large packing plants on East Fourth street and had been in the fruit and bean-buying and selling business here since 1890. For many years he was the largest buyer in this section of the country.

He leaves two daughters and three sons, Mrs. F. W. Stanley, Menlo Park; Mrs. Ernest Fortier, Torrance; Robert W., Walter C., and Joseph, all of this city.

Funeral services were conducted today from the Smith & Tuthill chapel, with the Rev. W. H. McPeak officiating.

OLDFIELD TO SPEAK FOR ORANGE LIONS

BREA, April 23. — Rev. W. Judson Oldfield has been selected to represent Lions clubs of Orange county in an oratorical contest to be held at Stockton at the State convention to be held next month. The minister won the right to represent the county when he competed in a contest held at Anaheim where he spoke on "Greatness Through Service." Dr. Elliott Rowland of Santa Ana, won second place with a five-minute address on "Lionism at the Cross-Roads." Rev. August F. Hasse of Costa Mesa, speaking on "The Symbols of Lionism," won third place.

H. A. VAN NORMAN TO APPEAL FOR BONDS

VAN NUYS, April 23.—H. A. Van Norman, chief engineer and general manager of the Los Angeles water system, will be principal speaker tomorrow at the Van Nuys Kiwanis Club luncheon. He will make an appeal for the water bonds. W. J. Petit, Van Nuys rancher, will introduce Mr. Van Norman.

NEW CUTOFF READY FOR RODEO

Road Above Newhall Tunnel Opens

Rider and Mount Part Company

Many more cowboys and cowgirls are expected to take spills from untamed broncbos and wild cattle at forthcoming fourth annual Baker Ranch Rodeo at Saugus next Sunday.

SAUGUS, April 23.—The thousands who travel by motor to the Fifth Annual Baker Ranch Rodeo at Saugus on Sunday will have one more route than in previous years to reach the grounds, it was stated yesterday by J. C. Moore, office engineer of the State Highway Commission, who announced the opening on that date of the new cutoff just beyond the Newhall tunnel.

The cutoff will be in addition to the present regular highway, which recently has been widened in that section, and will help expedite traffic to and from the big round-up, officials said.

To assist motorists to make all possible speed, and to insure safety at the same time, a corps of thirty-five special motorcycle officers will be on duty along the route throughout the day. According to sponsors of the rodeo, Roy Baker, Hoot Gibson and Bob Anderson, these measures will reduce the auto traveling time over the thirty-two miles between Los Angeles and the Baker ranch stadium to less than one hour.

Active sale of tickets continued yesterday at the B. H. Dyas stores in this city. Travelers to the rodeo by train will be provided with a Rodeo Special by the Southern Pacific, the special to be composed of as many coaches as may be desired. The Rodeo Special will leave Central station in Los Angeles at 12:10 noon, stopping to take on passengers at Glendale, Burbank and San Fernando.

Conference on Cruises Held

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—Scheduled to attend important conferences of steamship officials in this city relative to the final "good will" cruises down the west coast of Mexico, R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent of the Pacific Steamship Company, arrived here from Los Angeles today.

The Admiral liner Dorothy Alexander is scheduled to sail on May 3 and May 17 from Wilmington with business men and industrial leaders on her final Mexican voyages of the season.

A large San Diego delegation will join the cruise when the Dorothy arrives at this port on each of the "good will" junkets, advance reservations indicate.

WAR HERO SUCCUMBS TO BATTLE INJURIES

CAHUENGA PARK, April 23.—Funeral services were conducted today for David J. Wallace, 32 years of age, ex-service man who had been bed-ridden for several years as a result of wounds in the World War. He served in the Twenty-ninth Infantry. A widow and a son survive. Interment took place in the Soldiers' Cemetery, Sawtelle, under auspices of the Van Nuys post, American Legion.

COAST TRIP IN MEXICO EXTOLLED

Lecturer Familiar With Country Lauds Value of Auto Club Trail-Blazing

REDLANDS, April 23.—Emphasizing especially the important part the present Auto Club trail-blazing tour into Mexico may play in more closely linking this country and the one to the south, Dr. C. N. Thomas, formerly colonizing and industrial agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and noted lecturer, spoke to students of the University of Redlands here today on the subject, "Mexico in Transition."

"The present trip down the west coast will have a far-reaching effect, since it will open to us a vast new country, essentially the same as was California fifty or more years ago, Dr. Thomas predicted, at the same time praising the descriptions of Harry Carr as unusually vivid, illuminating and exact.

Dr. Thomas touched briefly on four phases of the Mexican situation—her resources, types of people, problems and relationship to the United States.

"Californians as yet do not appreciate what the opening of the west coast of Mexico and Latin-America may mean to us," Dr. Thomas continued. "In the opening of the world to the south, which is now in a formative period, we should play our part by transplanting the best of our civilization to those countries, in hospitals, educational and economic institutions."

Five forces, according to the speaker, are playing an all-important part in Mexico's development. Education and the introduction of modern machinery he mentioned as especially important. In addition, the growing influence of women, and a realization that for further growth the masses must be developed, are factors gaining rapid headway. The fifth, and one of the most important, he characterized as the friendly relations existent between Mexico and the United States, citing the recent trip of President Ortiz Rubio to this country.

During the past two years, Dr. Thomas has spoken before 100,000 students in this country on Mexican development, as well as making numerous addresses in Mexico. He was introduced by Dr. V. L. Duke, president of the University of Redlands.

Drivers Blamed in Girl's Death

EL MONTE, April 23.—The asserted reckless driving of two men was blamed at an inquest today for the death in a traffic accident Sunday of Jewell Wood, 17-year-old Alhambra girl, who received fatal injuries when the motorcycle on which she was riding collided with an automobile on Valley Boulevard near Puente.

The men held responsible by the Coroner's jury are Arnold Miller of Wilmar, the girl's companion on the motorcycle, and Marion S. Hughes of Venice, driver of the car with which the motorcycle collided.

Miller is in the County Jail, while Hughes was released on his own recognizance, pending further investigation.

The girl was hurled from the motorcycle when it crashed into Hughes's machine, and fell into the path of another automobile. Funeral services were conducted today at the Church of the Nazarene in Wilmar.

RECKLESS FLYING HAS PENALTIES

In First Case of Kind in San Diego Court, Student Aviators Draw Fines

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—In the first case of its nature ever heard by a local court Seabury Cook, 26 years of age, and C. G. McKenzie, 20, student flyers, pleaded guilty before Police Judge Claude Chambers today to charges of reckless flying. Each was fined $25, suspended on the usual good-behavior conditions.

The charges were preferred against the student flyers of the Airtech School of Aviation by Lieutenant of Police Glen Treleaven of Ocean Beach precinct. Treleaven said the youths flew dangerously close to crowds on the sands at Mission Beach yesterday.

Treleaven said several of his men observed the plane swoop down within six or seven feet of the sands, causing the crowds on the beach and in the water to run for cover.

Shortly after the incident Treleaven telephoned the description of the plane to the air school and learned the identity of the occupants. They were arrested later on a warrant. Each was released from jail on $50 bail.

Valley Veterans Make Plans for Memorial Day

CHATSWORTH, April 23.—Fernando Valley Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, today sent out its annual appeal to patriotic organizations all over the valley to lend their co-operation in the valley-wide Memorial Day exercises to be conducted at Oakwood Memorial Park here.

Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Boy Scouts of America, Daughters of the American Revolution and members of other patriotic groups have been invited to co-operate to make this year's observance the largest that has ever been conducted in the valley.

The Owensmouth High School Girls' Drum and Bugle Corps and the drum and bugle corps of Fernando Valley Camp will participate in the exercises this year.

Officers of patriotic organizations wishing to take part on Memorial Day are to communicate with Mark A. Brennan, chaplain of Fernando Valley Camp. He lives at Owensmouth.

Spanish War Veterans will invite veterans of the Civil War or their widows, and transportation will be provided for all who wish to attend. In past years, from four to ten members of the Grand Army of the Republic have been in attendance at the ceremony at Oakwood, and one year a widow of a Mexican War veteran was present.

Citizens Aim to Pass Bond Issue

ONTARIO, April 23. — Starting a campaign to secure success for Chaffey's $450,000 school-expansion bond issue, May 16, next, leading citizens of the community were organized today to get every possible voter to the polls.

James G. Gallanis announced a committee of plans of campaign and getting out the vote, to consist of W. H. Tangeman, chairman; Reed C. Williams and H. A. Cramer. This group will work with other civic organizations.

Three polling places instead of one have been designated at Chaffey Union High School, Central school and South Euclid school. At a previous election on the bond issue, the necessary two-thirds majority was not made. Lack of sufficient polling places and lack of organization were blamed for the defeat.

Court Finds Pair Not at Fault

CHINO, April 23.—A court victory was secured today by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tolle, through a ruling made by Superior Judge F. A. Leonard, in which he declared them not at fault in an automobile crash at California Boulevard and Magnolia avenue, March 21, 1928.

Suit for $12,000 was launched against Mr. and Mrs. Tolle by Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Lee of Los Angeles as a result of the wreck, Mrs. Lee asserting she received numerous bruises and cuts and an injury to her left knee and thigh.

Reply to the suit was made by Mr. and Mrs. Tolle charging the plaintiffs with contributory negligence. The judgment was denied by Judge Leonard.

DISASTER ENDS NAP AT WHEEL

Corona Youth May Die from Auto Wreck Hurts

Driver Slumbers and So Car Crashes Into Tree

Other De Molay Members in Machine Injured

CORONA, April 23.—An accident that may result fatally to Edwin Hill, and badly injuring Robert Shank and Allan Haines, three young Corona men, happened early this morning as the three were returning from Hemet where they had attended a meeting of the De Molays.

As they neared the corner of Magnolia avenue and Brooklyn streets the big sedan left the road when Shank, who was driving, is said to have gone to sleep. The car crashed into a tree, being completely demolished by the impact.

Hill, the most seriously injured of the three, had not regained consciousness at a late hour today and it was impossible to make a thorough examination. It was thought he had concussion of the brain and he also has many bad cuts. His recovery is considered doubtful by Dr. C. R. Gelth, who attended the young man.

Haines received a bad cut in his back while Shank was more fortunate, being cut by flying glass and bruised. Both boys were able to return to their homes at 3 a.m. today. Shank carries The Times in the Norco district and showed his worth by insisting on accompanying his uncle on the morning delivery to be sure his patrons received their morning paper.

Hill, a senior, is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hill, the latter being the local Santa Fe agent. Shank is the oldest son of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Shank, and Haines, the only son of Mrs. George Haines, whose husband met a tragic death about a year ago when a derrick fell on him while at work on Catalina Island.

Trunk Mystery Baffles County Peace Officers

VENTURA, April 23.—Deputy sheriffs today are investigating "the mystery of the trunk." Last night they found an abandoned trunk near the Rincon highway about three miles west of the city, on which was perched a standard "information" sign. On a piece of cardboard was added in writing, "try and find out." Inside the trunk were some old working clothes, a pair of corduroy trousers, and some painting materials.

A passing motorist saw a tramp standing by the trunk about 8 o'clock last night, and, thinking something might be amiss, notified the Sheriff's office. Undersheriff Howard Durley immediately answered the call, but when he arrived the trunk was abandoned. No clews to the mystery have been found as yet.

REPUBLICANS HAVE MAJORITY IN COUNTY

SANTA BARBARA, April 23.—According to a compilation of the party affiliations of some 18,490 voters who have registered in the county to date, the Republicans have more than a 3-to-1 majority over any other party.

The compilation shows that there are 10,731 Republicans, 3239 Democrats, 32 Socialists and 78 Prohibitionists. More than 1000 of the voters registering declined to reveal the party of their choice. Two-thirds of those registered are residents of the city, 10,430 residing in Santa Barbara proper and the remaining 5126 being listed in precincts over the county.

From figures compiled Solvang should be the scene of the hottest political fights, with three voters who declined to reveal their party having the power to sway the election. So far 33 Republicans and 31 Democrats have registered in that precinct.

BEAUTY PARLOR FIRE HOLDS UP TRAFFIC

SANTA BARBARA, April 23.—Smoke from a pan of paraffin left on a stove in Miss Blaine's beauty salon in the La Arcada Building caused the fire department to be called last night. There was no blaze but the smoke filled the room and poured from its openings. Three fire department trucks answered the call. Much congestion of traffic on State street resulted for a short time until police officers succeeded in directing traffic from the block via Anapamu and Figueroa streets.

The total to be raised this year is $900 more than the 1929 goal.

The increase was allowed after three or four special meetings in which the general sentiment was canvassed.

In charge of the drive will be Joe Noyes, campaign manager, and Mrs. Charles P. Temple, woman's campaign manager.

BORE TO CORONADO URGED

New Yorker Ready to Lay Plans for Tunnel Beneath Bay from San Diego Before City Council There

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—Plans for boring a tunnel between San Diego and Coronado as a means of transportation are to be laid before the City Council when that body is ready to entertain such a proposition, according to E. M. Elliott, who told the Mayor and Council today that he represents the American Bridge and Ferry Company of New York.

In conversation with Mayor Clark today Elliott said he had come here to make his home and that he is ready to finance the project. He said he had made a study of toll bridges and toll tunnels and was convinced that a tunnel under the bay here would be a paying proposition. Elliott in all probability, will make formal application for a franchise on tidelands at Monday's Council session.

This is the second project to build a tunnel under the bay started within the past year. The San Francisco Bridge and Toll Company now has a franchise to operate a tunnel. The Marshall McClintick Company, representing a steel corporation, seeks to build a bridge across the bay.

CHAIN STORES ENTER CITY

New York Retail Corporation Merchandising Women's Ready-to-Wear, Leases Building

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—Another large chain-store retail organization enters San Diego, according to the announcement of Harvey E. Linne of Coldwell, Cornwall & Banker, Los Angeles realty brokers, through the leasing of the two-story-and-basement building at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and C street to Lerner Stores Corporation of New York, one of the largest chain-store organizations selling women's ready-to-wear.

The property, owned by Mrs. Mildred Conard, has been leased for a term of twenty-five years, commencing June 1, 1930, and at a total rental of nearly $800,000.

This property, having a frontage on Fifth avenue of fifty feet and a depth of 100 feet on C street, is to be remodeled at an expense of more than $50,000 to meet the requirements of Lerner Stores. This corporation, selling dresses, lingerie, sportswear, hosiery and blouses, operates more than 160 stores from coast to coast and it has recently opened stores in Los Angeles, Pasadena and Santa Barbara.

Leasing negotiations were handled by Linne.

FILM LEADERS LAUD PRE-VIEW

Officials of Studios and Stars Highly Pleased

"The Times" Showered With Messages of Praise

Articles and Photographs Generously Commended

The fourth annual Pre-View of the Los Angeles Times won a whole-hearted welcome yesterday. Telegrams and congratulatory messages from motion-picture executives, stars, writers and other interested readers poured into the office of The Times from early morning until evening. Many of them expressed the thought that this year's issue of the Pre-View is by far and away the best ever published.

Everywhere in Hollywood yesterday, in the studio offices, on the sets, at the stars' homes, copies of the Pre-View, which tells of the new film capital, the "empire of sound," were being read with interest.

FROM MARY PICKFORD

One of the first messages to reach The Times came from Mary Pickford, who has always shown a sincere and deep interest in the annual Pre-View and who on previous occasions has contributed to its editorial contents. She said:

"Doug and I both got a great deal of enjoyment from the annual Pre-View. The articles were both instructive and constructive. The industry ought to be proud of such a magazine."

Harold Lloyd wired Edwin Schallert, editor of the issue: "I have just finished reading the annual and I want you to know I think it tops all previous yearly editions. It contains a wealth of information that is just as interesting to us within the industry as to the general public. My congratulations to all those associated with it. I think Charles H. Owens's cover design superb."

PRAISE FROM JOLSON

From Al Jolson came a message: "I have studied the Annual Pre-View with much interest and no little amusement. What a big thing our little infant talking-picture industry has grown to be. I know of no other single publication where one can find such a concise and condensed review of Hollywood and its activities."

Irving G. Thalberg, executive of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, said: "The motion-picture industry, which has experienced an amazing metamorphosis in the past twelve months, is graphically depicted in the 1930 Times Pre-View. The facts, gathered from authoritative sources, are presented concisely by writers identified with the film field for a number of years. We of the industry are grateful for the enterprise evidenced in placing before the public this splendid publication."

SCHULBERG PLEASED

B. P. Schulberg, general manager of west coast productions for Paramount, wired: "The new edition of the Pre-View is by far the most interesting and attractive of all. It is a valuable record of the activities of the motion-picture industry."

Joseph M. Schenck, president and chairman of the board, United Artists' Corporation: "This year's Pre-View is aptly dedicated to 'The New Hollywood' and is a highly enlightening document which tells by word and picture the enormous strides made by a great industry."

Cecil B. De Mille said: "This year's form of the Pre-View is especially commendable. I consider it an excellent policy to have the case of the industry presented by close observers, rather than by those of us who are perhaps too near to the situation to be always correct or unprejudiced in our judgments. Such writers as Harry Carr, Edwin Schallert, Herbert Howe, Alma Whitaker, Grace Kingsley, Adela Rogers St. Johns, Myra Nye, William Johnston and Julian Johnson are, of course, known and respected wherever people read about film matters."

Sigmund Romberg, composer of "Blossom Time," "The Student Prince" and "The Desert Song:" "As a newcomer to the motion-picture studios I am looking at a copy of your annual Pre-View for the first time. I do not understand why this beautiful and interesting magazine comes out only once a year. It seems to me the Hollywood picture industry would need such an organ at least once a month to tell the world the many interesting things being done here. I hope you will be able to accomplish this very soon."

PICTURES LAUDED

J. L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production, Warner Brothers' studio: "I have found the Annual Pre-View of the Los Angeles Times a comprehensive review of the past year in the industry. The illustrations are especially interesting and provide the millions of motion-picture patrons with an intimate glimpse behind the scenes in Hollywood."

From James Gleason, playwright and actor, now at Pathe: "Congratulations on your Annual Pre-View. It couldn't have been better if I'd done it myself."

Miss Norma Shearer, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star: "Always a delight, the 1930 Pre-View comes to us this year with an even greater welcome since it has so many new features. The changes brought about within the studios by talking pictures are accurately reflected in the splendid articles and I am sure any person interested in the films will find the new issue exceptionally enlightening."

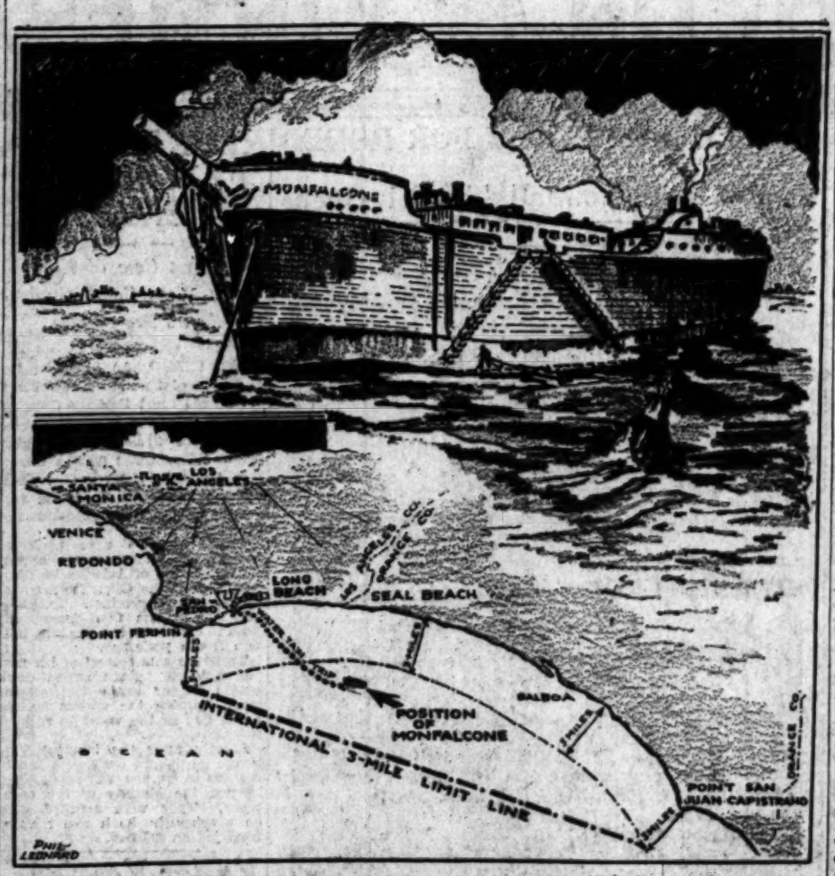
Luther Reed, R.-K.-O. executive: "The Annual Pre-View is the best thing of its kind I have ever seen."

Additional comments from the host of other messages received were as follows: Evelyn Brent, star, "Congratulations, the Annual Pre-View is great reading and is distinctly interesting pictorially." Nancy Carroll, Paramount star: "The annual Pre-View is a tribute to everyone connected with the making of motion pictures. May it long continue its yearly publication." Roy Del Ruth, Warner Brothers director: "The Pre-View depicts the New Hollywood as it is."

LECTURE ANNOUNCED

Dr. C. Telford Erickson, member of the American Board of Missions, stationed in Albania during the World War, will give a lecture at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Los Angeles Museum, Exposition Park. He will speak on "Albania, the Mother of the Balkans."

Boat's Position Declared to be in State's Waters



Map Shows Coast Line and Location of Gambling Vessel
By measuring from promontories the Monfalcone is well within the three-mile limit.

OPINION TRAPS GAMING SHIP

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher Says Monfalcone Lies in San Pedro Bay and Can be Seized

The operation of the gambling ship Monfalcone, floating at anchor three and a half miles off Seal Beach, may be legally stopped at any time, its owners and attendants arrested for violation of the State gambling laws and the gambling equipment on board the vessel confiscated and destroyed, according to the opinion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher, who said yesterday that the ship is well within the jurisdiction of the State of California.

Mr. Beecher said that according to the Constitution of the State under Article XII, which declares that all bays and harbors which indent the coast are within the jurisdiction of the State and also, according to the terms of the decision in the suit of the Ocean Industries, Inc., against the Superior Court of Santa Cruz county as given in California Reports, 200, Page 235, of January 11, 1927, the Monfalcone is well within the international three-mile limit.

CURVE NOT FOLLOWED

The Santa Cruz county decision declares that in the presence of a bay the three-mile limit is measured from promontory to promontory and that the limit line does not follow the curve of the beach.

Under this interpretation, applied to San Pedro Bay, a line drawn three miles off Point Fermin to three miles off Newport or Point San Juan, the anchorage of the Monfalcone is two miles or more inside of the legal three-mile limit and is subject to seizure.

"Last week I requested the county surveyor to determine the position of the Monfalcone," Mr. Beecher said yesterday, "and his survey revealed that the vessel is two and a half miles south of the Los Angeles county line, as extended into the water, and in Orange county.

"If the Monfalcone had been found to be north of the boundary lines between the two counties and in our jurisdiction, I would certainly have raided the ship and brought gambling charges against its operators. As it is, however, we can do nothing, as the boat is not in Los Angeles county, but in Orange county."

DECISION IN PART

The decision given in the Ocean Industries case which determined the location of the three-mile line off Monterey Bay said in part: "The court is entitled to take judicial notice of the political history of the world in determining whether the ship where anchored is within or without the boundaries of the State of California.

"The Bay of Monterey designated from its first discovery as a bay, being a body of water having headlands approximately eighteen miles apart with receding shores, giving a total width of twenty-two miles inside the headlands, with a total depth of approximately nine miles, satisfies the definition of a 'bay' given by the lexicographers, as a body of water around which the land forms a curve, or a recess or inlet between capes or headlands.

"The language of Article XII of the Constitution of California adopted in 1849, describing the boundaries of the State, particularly in view of the past political history of the region, was clearly intended to embrace within the entire area all those several bays and harbors which indent the coast."

ANALOGY DRAWN

Mr. Beecher declared that the location of the Monfalcone in San Pedro Bay is perfectly analogous with the location of the vessel concerned in the Ocean Industries suit —that it is within the waters over which the State has jurisdiction— and its operators subject to arrest.

The construction of the three-mile line measured from the Point Fermin position apparently placing the Monfalcone in jeopardy of seizure would again prevent the vessel from operating beyond its limit according to the warning of the United States Coast Guard authorities, who have declared that if the boat moves farther out to sea it will be seized and taken into harbor as a menace to navigation.

Further action against the gambling ship, where thousands of dollars change hands nightly, is balked, however, by Dist.-Atty. West of Orange county, who last week refused to move against the Monfalcone, even to make a test arrest. Mr. West declared that the rulings and decisions covering State jurisdiction over bays as contained in the Ocean Industries case applied only to Monterey Bay.

WINNER OF ESSAY PRIZE ANNOUNCED

Beverly Hills Student Victor in State Contest on Paris Peace Pact

Students of Beverly Hills High School yesterday felt that they were entitled to indulge in a large measure of pride when the announcement reached the school that David Mellinjoff of 811 Foothill Road, a junior student, had been declared winner for the State of California in a national high-school essay contest on the Paris peace pact.

The judges, who were professors at Stanford University, chose Mellinjoff's essay for first place from among 122,000 submitted from 1500 high schools throughout the State. The subject of all essays was "How May the Pact for the Renunciation of War be Made Effective?" and the contestants were limited to 300 words.

The contest, which is national in scope, is sponsored by Philander Claxton, former commissioner of education of the United States. When winners for every State in the Union have been determined and from outlying possessions there will be fifty-six essays in all, which will be sent to a committee in Washington to be judged for a national award. The prize to each State winner is a framed copy of the Paris peace pact and the national prize will be a $500 trip to Europe this summer.

Texans Invited to Celebration Sunday at Park

Heading the organization of natives of the Lone Star State, Capt. Lyston Black, president of the Texas State Society, yesterday announced the annual picnic commemorating San Jacinto Day, for Sunday at Sycamore Grove.

CAPT. LYSTON BLACK.

On San Jacinto Day, some 20,000 to 30,000 Texans living and visiting in Southern California, annually gather to celebrate the winning of Texas independence.

Recalling the old days when Texas was an independent nation, Gov. Moody is sending Robert H. Hurt and his small son Marshall to deliver special addresses. The 7-year-old boy has more than 100 readings at his command and has been delivering political speeches for his father, now candidate for District Attorney for the Dallas district.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts, a native Texan, will be a featured speaker.

Barbecue will be served to everyone wearing a Texas badge. There will be coffee for all who take cups.

Motion pictures will be taken during the day and sent to Texas as news reels.

Additional features also have been arranged.

Play Dialogue Will be Cabled

Because John Galsworthy, famous English playwright, declined an invitation to come to Hollywood to write changes in dialogue for the screen version of one of his plays, the revised dialogue is to be cabled from England, it was announced yesterday at Warner Brothers' Studio.

The picture is "Old English," which will star George Arliss. Galsworthy was not easily won from his antagonism to motion pictures and when he consented to let Arliss make his play into a Vitaphone picture he specifically provided that no one else should be allowed to write a line of dialogue.

IMPROVEMENTS ASSURED

The final ordinance for the improvement of Fortuna street from Fifty-seventh street to Slauson avenue was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

BOOK MEN ADDRESSED BY WRITERS

Dealers from Southern Part of State Open Annual Convention Here

Booksellers from all parts of Southern California yesterday gathered at luncheon in the Biltmore for the opening of their annual convention. They had as their guests authors, publishers, reviewers and others in the field of literature, and spent the afternoon listening to enlightening and sometimes humorous discussions of various phases of their business. Charles R. Hixson presided and John Steven McGroarty, feature writer of The Times, delivered the address of welcome.

Among the speakers was Dr. John Henry Nash of San Francisco, nationally known typographer. He reviewed the history of printing, describing it as the major art of the fifteenth century. For years Dr. Nash has been working, he said, toward the preparation of a scholar's bible, 200 sets of which will sell at $1000 each and ten at $5000. The editions will not be ready until 1938. The typographer also told how W. A. Clark, Jr., Los Angeles capitalist, has paid as high as $37,000 for a set of books.

Other speakers included John V. A. Weaver, young poet and author of "In American" and other volumes, Dr. W. D. Sansum, author of "Normal Diet," a best seller, Odo B. Stade of the Hollywood Book Store, who deplored the current flood of inferior fiction, Loretta Vallely, widely known local book reviewer, Rabbi Ernest R. Trattner, author of "The Autobiography of God," Joseph Lippincott, publisher, and Eugene Sommer of Berkeley, bookseller.

A dinner-dance at the Biltmore last night concluded the first day's session.

LARGE CROP OF TOURISTS PREDICTED

Espee Official Says Many in East Seek Information on Travel Costs

Southern California will enjoy a better tourist season this year than has generally been anticipated, according to F. S. McGinnis, Southern Pacific vice-president in charge of passenger traffic, who arrived here from New York yesterday.

F. S. McGINNIS

Within the last three weeks the number of inquiries received by the company's eastern offices concerning travel to the Pacific Coast has exceeded expectations and travel forecasts have been revised upward.

"This improved tourist outlook," McGinnis said, "reflects the more satisfactory business conditions prevailing throughout the East. Prosperity east of the Missouri River is increasing steadily and healthfully, employment conditions show daily betterment and, while this improvement may not be rapid, our renewed national well-being is based upon sound economic conditions which will assure its continuation."

GIRL ORATORS OF SLOPE LEAD

No Other Section of Nation Can Match West

Eleven to Appear in "Times" Semifinals Friday

Pacific Coast Winner Will Get Trip to Europe

There are more girl entrants and more girl winners to reach the upper brackets in the Pacific-Southwest zone of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution than in any other zone of the entire country. Query: Are the girls of the Pacific Slope more ambitious for forensic honors, better prepared mentally, more patriotic and zealous in supporting and upholding the Constitution and the institutions of their homeland; do they feel the responsibility to study and interest themselves in the matter of government to a greater degree than the young womanhood of other sections of the country?

Reports from the Midwest indicate that the girls are being rapidly eliminated in the contest in that section.

BOYS BEAT GIRLS

The Kansas City Star, for instance, in a recent issue said:

"Whatever the cause, the fact is that the seventh annual Greater Kansas City meeting of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution will present ten high school district champion orators, all of whom are boys. A few of the school contests included a girl here and there, but no girl was able to triumph, in the final tests, over her boy opponents."

Eleven girls will appear in The Times semifinals Friday night, in contest with thirty-two boys. There were four girls and two boys in the Arizona contest, already held, making the full score, fifteen girls and thirty-four boys. This is the largest number of girl contestants to reach the semifinals in any year of the contest's history and represents the largest ratio of girl winners in any of the seven zones into which the country is divided. The ratio of girl winners is all the greater when it is considered that the boys who entered the contest at the beginning outnumbered the girls at least three to one.

ELDORA BETTENCOURT

GIRLS IN CONTEST

The girls who will appear in contest with the boys Friday night are: Group A, Alma Bramkamp, Banning Union High School; Helen Cox, Needles High. Group B, Alice Parichan, Reedley Joint Union; Eldora Bettencourt, Lemoore High. Group C, Jacqueline de Wit, Marlborough; Mary Louise Hitte, Antelope Valley High, Lancaster; Lillian Hurwitz, Santa Ana High. Group D, Ethel Winstein, Jefferson High; Elizabeth Long, Manual Arts High. Group E, Frances Bardy, Fairfax High. Group F, Fern Rigg, Williams (Ariz.) High; Marian White, Bisbee (Ariz.) High; Pearl Adams, Fort Thomas (Ariz.) High; Elizabeth Head, Tucson (Ariz.) High. Group G, Beatrice May, Las Vegas (Nev.) High; Louise Sourwine, Reno (Nev.) High.

LILLIAN HURWITZ

ALICE PARICHAN

The winner in The Times finals, to be held May 2, receives a cash reward of $500 and goes to Seattle for the grand finale, the winner of which goes to Washington to meet the winners of the other six divisions into which the country is divided. Whether winner or not in the grand finals, the Pacific Coast representative will be one of seven who will be given a free three months' trip to Europe, all expenses paid. Should any of the seven in the Washington contest be girls, they will be furnished a chaperon, whose expenses likewise will be paid.

JUDGES FOR COAST FINALS SELECTED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 23. (Exclusive)—The following distinguished board of judges will select the champion of the Pacific Coast zone, of the Seventh National Oratorical Contest in the municipal auditorium, Seattle, May 9:

Oliver P. Coshow, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon; William H. Folland, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah; William J. Millard, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Washington; Judge James Franklin Alishie, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Idaho, and Dr. Alfred Atkinson, president of the Montana State College.

Two of the seven young high school orators who will compete in the Pacific Coast finals already have been selected. They are Lavon Sorenson, 19 years of age, senior of the Madison (Idaho) High School, who recently won for the second successive year the Idaho State finals, this time with an oration entitled "The Constitution, a Guarantee of Human Equality," and Margaret Bairos, 15, junior of the Punahou School, Oahu, Hawaii, won the Hawaiian finals with her speech, "The Constitution—A Guarantee of Liberty for Every Individual." The Idaho Education Association sponsors the contest in Idaho, and the Honolulu Star-Bulletin is the sponsor in Hawaii.

FIRE FIGHT GIVEN AID

The City Council yesterday passed an ordinance granting permission to County Forester Turner to construct a telephone system to aid fire protection in the Santa Monica Mountains.

Carnera Gets Border Fight

SAN DIEGO, April 23. (AP)—Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight boxer, has been matched for a fight to be held in the Tia Juana, Lower California, arena Sunday, May 18, it was announced this afternoon by Harry Pollok, representing business men of the border city. Carnera's opponent has not yet been selected, but it was reported that an effort would be made to secure Leon Chevalier, Negro heavyweight of San Francisco, who recently met Carnera in Oakland.

STARS LOSE TO INDIANS AGAIN

Seattle Cops Second Clash by Score of 6 to 4

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 23. (AP) Seattle made it two straight over Hollywood in the Pacific Coast Baseball League with a 6-to-4 victory over the Stars today. The Indians took the lead with two runs in the first inning and held the upper hand during the remainder of the tilt except when Hollywood knotted the count at 3-all in the fourth inning. Shellenback went the entire route on the mound for the Stars, while Seattle used Hubbell and Hanson. Score:

GREAT SHIRES LAID UP

CLEVELAND, April 23. (AP)—Arthur Shires, first baseman of the Chicago American League baseball team, will be out of the line-up for at least a week. He was injured in yesterday's game here with the Indians, when he collided with Johnny Hodapp, Indian second baseman.

POWER-BOATS START LONG TREK TODAY

The cream of the Coast's power cruisers begin 446-mile race this morning. Twenty-five boats will face the starter at 9 a.m. on the waters fronting the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach on the first leg of an ocean race to San Francisco for the Sir Thomas Lipton Cup. On top is the Zoa, Rear-Commodore Arthur N. Macrate's trim cruiser which won the event last year. Below Miss Jolane Reynolds is pictured with the Lipton Trophy, which goes to the winning boat.

OJAI PLAY OPENS TODAY

More Than 200 Tennis Players Will See Action in First Day of Annual Net Tourney

OJAI, April 23.—More than 200 of the more than 300 tennis players gathered here for the thirty-fifth annual Ojai invitational tennis tournament will see action today. Exactly 144 matches—probably a record—are scheduled for tomorrow in the fourteen divisions which make up the tournament.

Court stars from all over California have gathered for the annual struggles, there is a strong possibility that nearly every final match will develop into a north-south duel.

San Francisco has furnished the No. 1 seeded players in both the men's and women's singles. Miss Edith Cross, ranked No. 3 nationally, and a member of the American Wightman cup team, is the choice in the women's singles; while Gerald Stratford, the defending champion, holds a similar position in the men's singles.

GERALD STRATFORD

The other events on the program include a men's doubles, mixed doubles, collegiate singles, collegiate doubles, scholastic singles, scholastic doubles, invitational girls' singles, invitational girls' doubles, junior boys' singles, junior boys' doubles, junior girls' singles and junior girls' doubles.

First-round matches in the men's singles find Stratford facing Dick Lusch; H. Cully vs. G. Jason; Ellsworth Vines vs. Frank Cove, and Gerald Bartosh vs. H. A. White in the upper half; with Keith Gledhill vs. C. A. Barker, Phil Neer vs. Phil Hanna, Lester Stoefen vs. Harry

PHILLIES VANQUISH BROOKLYN

Philadelphia Wins Weird Slugging Match, 16 to 15; Hurlers Overworked

PHILADELPHIA, April 23. (AP)—The Phillies and the Brooklyn Robins shattered all of the young baseball season's slugging marks today as Philadelphia gained its second straight victory, 16 to 15, in a weird game that lasted almost three hours.

The two teams, first one leading then the other, got thirty-eight hits for their thirty-one runs, but it took an error to decide the issue. Jake Flowers, Robin second baseman, booted Thompson's grounder with two out in the ninth and let Spotts come home from third. The lead had changed hands on three previous occasions.

Brooklyn used six pitchers, three of them in the first inning, while the Phils called four. Collins got credit for the victory and Clark was charged with the defeat.

Chuck Klein, 1929 National League home-run leader, hit his third four-bagger of the year in

JELLIFFE WINS MEDAL IN RIVIERA TOURNEY; MATCH PLAY ON TODAY

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Par remained unshattered yesterday as W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of the Girard Golf and Country Club shot a 72, one over par, to win the medal in the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the annual Riviera Country Club invitation championship.

W. L. JELLIFFE

A mere handful of the 183 entrants, sixteen to be exact, managed to break the 80 mark in the two days of qualifying play. Six finished in the seventies on Tuesday and ten more were added to the fold yesterday.

George Shaw, Bill Conner and Allen Moser shot 76; Gene Brown, J. M. Arneill, Dick Smith and Milo Marchetti 78, and Ray Palmer 79.

Match play starts today in six flights with a championship flight of thirty-two. Eight full flights were expected, but a number found the going too tough and picked up. This can readily be appreciated when it is noted than an 8 man turned in a card of 102, while 4, 6 and even 2-handicap players were glad to score in the eighties.

A number of fine first-round matches are scheduled in the championship flight today. Allen Moser, University of Southern California star, faces a former U.C.L.A. golfer, Rod Houser of San Gabriel, in what should prove to be an excellent match; Milo M. Marchetti of Rancho meets Frank V. Deleot of Wilshire, Dr. C. K. Manhart of Rancho battles Dr. L. D. Rankin of Rancho, and Gene Brown of California meets Billy Jacks of Girard in other outstanding matches.

For the first time in many a tournament, the handicaps worked out to perfection. J. C. Bequette and R. M. Bishop tied for low net with scores of 71, just par figures.

Following are today's pairings and starting times:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

1 to 2 p.m., at scratch—Bill Jelliffe vs. F. M. Warner, M. Gene Brown vs. Bill Jack, George Shaw vs. J. W. Roberts, Char Berdrow vs. J. H. Braly, Allen Moser vs. Rod Houser, George M. Lewis vs. Albert Cohen, M. M. Marchetti vs. F. V. Deleot, J. C. Bequette vs. W. G. Stone, Phil Carter vs. Joe Graves, J. M. Arneill vs. Dan Wray, Bill Conner vs. Wade Jones, E. F. HUNTER CLAIMS DEFAULT AS BELL FALLS IN MATCH

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS (W. Va.) April 23. (AP)—Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, advanced to the semifinals of the Mason and Dixon tennis championship today by claiming a default from Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., after the youthful Texan collapsed when he was within one point of the match. The startling finish was not satisfactory to the large gallery, but the committee was unanimous in supporting the decision of the referee, S. Howard Voshell, to whom Umpire Beals C. Wright appealed for final ruling.

Wilmer Allison, Jr., of Austin, Tex., eliminated John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., No. 3 ranking player, earlier in the afternoon by a pretty display of aggressiveness in four sets. The score was 7-9, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

John Van Ryn of South Orange, N. J., earned the right to oppose Hunter, in the upper bracket of the semifinals by defeating Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 1-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago defeated Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., 6-0, 6-4, 6-2.

On Thursday Hunter will play John Van Ryn while Lott will meet Allison.

The Hunter-Bell match was the outstanding contest at the time of Bell's collapse from a painfully cramped leg as the players held two sets each, with Bell leading, 6 to 5, in the fifth set and with the vantage point.

Roy Riegels Frosh Coach

BERKELEY, April 23. (AP)—Roy Riegels, center and captain of last year's University of California football team, tonight was appointed freshman coach. The appointment was made by the executive committee of the Associated Students, on the recommendation of Head Coach Nibs Price. Riegels, during spring football practice, has been acting as coach of the goof squad. This place will be taken by Brick Marcus, halfback of three years ago.

SHADE AND HUDKINS TO CLASH HERE

Olympic Signs Battle Between Middleweight Contenders

BY KAY OWE

Ace Hudkins and Dave Shade will meet in a ten-round bout at the Olympic on May 20. The match was closed yesterday by Wad Wadhams, matchmaker for Promoter Jack Doyle.

ACE HUDKINS

The bout will be an elimination affair, the winner to box Mickey Walker at Wrigley Field in June. Jack Kearns is ready to sign Walker when the time comes.

Kearns notified Mickey, who is in the East, that they would book no more fights and to come west immediately after he boxes in Detroit.

The Shade-Hudkins fight is one that has been sought all over the country. It places Hudkins in a spot where he can again fight for the middleweight title if he eliminates Shade. And it gives Shade a chance he has waited for ever since Mickey won the 160-pound title from Tiger Flowers and then refused all Shade's overtures.

At one time Hudkins turned down an offer of $10,000 flat to fight Shade here. He didn't want the match, figuring that he could get

SOLONS ANNEX WILD CONTEST

Four-Run Rally in Seventh Wins for Senators

Lelivelt Sent to Clubhouse for Making Protest

Neither Horne Nor Freitas Able to Finish

BY BOB RAY

These Sacramento Senators may only be spring daisies, as a lot of the critics predict, but my, oh, my, how they are blooming these balmy April afternoons at Wrigley Field. Oyez, the Solons trimmed our Angels again yesterday, 7 to 5, and the result shoved the Leliveltian forces down into third place and bounced the Sacs up to the second spot under the pace-setting Oaks.

BUDDY RYAN

The contest was one of those drawn-out affairs, lasting 2h. 21m., that saw the Angels use five pitchers to two for Sacramento and the banishment of Skipper Jack Lelivelt for uttering his thoughts in the vicinity of Umpire Forrest Cady. The umpiring, by the way, was just about as putrid as it was Tuesday only yesterday it was a bit more infantile. In fact, when the arbiters couldn't agree on one decision they had to get the press box to rule on it for them. Oh, Mr. Harry Williams, and to think a perfectly good umpire like Jack Powell is out of a job.

But to get back to the ball game, the Sacs won by bunching four hits with a pair of walks and an error to score four runs in the seventh inning. Those four tallies gave the Solons a 7-to-1 lead, but the Angels scored three in their half of the seventh and another in the eighth to give Buddy Ryan a scare and cause him to derrick young Tony Freitas, the Portuguese portsider, in favor of the veteran spitball dispenser, Pudgy Gould.

HORNE TOO WILD

Berly Horne, the midget speedball chucker, started on the mound for the Angels but was so wild that he had to be lifted in the fifth, although the Sacs hadn't made a hit off him. Horne had three balls on about every batter that faced

Complete Entry List Announced for Southern California Prep Preliminaries Sat

COMPETITION TO BE VERY CLOSE

L. A. High to be Scene of Annual Scramble

Exactly 999 Athletes to Compete in Meet

Willson and Burch to Mix in Furlong Heat

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Competition promises to be very close this Saturday in the annual Southern California track-and-field preliminaries being staged at L. A. High. While the heats have been so arranged that the fastest men won't meet until the finals are run off May 3, plenty of speed duels loom in the various heats.

There will be five heats in the 100-yard dash, with three men qualifying from each one. The five cinches or sure winners of each heat appear to be Atkinson of Loyola who has run 9 4-5s., Alvin Koenig of Huntington Beach, Ashley Burch of Jordan, Babe Morales of Redondo and Jimmy Willson of San Diego.

OTHER STARS

While Atkinson appears to be the one most likely to win his heat, there are several other gallopers who may surprise him. Chief among them are Herb Spurr, South Pasadena captain; "Red" Franklin of Long Beach, Cheshire of L.A. High, O'Neil of Eagle Rock and Covert of Redondo.

Mansur of Hemet, Nickerson of Rilis, Maguire of Inglewood and Holt of Hoover will furnish Jimmy Willson, the 100-yard Southern California champion, plenty of competition. However the fight will be for second place, not for first, as word from the south has Willson in great shape.

Koenig should not have very much trouble in winning his heat, although Joe Danniger of Hollywood, Walt Clark of Fremont and Powell of Santa Paula may press him.

MORALES FAVORED

The fourth heat brings together among others, Morales of Redondo, Jack McCarthy of Fairfax, Linly of Santa Monica, Pagluiso of Glendale, Perrin of Whittier, Pendergrass of Cal-Prep, and Williams of L.A. High. Morales is favored, although Pagluiso may surprise.

Ashley Burch and Fernando Ortiz of San Diego, are slated to stage a fast duel in the fifth heat. Burch won the Marine League 100 in 9 4-5s., while Ortiz took first honors in the Coast League finals in 10 1-10s. Ortiz has not lost a race this year except to his team-mate, Willson.

The 220-yard dash heats also number five, the feature race being the second heat which brings together Burch and Willson.

Burch has run 21 4-5s. this year, while Willson's best time is somewhere near 22 1-5s. However, the southern flyer won the State meet furlong last year in 21 2-5s., which means that young Mr. Burch is in for a fast afternoon.

999 IN MEET

Close to 1000 track athletes will compete Saturday, the exact number to date being 999. Bowlus of San Luis Obispo, will wear the triple nine number. He has been entered in the 880-yard run.

As further proof that Jimmy Willson's pulled muscle injury is healed, Coach Glenn Broderick has entered him in the broad jump as well as both dashes. Border fans claim Willson can jump in the neighborhood of twenty-two feet.

The complete Class A entry list and various heats, as announced by Seth Van Patten, director of athletics for the southern section of the C.I.F., follow:

OJAI PLAY ON CARD FOR TODAY

Plymire and Keith Werner vs. W. Bates in the lower half.

Stratford is expected to play Vines in the upper half semi-final, while Giedhill, Neer or Steefen might be the finalist in the lower half.

In the women's singles the upper half finds Miss Cross playing Ruth McCabe, Esther Bartosh vs. Peggy Stratford, Midge Gladman vs. Barbara Feil and Patsy McCoy vs. Violet Doeg. In the lower half Mrs. Harper faces Dorothy Workman, Helen Marlowe vs. Catherine Ramelli, Ethel Burkhart vs. Elizabeth Deike and May Sutton Bundy vs. Elizabeth Weil.

Considerable interest has centered in Mrs. Bundy in the women's singles. She first won the championship at Ojai in 1902, and repeated several times, her most recent victory occurring two years ago. This will mark her first tournament appearance in singles in almost two years. While Miss Cross is an outstanding favorite, her ultimate opponent in the finals is considerably in doubt.

Cliff Herd and Alan Herrington, winners of the recent Hawaiian doubles tournament, are the favored team in that division here, with Keith Gledhill and Ellsworth Vines, national junior champions, as their leading rivals. Herd won the doubles crown last year, paired with Joe Coughlin.

Mrs. Marion Williams, who won the women's singles title last year, is not back to defend her title. Mr. and Mrs. Stratford will defend their doubles title. The collegiate singles are considered wide open, as Johnny Doeg, last year's winner, is playing in the East. A new collegiate doubles team will be crowned as Ben Gorchakoff and Art Kussman have both left Occidental. Hugh McArthur will relinquish his boys' interscholistic title, as will Dick Lusch and Jack Tidball in the doubles. Caroline Babcock will attempt to win the girls' interscholastic singles again, as will Miss Jane Sharp and Miss E. Lee in the doubles. Jay Cohn is after his second boys' crown, while new champions will be selected in the boys' doubles, girls' singles and girls' doubles.

SHADE MATCHED WITH HUDKINS

to Walker without facing the bobbing David.

Shade won seven straight battles in California and then was given a gum draw with Joe Anderson. It was a great fight and Shade never looked better.

Hudkins hasn't boxed since he went to New York to fight Maxie Rosenbloom. The latter made a safety first fight of it to get the decision, which Tom Kennedy and Hudkins claim was undeserved. The Wildcat has been playing polo and having a lot of fun during his holiday, but will settle down to work from now on.

Shade leaves this morning for Soper's ranch, where he will start to get in shape.

Colima to Box in Outdoor Go

Bert Colima and Ray Still, Oklahoma middleweight, were signed yesterday to box the ten-round main event of the card to be staged by Carlo Curtis at the White Sox ball park Saturday night, May 3. Curtis has had Colima under contract for the bout and yesterday he obtained the signature of Still, a middleweight who has met Dave Shade, Jack Willis and other well-known men of the division and a fighter who Curtis believes will be capable of giving Colima a tough time of it. Both fighters will start training today. According to Manager "Dutch" Meyers, Colima is in good shape and needs only to take light workouts daily to be ready for the tiff a week from Saturday.

Because of the fact that May 3 is the date of the Mexican May fiesta, Curtis intends to feature Mexican fighters on his card. Today the "boy promoter" expects to sign a worthy opponent for Benny Miller, the young local welterweight knockout sensation, for the eight-round semi-wind-up.

RABBIT PUNCHES

AN UNDERPAID PASTING

NOW that post-mortems are in order what do you suppose Ernie Owens dragged down for the pasting he took at the hands of Max Baer at the Olympic Tuesday night?

How much in actual cash for goofy spells in the second and third rounds, plus four knockdowns in the eighth and ninth rounds?

Just $189.

And for his shellacking in six of the ten rounds, a closed left eye and a beating that wiped out his supercilious smile Baer received $2500.

How come the difference, you ask?

Well, it's this way.

Acting as a pseudo promoter Dutch Meyers, manager of Owens, agreed to take 50 per cent of the gate receipts from the Olympic management.

From this total he was to take care of Baer's $2500 guarantee and pocket the remainder.

Had the gate receipts mounted to $15,000 or so Meyers would have been well ahead.

As matters turned out it was a $30,000 fight, but nobody suspected it beforehand, and the intake was something like $5400.

As for Referee Benny Whitman's decision it was perfect. There wasn't a great margin of difference between the fighters at the finish, and many thought Owens's courageous rally in the tenth entitled him to at least a draw.

But Baer's tremendous splurge of fighting in the eighth and ninth rounds wiped out Owens's margin in total number of rounds won, and even the tenth couldn't save the day for the local boy, gamely as he tried.

MORE ON HUTCHINSON

READING of the exploits of Mr. Bob Hutchinson, who was the hero of the hour when California won the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet back in 1921, my friend Don Ashbaugh of Glendale has been moved to supplement Bob's deeds of yesteryear.

For this I am deeply indebted to my fellow-citizen, who delivers the following eulogy:

"Dear Paul: Note by your outburst this morning that you are handing out posies to Bob Hutchinson—perhaps the best sprinter California ever had.

"Although you live out here where the flowers bloom brighter and the celerity of the population increases makes your taxes bigger and better you may not know that he is a fellow-citizen.

"Bob has been the boy's work director of the Glendale Y.M.C.A. since it opened three years ago. He has built his department up to around 1300 youths, the largest department of any association in the State. He's still the grinning, red-faced, good-natured bozo who ran Charley Paddock into breaking that twenty-two-year-old record in the 220 one afternoon at Berkeley. Remember how both runners finished within a yard of each other and had to climb the gates at the old field?

"Bob has proved ideal at handling boys—all the kids seem very fond of him. He promoted and is in charge of the "Y" camp at Catalina Island and handles about 800 youths through the vacation period every year.

"The itch of the cinders got into his blood a couple of weeks ago and he tried out the new track at Hoover High School—which, incidentally, is one of the sweetest athletic layouts you ever glimpsed and offers an ideal spot for one of the European teams to train for the Olympics. Borrowing a pair of spiked shoes he limbered up and then ambled a century under 11s. flat—and remember he hasn't had on a pair of track shoes for eight years. Not bad, eh?

"DON ASHBAUGH."

RACING IS THE LOSER

VAL HARESNAPE'S passing is deeply regretted.

Long a prominent member of automobile racing's officialdom he was for years closely connected with the sport in this city.

He grew up with the old Beverly Hills track, graduating from timing to more important posts, until in time he became local representative of the A.A.A., the national governing body.

Here his work was so fine, so pronounced that he was drafted and went east to become national secretary.

No keener mind than Val's was ever turned on racing's problems, and he was recognized as a real leader.

He was spirited, resourceful, a man of action, loved by his friends and respected by all.

Although still suffering from a breakdown of last year he heeded the call of his first love—racing—and went to Florida to superintend Kaye Don's speed trials.

He was brought home before the end came, but he literally died with his boots on.

I know the man, and that is as he would have it.

BRUINS BOW TO ST. MARY'S NINE

Gaels Pound Griffith for 12-to-3 Victory

Hitting the offerings of Harry Griffith almost at will, the St. Mary's College baseball team easily made it three straight over the U.C.L.A. nine yesterday afternoon on the Westwood diamond. The final score was 12 to 3, the victory landing the Galloping Gaels in third place and sinking the Bruins still farther into the cellar.

St. Mary's plays the Southern California Trojans tomorow and Saturday afternoons to conclude its invasion of Southern California, the games to be played at Bovard Field.

The Gaels got off to a big lead in the fourth frame on three hits and two bases on balls that netted four runs, and then three more tallies were added in the sixth inning, when Ackerman, giant football tackle, smote a homer into the cars parked in deep left field with two on the bags. "Wild Bill" Brubaker, Bruin star shortstop, got two hits in four times at bat, one a triple, and Noonan of St. Mary's got four bingles for four attempts.

Bruins Losers in Close Meet

The South Pasadena High School track-and-field athletes nosed out the U.C.L.A. freshman tracksters, 56 1-2 to 55 1-2, yesterday in a meet held on the formers' oval. The freshmen were not represented by their full strength, since both Green and Coates did not perform. The two represent the larger part of the Bruins' strength in the field events.

Spurr of Pasadena copped both sprints and ran a lap on the relay team for Pasadena, which netted them high-point honors for the day with 11 digits. McCue broke his own shot and discus records with tosses of 47ft. and 136ft. 3in., respectively. The summary:

100-yard dash — Won by Spurr (P.); Yalland (U.C.), second; White (P.), third. Time, 10.3s.

220-yard dash—Won by Spurr (P.); White (P.), second; Trauber (U.C.), third. Time, 23.3s.

440-yard dash — Won by Sunderland (U.C.); Chatterier (U.C.), second; Adams (U.C.), third. Time, 54 2-5s.

880-yard run—Won by Burchis (P.); Hendricks (U.C.), second; Manns (P.), third. Time, 2m. 8s.

Mile run—Freeze (U.C.), and Hughes (U.C.), tied for first. Westcock (P.), third. Time, 4m. 46s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Stronk (U.C.); Peterson (U.C.), second; Yelland (U.C.), third. Time, 27s.

220-yard high hurdles—Won by Miller (U.C.); Kingstrom (U.C.), second; Stanley (P.), third. Time, 17.2s.

Relay—Won by Pasadena. Time, 1m. 34s.

Pole vault—Won by Peterson (U.C.), and Rode (P.), tied for first. No third. Height, 10ft.

High jump—Won by Furr (P.); Hall (U.C.), tied for first; Lobish (U.C.), third. Height, 5ft. 8in.

Shot put—Won by McCue (P.); Lobish (U.C.), second; Stanton (P.), third. Distance, 47ft. New school record.

Discus throw—Won by McCue (P.); Jones (U.C.), second; Lobish (U.C.), third. Distance, 136ft. 3in. (New school record.)

PYLE JOINS EMANUELS

Cash and Carry Will Do Ballyhoo Work for Young San Francisco Heavyweight Boxer

Cash and Carry Pyle of transcontinental footrace fame was yesterday aligned with the Emanuel interests in the role of a ballyhoo man. It is Pyle's first gesture in the fight racket.

Pyle's first suggestion was that Armand ought to do something daring so he suggested that Jim Maloney's opponent couldn't do anything braver than to wrestle with a lion, himself.

Without the consent of his mother Armand went out to the Selig Zoo, where Trainer Louis Roth picked out the toughest lion in the corral.

Armand wrestled a half hour with the 350-pound Nubian beast and came out with minor scratches about the shoulders and a slight slit in one ear where the lion's tooth raked him during a headlock. Pyle directed, but refused to get into the iron cage since he may want to promote another footrace.

Emanuel boxed six rounds yesterday at the Manhattan Gymnasium. He went three each with Benny Ross and Fred Cullen. Critics said he looked much stronger and more vicious than when he fought here before. He weighed 190 pounds after the workout.

Maloney boxed four rounds at the Main-street Gymnasium, going two each with John Lester Johnson and Tom Kirby, a heavyweight stablemate.

Dan Carroll, Maloney's manager, announced yesterday that he had practically closed for his fighter to box Primo Carnera on the Italian benefit show at Ebbetts Field one week before the Jack Sharkey-Max Schmeling show.

The Olympic has Frankie Campbell and Les Kennedy definitely booked for May 13. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams was also angling yesterday to book a rematch between the hard-hitting Max Baer and Ernie Owens.

HANCOCK PARK TOURNEY STARTS MONDAY

Play in the first annual Hancock Park golf tournament will start Monday over the Westwood public golf course. More than thirty golfers have signified their intention to compete.

LUCAS WINS MONTEBELLO CHAMPIONSHIP

Barney Lucas won the first annual Montebello Park Golf Club championship by defeating Ben Gale, 5 and 4, in the thirty-six-hole finals. Caris defeated Ebert 1 up in the first flight finals, and McBride won from Gilles, 3 and 2, in the eighth flight.

Willie I. Hunter, Montebello professional, reports that A. E. Witt, president of the Potrero Country Club, holed a mashie shot for a hole-in-one on the sixteenth hole recently. He was playing with W. W. Barton and R. L. Rigg.

Niersbach on Hospital List

Any hopes that Boyd Comstock, L.A.A.C. track coach, might have been holding for relay victories in the West Coast championships at Fresno Saturday, blew sky high last night when Percy Niersbach, middle-distance ace, was taken with an illness which necessitated his removal to a local hospital. An operation may be necessary, it was said by Ben Frees, club physician.

Coffman Hurls Win for Cards

ST. LOUIS, April 23. (AP)—Dick Coffman was wild, but the Tigers could do nothing with his delivery when hits meant runs, and St. Louis defeated Detroit, 5 to 1, here today. Coffman issued ten bases on balls. Detroit's two pitchers, Herring, who started, and Samuels, his successor, were nearly as wild, giving eight walks.

The Browns worked a double-steal in the seventh, Schulte scoring on the play.

Manush with a double and a triple and Schulte with a double and two singles, led the Browns' attack. Score:

CARNERA'S MOTHER GOOSE

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Sing a song of sockers, pockets full of dough;
Four and thirteen knockouts pulled in a dizzy row;
But when the last one happened, the boys began to sob
"Isn't this a pretty dish to set before the mob?"
See was in the counting house, counting out his money,
Seven other managers were eating bread and honey;
The mammoth stood there waiting for the diving act to close
When along came a black bird and nicked him on the nose.

Booting a Million

Knowing his opponents were all push-overs, Carnera was on his way to a million until the fatal towel fell at Chevalier's feet in a San Francisco ring. That towel may be the most costly piece of tapestry ever known.

About the only chance the mammoth now has is to proclaim his own innocence and rig himself out with a new set of managers who are not towel-throwers at heart. Either that or he may have to apply for a job as understudy to the sea elephant in the circus, and it is said one has to take several weeks to learn the sea elephant's plaintive call.

Just how the bunch is going to get Carnera out of his present jam remains to be seen. But the chances are some way will be found to lift his bulk out of the sticky goo and scrape away the mud.

A Worried Manager

The managers of Carnera may be a trifle worried by now and the same applies to the managers of trailing ball clubs.

But when it comes to real managerial worry we hereby refer you to Manager Ed Kennedy, well known in the swimming circles of Columbia University.

What is Mr. Kennedy managing? Nothing but the twenty-three women golfers who sailed on the Berengaria Tuesday night and are now upon the high seas on their way to England. That is practically everything Mr. Kennedy has to manage. Outside of this slight detail he will have almost nothing to do.

I saw him just before the squad sailed and he looked as happy and as cheerful as a fellow starting for the electric chair. For any male to attempt to manage twenty-three women is something. For any one to attempt to manage twenty-three golfers is also something. We'll let you figure out just what the combination means. We promised to have a nice, new sanatorium ready for him on his arrival early in June, back home again.

Still, there is a chance for glory. With a bunch headed by Glenna Collett, Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie, Manager Kennedy ought to bring back the British cup for the first time in golf history. He is not only managing the largest team of women that ever sailed, but also the strongest where at least four and possibly five, including Edith Quier, have a chance to smash the old hoodoo when the battle fires flame at Formby, a wind-swept seaside links near Liverpool.

Surrounding the Babe

They have the Babe surrounded now, but this is April. They have had him surrounded before in April, but rarely by October. Peering from last place, poking his head out of the cellar to hear the dull roar of home runs from the bats of the Kleins, Simmonses, Jackons, Otts and others hasn't been any too much fun for the Sultan.

All in all it has been the toughest start the Babe ever got. Not so much about the home-run business but because he likes to win, possibly more than anyone in baseball. He rarely gets his home-run bat warmed up before hot weather arrives, but the big shock came in bat warmed up before hot weather arrives, but the big shock came in giving Mack's Athletics a big lead. And Mack's Athletics are no team to give a big lead.

The Yankees were picked by many to give the Athletics their hardest fight. They still have a ball club that can become dangerous at any given moment but there is no living ball club, or any other brand of ball club, that can spot the Athletics a tidy lead and hope to haul them back. They have too much stuff.

Just at the moment the Babe is more worried about the sober location of his tribe than anything else. A number of eminent home-run makers have set the pace before and some of them have held it through July and August. But he has always managed to overhaul the pack down the stretch. He will have more competition this season that he ever had before.

Al Simmons has already blown himself to a fast start. Klein and Ott, the slugging kings of the National, will be something to watch. And each season now the Babe is a year older. The game doesn't get any easier as the seasons roll along and the years pile up. But if the Yankees can emerge from the rut and get going Ruth can then take charge of his own situation with a lighter heart.

The Race to Date

The Athletics have justified the early odds laid against them but the Cubs have not. Connie Mack has already shown the best team in his league—the best team in baseball.

But the Cubs may be in for a bale of trouble. Hornsby is still a doubtful case for a full season's count. And the Cubs need Hornsby more than any mere trifle. They have some tough opposition ahead from Giants, Cardinals and Pirates and possibly one or two others. It will be hard digging for any ball club to open up a gap in the National League this year with so many strengthened teams all set to get up and make trouble for anybody.

HAWKS TO PLAY TONIGHT

Chicago Puck Squad Meets Los Angeles in Second Game of Annual East-West Series

More of the intersectional fireworks will be lighted at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tonight with the Chicago Blackhawks, National Hockey League favorites, swinging into the most heated part of their East-West disagreement with the Los Angeles club.

A near-capacity turnout witnessed the first of this week's three thrillers between the two teams, when the Hawks won, 8 to 5, by rushing the locals off their feet. Chicago fairly radiates class. The Hawk players are young, aggressive, physically large. They showed nimbleness surprising for players so bulky in crushing the home club Monday night. One thing is certain—if Los Angeles wins the team will have to be shooting far over its head, although there is some encouragement contained in the fact that the locals scored five times Monday.

To score that many points on ((Chuck)) Gardiner, the Hawk goal guardian, is some feat, as he and "Tiny" Thompson of the Boston Bruins are rated the two best goalies in the business.

The way Heidge Bostrum cracked the boards with his shots Monday, there are few to argue against the claim that he has the hardest shot in hockey. Johnny Gottselig caused a great deal of comment, too, with the stick-handling he flashed on the natives. Line-ups:

BALLARDS TO FACE SHELL OILS AGAIN

The second contest of the three-game series between the Vancouver Ballards and Shell Oilers will be staged tonight at the Palais De Glace with the Canadians favored to emerge the victors and even the count in the series.

Pulling the highly unexpected, Ernie Miller's Oilers, a team picked from the ranks of the Southern California senior league, scored a 7-to-6 victory over the Ballards Monday night. No team has yet beaten the Ballards in a local series, the Union and Gilmore Oilers having been beaten by the invaders.

Seals Bow to Oakland, 4-2

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Big Pete Daglia, Oakland's reliable right-hander, had the Seals eating out of his hand and the Oaks chalked up a 4-2 win today. Daglia held the San Francisco squad scoreless for seven innings while his team-mates belted in two tallies in the second frame to start the festivities. The Seals could only gather seven hits, well scattered. It made two straight for the Oaks and strengthened their position as league-leaders. Score:

KNIGHT SOLD TO ATLANTA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Jack Knight, right-handed pitcher of the San Francisco Seals, was sold today to the Atlanta club of the Southern Association. George A. Putnam, secretary of the Coast League outfit, said it was a cash deal.

SOLONS AGAIN THUMP ANGELS

him and appeared to be growing wilder every minute. Three walks and an infield out gave the Solons a run in the fourth. When Horne walked Wirts without throwing a sign of a strike to start the fifth, Lelivelt lifted him and sent in Carl Holling. Holling was chased in the seventh and followed to the mound by Bill Peters, Win Ballou and Glenn Gabler.

After yielding a run in the fifth inning, Freitas's southpaw slants kept the Seraphs pretty well in check until the seventh. When the first four men to face him hit safely in that round, Freitas was replaced by Gould, who finished the game efficiently enough to allow the Sacs to remain in front.

The prize bit of umpiring occurred in the sixth inning when Frank Osborne cracked one of Holling's offerings over the right-field screen. The ball bounced back through the screen on to the playing field where it was fielded by Harper and thrown in to the infield. And neither "Spec" Burke, whose nickname seems more fitting as days go on, nor Cady saw the ball go over the fence. Burke even went so far as to rule that the ball didn't go out of the playing field and was for holding Osborne at second. Cady said that he didn't see whether it went out or not and, after the rival Sacramento and Angel players had surrounded him with pro and con arguments, finally turned to the press box for a decision. And the newspaper boys, being practically honest, as well as poor, gave him the home-run sign. 'Tis to laugh, an umpire getting his decisions from the press box, but maybe Cady and Burke would also like to have the scribes come down and help them on balls and strikes.

Anyhow, after Cady had overruled Burke despite his admission of not seeing whether the ball went over the screen or not, Lelivelt had a kick coming and said his piece. And Cady, evidently thinking the world was picking on him, decided it was time to do something on his own accord so he chased Lelivelt to the clubhouse.

ANGELS SCORE

The Angels started off with a run in the first when Haney singled, took third on Schulmerich's hit and scored on Sigafoos's sacrifice fly to Hoag.

Walks to Ward, Backer and Osborne filled the sacks with Sacs in the fourth and a run came in when Hoag forced Osborne, Sigafoos to Dittmar, on a difficult roller over second. When Horne walked Wirts in the fifth, Holling replaced him. Freitas sacrificed and French doubled over Statz's head to score Wirts. Osborne's "no and yes" home run in the sixth gave the Solons a 3-to-1 lead.

Then came the wild and woolly seventh. French led off with a single, but Ward went out. Backer doubled down the left-field line. While Camilli was being thrown out by Sigafoos, French scored. When Osborne walked and Hoag singled to chase Backer over the plate Peters came in to replace Holling. A walk to Rohwer filled the bases and Wirts's infield hit followed. Both Osborne and Hoag scored on the hit, the latter racing home on Sigafoos's poor throw in a hurried effort to force Rohwer. Freitas went out to end the round.

JACOBS HITS HOMER

Ray Jacobs made it fourteen consecutive games in which he has hit safely by clicking a home run in the Angel half of the seventh. Statz, Dittmar and Hannah singled to score one run and drive Freitas to cover. Walsh ran for Hannah and Warren batted for Peters. Gould got Warren to hit into a double play, Ward to French to Camilli. Haney walked and then a wild pitch by Gould scored Dittmar and put Haney on third. But Gould's spitter sent Schulmerich down swinging on a third strike to end the inning.

Ward's error, a walk to Statz and Dittmar's third single produced the final Angel run in the eighth. Moore, batting for Ballou, hit a terrific bouncer right back at Gould and was retired for the third out with the tying runs on the bases.

Haney reached second on French's poor throw in the ninth, but Gould retired Parker, the latter batting for Schulmerich for some unknown reason, and Sigafoos to bring the contest to a close. Score:

MAT KING TO PUT UP TITLE BELT

Sonnenberg Changes Mind on Holding Out Trophy in Marshall Bout

The $10,000 diamond - studded championship wrestling belt as well as the heavyweight mat title will be at stake when "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenburg meets Everett Marshall in a finish match at Wrigley Field, May 5.

Sonnenberg, the mat king, wired Promoter Lou Daro yesterday that he had decided to put up the belt he won from Ed "Strangler" Lewis in Boston January 4, 1929, rather than have the original donors of the trophy, emblematic of the heavyweight championship, request him to do so.

The belt is nearly ten years old. It was first presented to Lewis in 1920, after he won the world's title from Joe Stecher. Stan Zbyszko defeated Lewis in 1921, scoring on a rolling fall, but Lewis came in possession of the belt again the following year when he beat the great Polish grappler two falls out of three.

In 1925 Wayne Munn won the title from Lewis, but as the champion claimed he had been deliberately fouled, despite the ruling of the referee, he refused to part with the belt. When Sonnenberg met Lewis last year the flying-tackle expert and his manager demanded the belt be in the ring the night of the match. It was there, and after Sonnenberg had beat the headlock expert it was strapped around his waist by the promoter. Lewis's name was removed from the girdle and Sonnenberg's substituted.

According to word received here from the East Sonnenberg expects to arrive in Los Angeles the last of the week. He will go into immediate training after his arrival.

ROMANS CONQUER PREP SWIM TEAM

With Bob Clark playing the hero role, Coach F. E. Crumly's L. A. High swimming team defeated Inglewood 50 to 37 yesterday. Clark approached Southern California prep records in winning both the 100-yard back stroke in 1m. 9 2-5s., and the 75-yard medley in 48.1s. The Romans face Long Beach next week. Summary:

NOTED PAIR CO-STARRED IN PICTURE

"High Society Blues" to Present Charles Farrell, Janet Gaynor in Leads

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are again co-starred in "High Society Blues," new romantic comedy which starts at Loew's State Theater today. David Butler directed.

William Collier, Sr.; Louise Fazenda, Lucien Littlefield and Hedda Hopper supply the comedy situations as members of two neighboring but unfriendly families, one with high social rating, the other with no rating at all, but with a lot of aspirations. Frank Richardson, Fox player, will appear on the stage in conjunction with the Fanchon and Marco idea, "Box O' Candy."

Bebe Daniels Stars in New R.-K.-O. Film

Bebe Daniels, the golden-voiced heroine of "Rio Rita," makes her second appearance on the audible screen in Radio's film drama, "Love Comes Along," which starts at the R.-K.-O. Theater today. Miss Daniels sings four new songs in the picture, including "Until Love Comes Along" and "Night Winds."

The star of "Rio Rita" is cast as a member of a show troupe which has been stranded in a remote port in South America. Here she meets a swaggering young sailor from a tramp schooner and a love affair results. Lloyd Hughes, Ned Sparks and Montagu Love are in the supporting cast. Rupert Julian directed and Wallace Smith adapted the story from the play "Conchita."

The vaudeville brings Al Trahan, comedian, Irene Chesleigh and Ruth Gibbs present a comedy for husbands, "When Cat Meets Cat," and Tinova and Baikoff furnish a symphony of dances.

Million Dollar Offers New Bill

Princess Pat, noted lioness, will vie with five other acts on the Million Dollar Theater's vaudeville bill starting today, in conjunction with the screen showing of "Sarah and Son," the Paramount film which stars Ruth Chatterton.

The stage program presents The Blue Blazes, Dana Warrene, Beck and Regan, Baron Emerson and Baldwin, and the Wallace Adagio Five.

GERSHWINS ARRIVING FOR FOX

Paramount Signs Promising Youth for Powell Story; Lewis Stone to Play Lead in Warner Picture; William Craft Remains With Universal

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Generally, various picture companies will come to be known for certain types of productions, just as stage producers have in the past. For example, none would expect Earl Carroll to produce an Eugene O'Neil play, Smith and Golden to produce a bedroom farce, or A. H. Woods, sponsor Shaw and Galsworthy.

BEATRICE LILLIE

And it does seem as though one can already see a definite alignment of the picture concerns.

Fox, for instance, is going in heavily for musical productions. It is now announced that that concern has signed George and Ira Gershwin for musical-comedy production and other musical features.

These two are, indeed, even now on their way west, and will arrive in Hollywood early next week. The composers aren't wasting their valuable talents on pinochle en route, either, but promised Winfield Sheehan before they left New York that they would work on the music and book for a screen revue to be filmed by Fox as soon as the composition is completed.

Beatrice Lillie will have the star role in the production, we learn, and of course there will be other celebrities in the cast.

SCOTT KOLK SIGNS WITH PARAMOUNT

The great success of Universal's "All Quiet on the Western Front" is going to be responsible, apparently, for a lot of successes among the actors, many of whom were practically unknown.

For instance, take Scott Kolk, the boy who played a part in that picture. He was signed yesterday by Paramount for the juvenile lead in William Powell's current starring vehicle, "For the Defense."

Kolk is the scion of an important eastern family, noted for its wealth and aristocratic origin. He has been in pictures only about a year, but his good looks and his undeniable talents have already won him recognition.

Craft Signs Again

Now that William H. Craft has proven himself uniformly successful in directing pictures for Universal, that concern is in no mind to let him go. In fact, not one day passed following the close of his option, before a fountain pen and new contract were handed him.

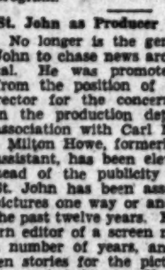
Now Craft is preparing to direct "Little Accident," from Gladys Lehman's successful play now on Broadway in New York, with Albert Dumont supervising.

For the first time a Universal picture is to be exhibited at Loew's State, when "Czar of Broadway," directed by Craft, goes in next week. It will also go into the Roxy at the same time.

James Hall is the only player so far assigned to "Little Accident," he having been signed a day or two ago to play one of the two important male roles.

Another Mounted Police Yarn

We had feared, when the talkers came in, that we'd never have the joy again of seeing another of those handsome mounted police sheiks riding about in the picturesque Canadian wilds, looking for a criminal. But now that the film companies are finding that they can make sound pictures outdoors, and now that the public is clamoring for them, nearly every concern is feverishly preparing to produce at least one Northwest Mounted Police picture.



VICTOR McLAGLEN

The newest one to be announced is that now being written for Fox by Maj.-Gen. Aylesworth Bowen Perry, who was for twenty-three years in command of the Canadian Mounted Police, in collaboration with Tom Barry, Joseph McCarthy and James Hanley.

Gen. Perry was educated at the Royal Military Academy of Canada, and was its first graduate. He has been in the government's service nearly all his life. He was in command in the Yukon in the gold rush of 1898-1900, and in recognition of his services was made a commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. He was recently put under contract to Fox.

While no star is yet assigned to the picture, there is a probability that Victor McLaglen will draw the part.

Lewis Stone With Warners

Casting for "The Office Wife," which Warner Brothers are planning to produce, with Lloyd Bacon handling the direction, is going merrily forward at a fast pace.

CONSTANCE BENNETT

Lewis Stone was borrowed yesterday from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the company to which he is under contract, to play the leading male role opposite Constance Bennett, who is being featured.

Other assignments are expected to be made within a day or two. The film is taking on the semblance of a special in the new Warner program.

St. John as Producer

No longer is the genial Ike St. John to chase news around Universal. He was promoted yesterday from the position of publicity director for the concern to a post in the production department, in association with Carl Laemmle, Jr.

Milton Howe, formerly St. John's assistant, has been elevated to the head of the publicity department. St. John has been associated with pictures one way or another during the past twelve years. He was western editor of a screen magazine for a number of years, and has written stories for the picture producers and held the Universal post during the past year and a half.

Milton Howe has been fan magazine writer and free-lance publicity agent ever since he came home from the World War.

BANCROFT CRASHES SOCIETY

'Ladies Love Brutes' Gives Him Chance to Fight and to Kid Dress Clothes

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The edge of the underworld, and the first landing of the society staircase—these are the locales for George Bancroft's latest exploit on the screen. In "Ladies Love Brutes" at the United Artists Theater, the husky hero of screen melodramas enacts one of his rough-and-ready roles, a veritable bull in a china shop, as a hard-boiled self-made building contractor, who battles for social recognition, and incidentally falls in love.

"Ladies Love Brutes" is a lot of fun for those who like to see some of the more staid conventions of luxury and elegance turned topsy-turvy. To view Bancroft fitted out by a Fifth-avenue tailor, and donning a full-dress suit in this picture is in itself a treat. And when the monogram on his cigarette case is shown to be a pick and shovel, and he explains that that is his family crest, there is plenty of amusement. Not a new gag, that, I believe, but worth a revival.

The plot of "Ladies Love Brutes" thickens because of a kidnaping. Disappointed in romance, Bancroft thinks that he can cause the woman he loves to think better of him by bringing her child back to her after spiriting the boy away. The mother had indicated that she did not think him to be the sort of man to become a stepfather to the youngster. The kidnaping seems a curious idea to thrust into the plot, and not an altogether probable one.

It serves to lead to a climax, in which the hero's racketeering enemy corners him and forces him to make a choice between the safety of his own youngster and the child of the woman. This is a much stronger situation than the idea of the abduction itself, and contributes to bettering a twist in the story that starts off pretty badly.

Bancroft justifies the character even in the weak situation, as far as it can be justified. He is excellent in the comedy scenes, and the fighting that he does in several spots is both realistic and convincing. His personality and portrayal just about carry the film.

The picture was adapted by Waldemar Young and Herman Mankiewicz from the play, "Pardon My Glove," by Zoe Akins. This other title is momentarily recalled in the situation where Bancroft attempts to shake hands with the society woman's husband from whom she is estranged, and the husband refuses the handshake. It is an incident.

"Ladies Love Brutes" is dramatically directed by Rowland V. Lee. The characters are pretty well sustained, with Mary Astor making a favorable impression by her marked reserve and repression in the role of the mother, and Frederic March, Stanley Fields, Paul Fix, Feriko Boros, and the youngsters David Durand and Freddie Burke Frederick doing good work. Claude Allister increases the fun in the picture immensely as the tailor, who fits the Bancroft clothes. While not wholly logical, "Ladies Love Brutes" proffers action and entertainment and should especially appeal to the Bancroft fans.

The Sennett Comedy, "A Zeppelin Honeymoon," "Roman Punch," a Terry-toon (cartoon comedy,) and Gaylord Carter at the organ are added features. The Sennett film is unusual in aerial thrills. The climax shows the hero who comes to the rescue, climbing down a rope ladder from a plane to the top of a Zeppelin. Vastly amusing are some of the gags, and Nick Stuart, Marjorie Beebe, Daphne Pollard and others earn success. Jealousy is the motif of this film, if that matters.

VINE STREET BOOKS NEW STAGE PLAY

Kay Hammond Heads Cast of Three-Act Comedy by Alan Moody

The Vine Street Theater will be the scene of a new three-act stage play starting May 4, when Alan B. Moody, young author-producer, presents "The Questionable Elaine," described as a zestful comedy of a young woman's desire for excitement.

The action of the play is centered in fashionable England and revolves around a charming young lady bored by her pampering society friends.

The cast, which presents several prominent theatrical names, includes Kay Hammond, Dennis D'Auburn, Grayce Hampton, Symona Monifiace, Josephine Challen, Elwyn Eaton, Lydia Knott, Byron Alden, Ernest Murray and Josa M. Melville.

Vaudevillians to Make Debut in New Medium

"They Learned About Women," starring Van and Schenck, noted vaudeville team, starts today at the Boulevard Theater. The film was adapted from an original story by A. P. Younger and contains ten new songs written especially for Gus Van and Joe Schenck by Milton Ager and Jack Yellen.

BESSIE LOVE

"They learned about Women" is the story of two big-league baseball stars who go on a vaudeville tour when the ball season closes.

Bessie Love has the leading feminine role. She plays Mary, the girl with whom the two pals are both in love. Benny Rubin, Francis X. Bushman, Jr., and J. C. Nugent also play important parts.

Gala Premiere Greets "Mammy"

Al Jolson and Lois Moran

In a scene from the Vitaphone film production starting tonight at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater. An old-time minstrel parade headed by Jolson will precede the showing of the picture.

OPERETTA OPENS TONIGHT

A tailor-made cast is the way Lillian Albertson describes the talent she has assembled for Romberg's romantic operetta, "The Student Prince," to be presented at the Majestic Theater starting tonight. This musical is the third successive Romberg piece Miss Albertson has produced at the Majestic.

Allan Prior will play the role of Prince Karl. Elvira Tanzi has been chosen for the prima donna role, and a capable supporting cast includes Richard Powell, Blanche La Claire, Sylvia de Frankie, Georgie Harris and others.

The chorus ensembles have been given special attention by Miss Albertson, who states that they are composed of the best material available. Prior has played his role in London and New York. Leo Flanders will conduct the augmented orchestra.

PARADE OF STARS DUE HERE TODAY

Paramount Theater Will Screen Melange of Film Entertainment

"Paramount On Parade" starts at the Paramount Theater today. This super-production is said to be an intimate revel of outstanding stage and screen stars and to present a new form of talking motion-picture entertainment. All the outstanding Paramount directors contributed to this production. However, Elsie Janis supervised the entire picture and David Bennett directed the dance ensembles.

"Paramount On Parade" presents fifteen separate starring units, each one in itself a complete short feature production. More than fifty personages are revealed in important roles.

Fast-Moving Revue Makes Local Debut

The descriptive subtitle, "A Fast-Stepping Musical Melange," serves as the most comprehensive summary for "Up and at 'Em," an all-colored stage revue which commenced operations last night at the Figueroa Playhouse. Thanks chiefly to the Four Covans and "a bevy of sun-kissed girli-gigs and boys," the show, when it does move, attains a momentum so infectious that half the members of the audience discover their own feet misbehaving before a number is half over.

It is fortunate that "Up and At 'Em" possesses the merit of speed. It has little else. The comedy material is puerile; and at least one sketch which gives expectation of leading to amusing results in a second scene, dies of its own accord at the end of the first. Due to the changes made in the order of presentation since publication of the program, it is extremely difficult for the reviewer to place proper credits for those who deserve them. Suffice it to say, then, that Lasses Brown, "Stompy," Claude Collins, Albertina Pickens, Flo Washington, Tessie Maize and the "Down Home Quartet" are the principal performers, with Walter Richardson taking whatever honors there are as leading man.

A "Russian Ensemble" is the finale of the first part, and other listed events are the "Wiggly Wag," "Mammy's Angel Child," "Blue," "In Harmony" and various specialties. Besides the Covans, the incomparable Bill Robinson contributed a tap exhibition last evening.

Eastern Player Traveling Here for Stage Role

Katherine Wilson, brilliant young star of the New York stage, has been secured to portray the leading feminine role in "Decency," the Arthur Gregor play, which is scheduled for premiere at the Mayan Theater on May 19, it was announced today. Negotiations were completed by wire last night and the actress leaves for the Coast today, arriving ready to start rehearsal Monday.

ARTHUR GREGOR

Gregor, local playwright and film director, stated that the actress probably would also appear in a motion-picture version of the play, although definite arrangements for its filming have not as yet been completed. Perry Ivins of the New York Theater Guild, will direct the stage production.

George Olsen Throws Doors of Club Open

Hollywood and New York celebrities, including Eddie Cantor, Florenz Ziegfeld, Samuel Goldwyn, Wesley Ruggles, Ivy Sawyer, Joseph Santley, Marilyn Miller, Bert Wheeler and a host of others, lent a brilliant atmosphere to the premiere last night of George Olsen's Revue Club in Culver City, where Olsen and his well-known music are featured.

The club presents an exotic appearance with its modernistic art motif of brilliant tones of silver, cerise and raven, accented with silver tapestries and Parisian art niches.

The chorus of girls is nicely trained and scored heavily at last night's show. The opening number was especially notable. George Murphy and Juliette Johnson verified advance reports of their work with graceful and smooth dances. Jack Shutta provided eccentric comedy and William O'Neill sang with spirit and good voice. Jack Lester presented his noted triple rhythm dance.

Tonight's performance will be in honor of Al Jolson, who, together with other stars and directors, will visit the supper club after the "Mammy" premiere.

PLEASING CONCERTS OFFERED

Adolf Tandler Conducts Woman's Symphony; Homer Simmons Heard

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Woman's Symphony Orchestra led by Adolf Tandler and a recital of the compositions of Homer Simmons by the composer, Ruth Bowes and Raymond McFeeters, occupied the attention of music followers last evening. The orchestra attracted a very large audience to the Philharmonic Auditorium, and Mr. Simmons also had the largest audience gathered for any of his winter series.

Homer Simmons is no longer to be spoken of as promising. He has arrived. When a young composer-pianist can present an entire program of his own works and have them as musicianly and as interesting as Mr. Simmons's numbers were last night, he is entitled to high rating.

Owing to a late start and another concert, I was only able to hear the variations on an original theme with its eleven descriptive movements and the "Liturgy."

The theme was a simple, dignified musical statement and from it Mr. Simmons obtained extraordinary and poetic inspiration. At all times modern in its harmonies, some times the work was vague with a Debussy's regard for exquisite effects in overtones, and at other times it was as definite as jazz must of necessity be. The jazz, by the way, was good jazz, perfectly frank American syncopation that laughed at the European presumptions of Ravel and all the rest. Raymond McFeeters was effective in ensemble at the second piano.

"Liturgy," poems and music by Homer Simmons, was read by Ruth Bowes in a well modulated voice which conveyed the drama above the illustrative music of the composer. Other works were: Night Clouds, Hacienda, Stairways and Phastasmania.

Adolph Tandler was given a warm welcome upon his return to the conductor's stand. The principal offering of the orchestra—Mendelssohn's "Italian Symphony"—was carefully done and showed earnest preparation. A delightful and whimsical suite "For My Children," by Mr. Tandler, drew hearty applause. It was especially characteristic in the Negro Doll movement and the story of Pierrot and Pierrette was gracefully handled.

The soloist of the evening was Eugene List, pianist, aged 10. Playing the "Capriccio Brillante," by Mendelssohn, Master List again earned honors for an excellent performance with orchestra. The boy is a born pianist. He is a joy to hear because he feels his music and sincerely loves playing in public. From the spontaneity he displays it is easy to see that his playing is a pleasure rather than a burden to him.

The youngster's runs are clear and his rhythms well defined. He has true phrasing sense and his talent is being intelligently developed. A "Gavotte," written by his teacher, Julius Seyler, and several Chopin numbers concluded his part of the program and the orchestra finished one of its most successful concerts with the "Procession of the Sardar," by Ippolitoff.

CHILD STAR WILL APPEAR AT UPTOWN

STORY AND SONGS BY IRVING BERLIN
The Al Jolson who first electrified the amusement world on the talking, singing screen, now tops all previous performances in the kind of a role that the world has been waiting for. Here he is as the singing, jesting Mr. Bones of the minstrel troupe. The King of Entertainers in his greatest picture. "You ain't seen nothin' so funny" till you see and hear Jolson in this rollicking laugh hit.

JUVENILE-RULE ROSTER READY

Committee for Boys' Week Gives List of "Officials"

High School Lads to Handle Reins of Government

Federal, State and Local Posts to be Occupied

In the final stages of its plans for the celebration of Boys' Week, which starts next Sunday with Boys' Day in the churches, the Boys' Week committee yesterday announced partial completion of the list of boys who will occupy Federal, State, county and city offices on Boys' Day in citizenship, which will be observed next Tuesday.

For one day the reins of government will pass into the hands of the youths of senior public and private high schools.

The police department is preparing an especially heavy day for the boy officials, including a city-wide visit to penal institutions, a luncheon at which Chief Steckel and Assistant Chief Finlinson will speak, and practice at the pistol range.

Chief Scott of the fire department is to decorate his "successor" with an embossed badge and present him with a diploma of office.

While the complete list of juvenile public officers will not be ready until today, partial list was given out yesterday as follows:

President of Board of Supervisors, Dick Miles; Undersheriff, Wilfred Bastues; County Tax Collector, Grover Taylor; Superintendent of County Charities, Max Levine; County Coroner, Norman Sprague; County Jailer, Lee Seibert; County Purchasing Agent, Hugh Owen; City Jailer, Dick Maddox.

President of Playground Commission, Nelson Power; Public Defender, John Caswell; County Clerk, Duncan McLennan; State Highway Engineer, Paul Chew; Corporation Commissioner, Earl C. Voorhies; Attorney-General, Dick Wells.

State Real Estate Commissioner, Ralph Collier; manager Social Service, Kenneth Johnson; State Civil Service, Joe Everett; Chief Trial Deputy District Attorney, Robert Biggs; State Health Officer, Norman Wood; Fish and Game Commissioner, Libera Cutter; Department of Architecture, Melville Heiman.

Judges of the superior courts—Darrell Finnigan, Benjamin Culler, John Quinn, Joe Maguire, Willard Fickell, Bill Christensen, Antonio Ochoiena, Robert Bromley, Frank Swendig, Crawford Case, Ernest Tolpin, Clarence Rogers, Paul Schweinfurth, Oran Lieb, George Stevens, Walter Clark, Harry Kaplan, Wendell Hellman, Lloyd Peck, Phil Garnier, Bernard Johnson, Harry Kaplan, Joe Kaplan.

Judges of the municipal courts—Jack Russell, Dick Barker, Ben Newmeyer, Chas. Lennis L. Pike, Raymond Sephes, Don Dunn, Ray Lear, Clifford Franklin, Jack Shelley, Wilbur Thomas, Kenneth Morgan, Bob Reed, Al Goodman.

Police Department—Chief, Karl Baer; Assistant Chief, Quentin Allen; Deputy Chief, Jack Morrison; Chief Detective, Tom Richardson; Crime Prevention, Max Shubert; Vice Division, Fred C. Dodge; Transportation, Kenneth Thejault; Traffic Division, Fred Schmidt; Property Division, Fred Kaufman.

Water and Power Department—President Water and Power Board, Frank Springer. Department heads: Willard Arnott, Jack Cortelyou, Dave Gershon, Tom Bonnar, Douglas Williams, Domenico Dona, Vernon Schlosser, Charles Ducommun, Graham Edmondson, Charles Hughes, Bernard Le Williams, Lloyd Hess, Joe Mearin, Chris Kitching, Jack Berman, Morrison Wood, William Mullen, Lawrence Newmarat, Hal Von Breton, Victor Potik, George Hahn.

Fire Department—Chief, Fred Rodriguez; President Fire Commission, Bill Roberts; Assistant Chief, Jeff O'Herin; Chief Marsh, Ted Greenlaw, Scott M. Hackley, Jack Ingram, Fenton Earnshaw, Gordon Ward, Jay Danniger, Marvin Kahn, Sol Pollock, J. Courtemanche.

CRASH CASE SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Pico Banker Charged With Running Down Girl Will be Arraigned at 2 p.m.

Accused of having run down and seriously injured Veria Cutler, 17 years of age, 342 South Fourth street, Montebello, while she was riding a motorcycle on Whittier Boulevard Tuesday night, J. H. Walles, 40, Pico banker, is scheduled to be arraigned in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today on charges of driving while drunk and failing to stop after an accident. Appearing in court yesterday, Walles was ordered held under bail of $1000.

C. O. Sorenson, 49, Whittier real estate operator, who deputy sheriffs assert was riding in the car with Walles, paid a fine of $10 in the Belvedere Justice Court yesterday for violation of the county ordinance against drunkenness.

Miss Cutler is in the Murphy Memorial Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the leg and loss of blood.

Investigating officers reported that Walles was overtaken in his automobile and held pending their arrival by J. C. Wills, 1218 Lyman Place, of the city fire department, who declared he witnessed the accident and pursued Walles's car at a speed of more than fifty miles an hour. Miss Cutler, the officers stated, was riding a borrowed motorcycle in company with Miss Frances Morgan, 19, of 428 West Manchester avenue, on another motorcycle.

COUNTERFEITER CONVICTED

A jury in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court yesterday found John W. Barnes guilty of counterfeiting silver dollars. Llwellyn Hatfield who recently pleaded guilty to a similar charge testified against him. Both men are to be sentenced Monday.

STORE MANAGER ROBBED

Two bandits with revolvers yesterday held up W. C. Atchinson, manager, in a Safeway store at 1831 Hyperion avenue, robbing him of $90. They escaped in a car.

Offering of Tribue
Councilman Henning (right) presenting engrossed resolution to Harbor Engineer George Nicholson praising him for part in winning War Department approval of breakwater plans.

PORT ENGINEER COMMENDED

Nicholson Presented Laudatory Resolution for Work in Washington on Harbor Project

Optimistic over the favorable outlook for passage at this session of Congress of the appropriation of $8,346,000 for Los Angeles Harbor breakwater extension and dredging projects, Harbor Engineer George Nicholson returned from Washington, D. C., yesterday and reported that California Senators and Congressmen are making every effort to push the matter to a successful conclusion.

Attending the regular session of the Harbor Commission yesterday, Nicholson was presented on behalf of Los Angeles with a handsomely engrossed resolution of commendation recently passed by the City Council. The presentation was made by Councilman A. E. Henning, chairman of the Harbor Committee, who lauded Nicholson's work in obtaining approval of the chief of engineers for the rivers and harbors, and the House Committee, of the breakwater extension and dredging plans.

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution, in full, follows:

Whereas, the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, War Department, unanimously recommended the construction of the greater breakwater and several other needed improvements involving the expenditure of $8,346,000 for the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbor area, and,

Whereas, in request for the above improvements, and allocation for their construction had been incorporated in the rivers and harbors bill now before Congress, and,

Whereas, Mr. George Nicholson, harbor engineer for Los Angeles, played a very important part in bringing about the above desired achievements.

Now therefore, be it resolved that the City Council of the city of Los Angeles extend to Mr. George Nicholson sincere thanks and appreciation for his important part in the consummation of these improvements and that a copy of this resolution be presented to Mr. George Nicholson.

CREDIT DISCLAIMED

The engrossed resolution is signed by President Sanborn of the City Council, Chairman A. E. Henning of the Council's Harbor Committee, and City Clerk Robert Domingues.

In response to Henning's commendation, which was applauded by the harbor board, Nicholson modestly disclaimed credit, declaring it should go to others. All he did, he said, was to attend to his duties.

The harbor board also passed separate resolutions commending Senators Shortridge and Johnson, Congressmen Carter, Evans and Crail of California and Congressman Dempsey of New York, chariman of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, who were named by Nicholson as very helpful in bringing the need for the appropriation to the attention of Congress.

Nicholson reported that data furnished on the phenomenal growth of Los Angeles Harbor commerce had much to do with arousing the interest of the Washington officials in the breakwater extension plan.

Sea Mystery Opens Gap in Breakwater

A small gap was created yesterday in the Long Beach breakwater, when rocks were dislocated by the unprecedentedly strong surge, which has been evident at Los Angeles-Long Beach harbors for more than two days.

At Fish Harbor four boats under construction at Al Larson's yards were jostled and scraped, while vessels at various points in Los Angeles Harbor snapped their lines at their docks. Among them were the Tongking, which abandoned Berth 53 and went to anchor; the Columbia, Hamburg Maru, San Vicente, Koyo Maru and even in Wilmington waters the vessels strained at their lines.

The N.Y.K. liner Chichibu Maru, which pulled up mooring bits the day before, singularly lay without visible movement at Berth 229, while adjacent ships were shoved forward and astern by the wash.

Unconfirmed reports of an earthquake off Central America suggested a possible cause for the phenomenon.

'Late' Husband Loses His Wife

It is mental cruelty for a husband to keep a wife waiting dinner for him day after day, according to Superior Judge Gould, who yesterday granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Dorothy McCue, wife of Francis McCue, New York business man. "For two years he failed to come home to dinner on time," the wife asserted. "I was forever waiting for him to arrive. Finally he told me he liked to stay away from home and that if I did not like it I could return to my parents in California, which I did."

SALVATION ARMY HEAD WILL SPEAK

Commissioner Gifford to Address Advisory Board Gathering Here Today

Commissioner Adam Gifford, head of the Salvation Army in the eleven western States and Hawaii, will be the principal speaker at the seventh annual congress of advisory boards of that organization meeting in the Biltmore today. The commissioner will speak at the noon luncheon, when he will outline the work for the Los Angeles and South Coast division before a select group of business and professional men who will be guests of the Los Angeles board. Charles S. Hutson and William May Garland, together with Brig. James C. Bell, commanding officer of the division, will act as hosts.

COMMISSIONER ADAM GIFFORD

A program has been outlined, which will feature a number of prominent speakers and entertainers. Mrs. George Herbert Clarke, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Joseph Scott and Burr McIntosh will be among those of prominence in religious and business circles to have a part on the program. Brig. Bell will speak before the congress, showing the needs and outlook for 1930. Ranson Dale Gifford, tenor, will provide musical entertainment at the luncheon.

Reports will be given of the men's and women's social welfare work by Lieut.-Col. William H. Gooding and Adjt. Nettie Brown. Other reports covering the work of various departments will be discussed by leaders of the different phases of the work.

During the afternoon women friends of the Salvation Army will hold open house at the women's home and Maternity Hospital, 2670 North Griffin. Staff Captain Maude Lee will be assisted in her work as hostess by eighty-three society women of Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Hollywood and Pasadena.

CHUN CHAN MAN OF TWO COUNTRIES

Nationalist "Envoy" from China Declared Native in One Passport

Passports indicating him to be a citizen both of the United States and of Nationalist China now rise to check the entry here of Dr. Chun Young Chan, who arrived on a Japanese liner this week representing himself as the newly appointed Nationalist Consul to Los Angeles.

He remains under detention at the immigration station at San Pedro, with prospects that his case will require many days to clear up.

In the meantime customs officials have taken his thirty-two pieces of baggage to a Los Angeles warehouse to await inspection when Chan may be released. Nothing irregular has been revealed, but the trunks have not been examined, according to a customs agent.

No intercession on Dr. Chan's behalf has been made by any Chinese government agency, according to immigration and customs officials.

CHUN YOUNG CHAN BORN IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

HONOLULU, April 23. (AP)—A. E. Burnett, in charge of the immigration station here, replying to a radiogram from San Pedro immigration authorities, today said that official records here show that Chun Young Chan, appointed honorary Chinese Consul at Los Angeles, was born in Honolulu.

MILITARY GROUP CONCLAVE ENDS

Reserve Officers Keep Cole of Detroit as Leader

New Orleans Selected as Next Convention City

Von KleinSmid Speaks on Preparedness Need

Col. Walter C. Cole of Detroit was re-elected president of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States at the closing session of the annual convention of that organization, conducted yesterday at the Biltmore. Other officers elected include Lieut.-Col. L. Kemper Williams of New Orleans, senior vice-president; Maj. H. K. Bentley of Washington, treasurer; Col. James Barnes, Princeton, N. J., historian; Maj. William Carter, Brooklyn, N. Y., chaplain; Col. Charles H. Rutherford, Phoenix, judge advocate; Lieut.-Col. E. J. Roberson, Washington, secretary.

National vice-presidents elected are: First Corps Area, Lieut.-Col. F. E. Lowe, Portland, Me.; Second Area, Col. Carroll Badeau, New Jersey; Third Area, Col. H. H. Smith, Philadelphia; Fourth Area, Lieut.-Col. E. W. Smith, Clarksdale, Miss.; Fifth Area, Col. P. V. McNutt, Bloomington, Ind.; Sixth Area, Lieut.-Col. J. E. Van Natta, Chicago; Seventh Area, Lieut.-Col. O. E. Engle, Omaha, Neb.; Eighth Area, Col. William B. Tuttle, San Antonio, Tex.; Ninth Area, Maj. W. W. Breite, San Francisco.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

The afternoon session, at which it was voted to conduct the next national convention at New Orleans, was featured by the adoption of resolutions favoring the "utilization of World War veterans in air service, air mail and as commercial pilots, with adequate compensation provided." Other resolutions adopted favor the passage of the Reed-Jones bill, "establishing a reserve division within the War Department" and "the extension of the provisions of the Tyson-Fitzgerald bill to include all reserve officers disabled during a tour of active duty."

Another feature of the afternoon was a more or less good-natured battle in which Lieut. Charles E. Kamp of Houston, Tex., and Maj. Charles K. Badger of California were pitted against the majority of delegates. In a minority report, Lieut. Kamp voiced objections to the National Guard bill which provides for possible transfer of National Guard officers to the organized reserves. Some of the delegates objected to the length of Kamp's address, whereupon Maj. Badger insisted that "the young man from Texas be heard" and expressed himself as "ashamed of you older men for the treatment accorded the patriotic Texan." Kamp was allowed to finish his speech, but the delegates tabled his move to have the convention oppose the National Guard bill.

VON KLEINSMID SPEAKS

The feature of the morning session was an address by Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, who praised the ideals of the various organizations functioning for the cause of peace but who deplored the activities of extremists who fail to recognize the importance of an adequate national defense force.

"The London Conference proved that all nations are not thinking in terms of peace, and it behooves America to be prepared for any emergency that might arise," said Dr. Von KleinSmid.

Distinguished guests at the luncheon included Mayor Porter, Col. Perry W. Weidner, Bishop Stevens and Cols. J. R. R. Hannay and P. S. Golderman.

Today the delegates will be taken on sightseeing trips in and near Los Angeles and at 2:30 p.m. will go to Housh Field to review the R.O.T.C. units of Hollywood, Los Angeles and Manual Arts high schools.

Masonic Club Plans Campaign for Membership

Resolutions were adopted yesterday by directors of the Los Angeles Masonic Club to conduct a membership campaign beginning May 5 and ending May 9 in which time it is hoped to increase the membership by more than 6000. It was announced the purpose of the effort is to place at the disposal of local and visiting Masons club facilities which will have a tendency to promote a better fraternal fellowship.

Lawrence C. Kelley, president of the Masonic Masters' and Wardens' Association of Los Angeles, will head the campaign organized in five groups. Justice Thompson will command Division No. 1; Walter Berger, No. 2; E. M. Smuckler, No. 3; Harry G. Bobey, No. 4, and Supervisor Shaw, No. 5.

Cars in Liquor Cases Attached

Complaints against thirty-one automobiles, operators of which were arrested for violation of the Wright Act, were filed by City Prosecutor Nix in Superior Court yesterday.

This is the first step in confiscating cars for their use in the transportation of liquor. In a few days persons with third party claims against the cars will be required to appear in Superior Judge Gates's court, and make a showing of their inter
